SAN RAFAEL'S PATROL FLEET—ALL IN ONE PLACE

The San Rafael Police Department has nine marked patrol cars plus a radar car. All but one patrol car were in the city hall parking lot. The one missing car was not on patrol; it was in the city corporation yard garage for repairs. Lack of patrol was alleged at a candidates' forum last night by Nick Giampoli, a candidate for police chief, who said he had seen seven of the cars all parked at once by the city hall. Lagunitas To Break School Bond Pledge

Trustees Told Belatedly Of State Building Rule

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

Lagunitas School District voters—who approved a $540,000 bond and state loan building program last February—are not going to get exactly what they voted for.

The announced purpose of the $250,000 bond issue and application for a $290,000 state loan was to replace seven portable classrooms with permanent construction.

Last night the school board was told by Supt. Marshall J. McCuniff that the state formula for new school construction would allow only 6,000 square feet of new building, making it necessary to retain one or perhaps two of the portable classrooms.

The news came as a shock to board members and to the committee that had worked for passage of the bond and loan election.

Mrs. Stanley R. Frederick, chairman of the bond committee, told the Independent-Journal today: "There seem to be a great deal of things about this that are strange. The information given (the committee) can't have been sufficient. Our statement to the public was predicated upon eliminating the seven portable classrooms."

The committee, the school board and the superintendent repeatedly announced that the choice for the voters was between two simple alternatives:

1. To continue to rent the seven portables on a year-to-year basis at a cost of $12,000 a year, or 21.2 cents in the tax rate, or,

2. To finance replacement with permanent classrooms on a long-term basis through the bond issue at a cost of 4.6 cents on the tax rate.

Leslie G. Stone, school board chairman, said, "The first I heard about it (the change) was last night, This is just as much a surprise to the school board as to the people, a great disappointment."

He said "Certain requirements weren't brought to light" and that — until McCuniff last night revealed the limitations set by the State Bureau of School Planning — everyone had believed

Top Officials Of State-Chile Program Fired

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan announced today the firing of the two top officials of the California-Chili Program, which funnels American aid to the South American nation.

An administration spokesman also said the U.S. State Department is seeking an audit of the program, financed by federal foreign aid funds.

Fired were Robert B. Keating, the director, and Patrick DeYoung, the assistant director.

Lyn Nofziger, Reagan's press secretary, said there was no connection btween the firings and the State Department's contemplated audit.

"We're not accusing anyone of dishonesty or disloyalty," Nofziger told newsmen.

He said the administration simply felt "a change should be made" and "we should have our own people."

But he said the State Department had expressed the feeling to Philip M. Battaglia, Reagan's executive secretary, that there was "some dissatisfaction with the way the program was running."

LBJ Asks Mail Rate Hikes, GI, Civil Service Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked congress today for postal rate increases totaling $800 million and for a three-step pay increase of some $2.5 billion for all federal employees and members of the armed forces.

In a special message, Johnson recommended that the cost of mailing letters be increased by 1 cent. The charge for first-class mail would go to 6 cents and an air mail stamp would cost 9 cents.

The President also called for increases in all other postal rates.

Johnson proposed that the government's 2.5 million civilian employees, and members of the armed forces, be given an average pay increase of 4.5 per cent effective Oct. 1.

In addition, he called for further increases on Oct. 1, 1968, and Oct. 1, 1969, for civilian workers.

Johnson said that would make federal salaries comparable with those in private industry and, "with a similar increase for the armed forces, the cost would be more than $2.5 billion per year."

The chief executive talked about the desirability of putting federal salaries on a par with private pay as soon as possible.

He added, however: "In view of today's fiscal and economic conditions, my advisers inform me that a pay raies of this magnitude would not be prudent."

For that reason, he proposed the three-stage increases that would not take full effect until Oct. 1, 1969.

"While inflationary pressures in the economy have lessened in recent months, they have not disappeared," Johnson said. "They could easily recur. We must therefore continue to seek restraint in private wage settlements and to exercise restraint in the operations of government."

Johnson said higher postal rates are needed because the Post Office Department deficit will be about $1.2 billion plus the cost of the pay increase he recommended.

He asked Congress to make a 1-cent increase in letter mail rates effective July 1. He also called for an average increase of 21 per cent for special rate fourth class mail — mainly books and records — on the same date.

The President called for a gradual three-year average increase of 22 per cent for second-class mail — newspapers and magazines — starting next Jan. 1.

As for third-class charges, the chief executive proposed an average increase of 28 per cent. The increase for single pieces of mail would go into effect July 1. On bulk mailings it would be delayed until Jan. 1.

Johnson said he was proposing this delay in recognition of the cost borne by mailers who had to start zip coding and presorting their bulk mailings as of last Jan. 1.

He pictured the proposed rate increases as a necessary forerunner to a modernized postal service.

Fire Kills 9 In University Student Hall

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Nine persons — eight students and a faculty adviser — died today in a smoky fire that swept a Cornell University residence hall in the predawn hours.

Eleven other persons, eight of them girl students, suffered from smoke inhalation but none was considered in serious condition.

Smaller Park At Seashore, Behr Reports

The director of the National Park Service will recommend against purchase of the entire 53,000 acres proposed for the Point Reyes National Seashore, Marin County Supervisor Peter H. Behr reported yesterday.

"This has gotten beyond the rumor stage," Behr told fellow supervisors. He said Park Director George B. Hartzog will not recommend the full purchase because he evidently does not believe there has been enough local cooperation.

"He's just trying to get even because we wouldn't back him on commercial zoning," Supervisor Ernest N. Ketenhofen declared, referring to a park service proposal of last August that would have allowed some zoning for housing development within the park boundaries.

Behr asked that board chairman Thomas T. Storer write Hartzog asking what evidence he had found of lack in local cooperation and what the board of supervisors might do to

Mill Valley School Executive Named

Dr. James A. Collins, assistant superintendent of Lafayette School District in Contra Costa County, was hired yesterday as superintendent of Mill Valley School District.

Collins, 43, was given a four-year contract at $18,500 for the first year, with annual renegotiation of his salary. He will assume his new post July 1, but said he will be in the district "from time to time on a consulting basis" before that date.

Collins will replace G. R. McConnell, superintendent for nine years. McConnell submitted his resignation in October, effective June 30, to devote full time to his doctoral dissertation. His salary was $19,002.

IN MEDICAL CORPS

A native of La Grange, Ill., Dr. Collins studied at University of Illinois, but left to serve in the Army Medical Corps in Europe in World War II. He spent one semester at the Biarritz-American University in France.

After the war, he worked as an expediter in the aircraft industry before returning to school. He received his B.A. from Pomona College, and a doctor of philosophy in educational administration from Claremont Graduate School.

From 1955 to 1963, Dr. Collins served as principal and in other administrative posts in the Covina School District, Los Angeles County. He joined Lafayette district in 1963 as assistant superintendent for educational services.

He served on the Contra Costa County Human Relations Study Committee, Lafayette Youth Association, and the Governor's Conference on Youth in 1965.

UNANIMOUS SUPPORT

Hiring of Dr. Collins was announced by Dr. William L. Clark, chairman of the board of trustees, at a special meeting in the school district office. Trustees Joseph E. Bodovitz and William P. Everts Jr. were absent, but joined in unanimous support of the hiring, Dr. Clark said.

Dr. Collins, his wife, Mary, and son Christopher John, 5, will move here this summer. Their daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Peterson, resides in Oxford, England.

72 SCREENED

Seventy-two applicants for the post were screened by four Bay Area educators: Aubrey Haan, dean of the school of education, San Francisco State College; George McCabe, dean of the school of education, Sonoma State College; Richard Foster, superintendent of San Ramon Unified School District in Contra Costa County, and Mrs. Frank Webber, first grade teacher at Strawberry Point School and representative of Mill Valley School District Teachers' Association. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, coordinated the screening.

The committee interviewed 20 applicants and recommended four to trustees, who interviewed these finalists.

HEALTH AUTHORITIES PERTURBED

Problem Of Teen Pregnancies

By PAT PERRY

A 15-year-old girl is not , for many reasons, a good bet for motherhood. She is immature, physically and mentally, she does not comprehend the responsibilities of parenthood, and usually she does not have a husband.

Yet here in Marin County, by the most conservative estimates, currently there are at least 10 high school girls of that age who are pregnant.

Health authorities estimate many more local high school girls were, are or will be pregnant before this year is out.

Statistically perhaps it's not so surprising. In 1964-65 there were 5,991 pregnant high school girls in California, and this includes only those known to county and district superintendents of schools.

Of 145 prenatal patients seen by Marin County Public Health nurses last year, 41 per cent weren't married, and almost half were between 15 and 19. Forty local births were to unwed girls from 14 to 18.

According to John M. Parker, in charge of health education for the county department of public health, since the opening of this school year eight 15-year-old girls in one Marin high school have become pregnant.

Admittedly incomplete figures indicate there are now four pregnant high school students in the Novato school district, 11 in the Tamalpais district, and two in the San Rafael district. Some are married.

If the statistics aren't surprising, their root causes are, for in a county inhabited by literate, affluent, sophisticated adults, our literate, affluent, sophisticated teen-agers are, in the words of Dr. Marilyn Hicks, assistant health officer for the country's maternal and child health program, "really quite naive about sex."

Public health authorities are greatly disturbed about the phenomenal increase in veneral disease among the young, and equally perturbed over the pregnancy rate. "The incidence of pregnancy in our adolescent population is already out of control," said Dr. John G. Wierdsma, of Novato, Planned Parenthood clinical director.

They are, both publicly and privately, reappraising the sex education our school children receive and wondering whether birth control information deserves a place in the high school family life courses.

No one wishes to condone the promiscuity which undoubtedly exists.

No one envisages birth-control pill vending machines in the girls' rest rooms.

However, no one — students, teachers or parents — is satisfied with the existing courses which dole out "the facts of life" while ignoring the very real facts of life: the dangers of veneral disease and unwanted pregnancy, the responsibility of parenthood, and how, if sexual relations are engaged in, to prevent pregnancy.

"The practical way is to provide birth control services to people who need them, regardless of age," contended Dr. Hicks. Of the young girls she examines — many each week — 90 per cent are not using any method of birth control. Gonorrhea and syphillis are rife — an estimated 800 cases among minors in Marin last year.

"This is my argument to people who say the pill promotes promiscuity," said Dr. Hicks. "I say the promiscuity is present and 90 per cent of the kids aren't using any method of control to prevent getting pregnant. I ask them and they say no one's told them about it — least of all their mothers."

What's needed isn't birth control pills with the school lunches, it's education to bring out the responsibility of parenthood, said Mary Hooper, county director of nursing.

Chicago Retains Demo Mayor

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago voters handed their three-term Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley another four-year lease on his City Hall suite in yesterday's election, but whittled his City Council majority.

Daley

Daley, 64, received 789,163 votes to 272,955 for Republican John L. Waner in a turnout of about 65 per cent of the city's 1,772,610 voters.

Daley received 72.84 per cent of the votes, but there was a slight increase in the opposition minority of the 50-man City Council.

Negro representation on the council increased, from 7 to 10, or 20 per cent. This racial division of the chamber does not match the burgeoning Negro population of the city which is estimated to number nearly 1,100,000 or about one-third of the city's residents.

White Laws Defied

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)— Negro leader Stokely Carmichael yesterday urged Negroes to ignore laws "legislated by white people." In a speech to students at Miles College, the leader of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee said "Negroes aren't bound to obey laws legislated by white people."

LBJ Appoints

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vincente T. Ximenes, 48, deputy director of the U.S. aid mission in Panama, has been named member of the Federal Equal Employment Opportunities Commission. President Johnson named Ximenes, former teacher of economics at the University of New Mexico, to the commission yesterday.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The last of the Flying Wallendas has rejected the high wire for a career of high flying. "I'm going to be a parachute jumper in the airborne division," Steve Wallenda, 17, said yesterday. "That will be my life's work from now on.

"My father didn't want me to be hurt on wires like so many in our family. I respect his wishes."

Bible Stories For Russians

MOSCOW (UPI)—For the first time since the Communist revolution, Russian children will be able to read stories which many American children know by heart —stories from the Bible.

An illustrated book titled "The Tower of Babel" has been edited by Kornei Chukovsky and submitted for publication it was announced today. Chukovsky, 85, is Russia's most famous children's poet. The book is written in poetry.

Among the Biblical tales to be contained in the book are the Old Testament stories of the flood and Noah's Ark, the Tower of Babel, David and Goliath and Balaam's ass.

Bids Sought For Marin Bridge Work

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state Division of Highways has called for bids for cleaning and painting two bridges — one crossing Lagunitas Creek on Shoreline Highway, near Point Reyes Station, and the other on Route 17 at the San Quentin undercrossing in San Rafael.

Bids will be opened May 10 with $25,000 available.

Neutral Cambodia Haven For Cong

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The problem of Viet Cong sanctuary in neutral Cambodia is increasing as bigger battles are fought in border areas of South Vietnam, Pentagon officials said today.

The problem grows worse as U.S. military fortunes in Vietnam improve, they said. The more successful Allied forces are, the more the Communists flee into Cambodia to rest, bind up their wounds and gather strength before returning to battle.

NO ESTIMATES

Defense Department officials would give no estimates of how many North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops have been using Cambodian territory as sanctuary. But they denied published report sfrom the field that more than one North Vietnamese division is based there.

The Pentagon lists no Communist units as "based" in Cambodia. Officials described the border situation as fluid, a constant coming and going. A regiment may be there one day and gone the next.

NOWHERE ELSE

But larger battles do mean larger sanctuary, according to officials. In some of the major fighting of Operation Junction City in the Tay Ninh area near the border it is believed the Communists had nowhere to go but Cambodia.

Lt. Gen. Jonathan O. Seaman, former Field Force II commander in charge of Junction City, told a news conference in South Vietnam before leaving for a Washington assignent that he could not "prove" Communist forces fled to Cambodia but he was "willing to venture" some did.

Administration sources expect to see this happen in larger numbers as U.S. forces hit harder at the Communists in South Vietnam.

This will mean Washington's diplomatic problem with Cambodia's Chief of State, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, may become even more touchy.

U.S. policy is to respect Cambodia's neutrality. Washington does not consider that Sihanouk has acted in deliberate collusion with the Viet Cong. Officials do not believe that he could physically stop the border infiltration if he wanted to.

Tam Candidates On Radio Panel

Seeking re-election are Dr. John C. Siemens and Mrs. Bette Wallace. Third candidate is David D. Ring of Tiburon.

The speakers will answer questions telephoned by listeners and the hour-long program will be repeated by recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m. Moderator will be Kitty Oppenheimer.

AMSTERDAM BEATNIKS HAVE DUTCH UNCLES

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP)—One hundred and twenty Dutch sailors and Marines stormed into Amsterdam's Central Station Hall last night, rounded up scores of beatniks who have been annoying passengers, then gave them all military-style haircuts.

At the sound of a Navy whistle the servicemen sealed off the hall as four police stood by and laid into the beatniks with belts.

When the long-haired Nozem (Dutch beatniks) fought back with brass knuckles and clubs the sailors pulled out scissors.

Some of the Nozems were injured in the shearing operation. One youth was hospitalized with a head wound caused by scissors.

The sailors said they decided to teach the beatniks a lesson because the navy men feared that their girl friends would be molested by the beatniks.

The Nozem have been hanging around the station for months demanding money from passengers.

Biggest War Games Since Buildup Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Defense Department plans to stage the biggest U.S. war games since the Vietnam buildup over a vast area of North Carolina next August, it was disclosed today.

The maneuvers are to involve some 70,000 air and ground troops, one-third of them National Guard forces, and will require a one-week extension of the normal summer training period of one guard division.

Although definite dates have not been set, "Exercise Kitty Hawk," as it has been designated, is expected to begin about Aug. 20 and continue for eight days.

For the 15,503 men of Pennsylvania's 28th National Guard division, the games will mean three weeks of summer training instead of the customary two. Some of the 28th's units are in Maryland and Ohio. They will also participate.

Mrs. Strom Rose Above Attempts To Smear Her

San Rafael has just been given a revolting demonstration of the Big Smear, in which catch words and innuendo are used to assassinate character.

The intended victim of the smear was Mrs. Anita C. Strom, a longtime and well-respected resident who had the temerity (in the view of her detractors) to declare herself a candidate for appointment to the San Rafael Board of Education.

The Big Smear is not new to Mrs. Strom. It has been used against her before, because she had the audacity to question the all-knowing wisdom of educators, and the naivete to believe that the public schools belong to the public that pays for them and that any citizen has the right to inquire into what is taught there.

Not only did Mrs. Strom feel free to criticize what she felt were faults of the schools; she also felt free to stand up for her political beliefs.

She was for Barry Goldwater (as were some 27 million other Americans). She was for Max Rafferty (as were a majority of Californians who voted in the November, 1962, election). The difference between Mrs. Strom and most of the others is that when Mrs. Strom believes in something or someone, she goes to work on it. So she did not just vote for Goldwater and Rafferty; she campaigned for them.

In the eyes of some people, it appears, to do this is a heinous thing. Some people who cry loudly about civil liberties seem not even to understand the basic liberty to speak up for one's beliefs.

Similarly, Mrs. Strom campaigned for the things in which she believes in education: teaching of phonics, of American history in its glories as well as its stumblings, of great literature of the past as well as the present, and abolishment of the "life adjustment" approach to learning.

These, in the eyes of some educators, were heresies. For their advocacy, Mrs. Strom was called "bigot," "Bircher," "book burner" and "witch hunter."

The names were called in private conversations, over the telephone—and at least once, before a school classroom. They were applied first by a handful of teachers and very few others. Gradually, they spread.

The campaign of vilification grew like an odious mushroom as soon as Mrs. Strom was mentioned for the board of education appointment. City councilmen were astonished by the telephone calls they received.

What had been going on sub-rosa came into the open when some of the charges were repeated in a letter addressed to the city council. As a public document, it was reported in the Independent-Journal; and the majority of San Rafael residents learned in shock, for the first time, how the Big Smear lived among them.

Mrs. Strom would probably have received the board of education appointment anyhow. But the smear backfired on the smearers. City councilmen investigated. Shocked at what they found, they stood determinedly behind their choice for the board. Mayor Bettini, the one member who dissented from the appointment, made it clear in doing so that he, too, was aware of the falsity of the charges.

The ordeal was a devastating one for Mrs. Strom. But she stood by her guns with the quiet courage that has marked her earlier battles.

The virulence of the uproar over the appointment was in marked contrast to the rather quiet campaign for two seats on the board of education which were decided in the April 12 election.

It is to be hoped San Rafael will never see a repetition of such a smear. It is to be hoped that those who attempted to so distort the processes of democracy will read anew their histories, along with Shakespeare's words:

"Good name in man and woman, dear my lord,
Is the immediate jewel of their souls;
Who steals my purse steals trash . . .
But he that filches from me my good name
Robs me of that which not enriches him
And makes me poor indeed."

Lagunitas Saddled With Portables Despite Bonds

the portables could be replaced.

Although the school administration had announced before the election that all portables could and would be replaced, McCuniff today said work on the state formula had not been undertaken until after the election was over.

He said, the school's enrollment and new home construction in the district proved after the election not to merit enough square footage under the state formula, which leans heavily on these points.

McCuniff said that in any event it had merely been intended to replace "as many portables as possible." He told the Independent-Journal, "I think you put more emphasis on 'all' than we did."

William G. McBride, board vice chairman, said: "I was very startled to hear it last night. I was under the impression (the bond issue) would eliminate all portables."

McBride said that perhaps the board had relied too heavily on the information supplied by its superintendent, but added, "I don't mean to imply it's his fault." McBride said he now felt the board should have insisted on more details, particularly concerning the state formula.

McCuniff told the board that the amount of new construction might be increased to 11,500 square feet if the existing 40-year-old building were abandoned and its 5,500 square feet added to the other 6,000.

However, he said, this would not eliminate the need for one or two portables, but merely bring all the school facilities up to modern standards.

Mrs. Frederick noted that this would replace the three classrooms in the present building with four new ones at a cost of $104,000. She said today, "I think it would be incredible to get only one more classroom at a cost of $104,000."

McBride agreed. He said engineers have estimated that it would cost $35,000 to bring the old building up to earthquake safety standards of the 1933 Field Act, and state aid for this may be forthcoming.

There is a bill before the legislature to compensate districts for the cost of bringing schools up to Field Act standards, he noted. "I'm in favor of waiting to see if this passes," he said.

McCuniff submitted a preliminary budget to the board for the coming year amounting to $325,000, down $11,000 from this year's $336,000. Most of the saving, he said, would come from non-replacement of two teachers leaving the district.

The board went into closed session last night to discuss their appraisers' estimate of the 11 acres of Lagunitas Development Co. property adjacent to the school, which the district intends to acquire for its building program.

Although the Brown Act limits closed sessions to hearing charges against a district employee, or to consider the hiring or firing of personnel, the closed session was held with approval of the county counsel, according to McCuniff.

McCuniff said the board will be negotiating with the company and "doesn't want it to have the benefit of the appraisers' work that we paid for." (The law provides that either party to a land condemnation suit must be furnished with the other party's appraisal on demand.)

5,557 More Cong Defect During March

SAIGON (AP) — An all-time high of 5,557 Viet Cong deserted last month and came over to the allied side, U.S. officials announced today.

The record surge of defectors was nearly double the previous record of 2,917 Viet Cong who deserted in February under the South Vietnamese government's open arms program.

The mounting wave of enemy defections was announced as the ground war in South Vietnam simnered in small, scattered patrol clashes and bad weather returned to North Vietnam, curtailing U.S. air strikes after the heaviest raids in five months Monday.

U.S. and allied forces reported killing 75 of the enemy in scattered contacts yesterday. Units of the South Korean Capital Division claimed 41 Viet Cong killed in the nine patrol skirmishes and said there were no Korean casualties.

In an unusual encounter, a two-man U.S. reconnaissance unit spotted and engaged about 10 Viet Cong troops who were acting as a screening force for a larger enemy unit of about 40 men. The two U.S. soldiers, with help from the rest of their patrol, killed nine Viet Cong in a surprise attack 33 miles southwest of the coastal city of Tuy Hoa, a U.S spokesman said.

The surge of 5,557 Viet Cong defectors during March raised the total for 1967 to 10,746, or nearly double the rate last year, U.S. officials said. The number of "open arms" defectors in the first three months of last year was 5,521.

In the last week of March, up to last Saturday, 1,000 Viet Cong defected to the government side.

In Seoul, capital of South Korea, visiting Premier Thanom Kittikachorn of Thailand and South Korean Premier Chung Ilkwon issued a joint communique pledging to intensify their military effort in South Vietnam until Communist aggression is ended. They also said they wanted a part in any settlement and would continue efforts to bring peace to Vietnam.

The communique said any settlement to be enduring "must respect the wishes and aspirations of the Vietnamese government and people" and the Vietnamese government "should have full participation in any negotiations designed to bring about the settlement of the conflict."

Also from Saigon came a report terrorism to sabotage South Vietnam's transition to civilian government is increasing.

Political candidates, members of the Constituent Assembly which wrote South Vietnam's new constitution, and other civilians are the targets. Police informants say the terrorism is being fomented by feuding political factions as well as by the Communists.

Soggy Clouds Settle Over Marin Again

Showers fell through the night and this morning as soggy clouds settled in for an indefinite stay over Marin.

Forecast for northern California is for intermittent rain through tomorrow, with scattered showers through Monday.

Rain fell throughout Marin in the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today, the heaviest fall a reported .6 of an inch at Fairfax. Other figures for the period were .3 at Point Reyes Station, .28 at Woodacre, .25 at Ross, .2 at San Anselmo, .15 at Novato, .14 at Sausalito, .13 at Tamalpais Valley, .13 at Mill Valley, .13 at in the Chevy Chase area of Larkspur, .1 at Terra Linda, .1 at Civic Center, and .04 at Larkspur corporation yard.

Rainfall reading at San Rafael for the 24 hours ending at noon today was .24 of an inch, a large part of it coming in a mid-morning shower today.

Meeting Tonight

Meeting of the Marinwood Association will be held at 8 p.m. today at the Marinwood Community Center rather than last night, association president Jack Nixon announced today.

FIRE

part in a six-year experimental courst for top-ranked freshmen seeking doctorate degrees.

One Californian was identified as among the dead: Jeffrey W. Smith, 17, an art sophomore of Cupertino.

A university spokesman said the two-story, cinder-block building on the edge of the city near the campus housed 71 persons, including 43 in the experimental program.

The cause of the fire was not determined. Firemen said it apparently began in the basement.

The bodies were discovered in hallways, rooms and in the lobby.

Sheets dangling from modern, horizontal paned windows indicated an escape route used by more than a score of the students.

A policeman among the first on the scene told a newsman there was no fire visible from the outside of the building but "people were hanging out of all the windows."

The freshman students in the experimental course all had achieved nearly perfect scores in aptitude tests for enrollment. Nearly half the students, Corson said, were valedictorians or salutatorians of their high school classes.

The program director, Stephen Parrish, said it calls for a bachelor's degree in three years, master's in the fourth and a doctorate after two more years.

This discussion arose with Storer's request for authority to write Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall on several park matters, including protest on razing of the Red Barn at park headquarters in Bear Valley and the ban on grazing in national parks.

Storer said county fire chief Louis J. Bloom is concerned about the grazing ban, because grass is allowed to dry and brush allowed to grow, increasing the fire hazard.

Storer also will seek a closer liaison between the park service and the county on developments within the park. He said a building put up at Drake's Bay Beach by the park service blocks the view and is an eyesore.

Berkeley's Mayor Wins Second Term

BERKELEY (AP) — Mayor Wallace J. S. Johnson easily won a second four - year term Tuesday night over three opponents in unofficial election results from all of Berkeley's 139 precincts.

Johnson, a scaffold manufacturer, got 25,224 votes to 7,385 for Jerry Rubin, former leader of the Vietnam Day Committee and part of the Community for New Politics slate of left - wing candidates.

Fred Huntley, a John Birch Society member, polled 2,160 and Socialist Peter Camaejo, another former Vietnam Day Committee leader, trailed with 1,019.

Three incumbents won in their bid for re-election to the City Council while a Negro social planning consultant took the fourth available seat in an upset.

He is Ron Dellums, who finished fourth in the voting with 17,171 votes. The other winners and their votes were Joseph Bort, 21,494; Mrs. Bernice May, 20,522; and John DeBonsi, 18,817.

Pair Reports Theft Of Record Player

Two San Rafael brothers complained to police early yesterday that a portable stereopohnic record player, records and a clock radio were stolen from their apartment Monday by thieves who apparently entered through a balcony door.

Arnold B. and Gaylen C. Hunter of 260 Canal Street, Apt. 123, placed the value of the items at $400.

OBITUARIES

Alan M. Shearer Dies At 67

Alan M. Shearer, retired advertising executive and editor, died yesterday at a local hospital after a brief illness. He was 67.

Shearer, who lived at 23 Dorset Lane, was with with the advertising agency Batton, Barton, Durstine and Osborne in Minneapolis and San Francisco for 20 years. He edited a gourmet magazine, Bon Appetit, after leaving BBD&O until retiring three years ago.

The family had lived in Marin for nine years. Mrs. Shearer is a columnist for the Mill Valley Record.

Born in Minneapolis, Shearer was graduated from University of Minnesota. He was at one time a flutist with the Duluth Symphony and maintained an interest in music and art in later years. He was a member of the Walker Art Center and the American Civil Liberties Union while in Minneapolis.

He is survived by his wife, Virginia, and a son, Alan M. Shearer Jr., of Alto; two daughters, Mrs. Hans Willax of Zurich, Switzerland, and Mrs. David Pesonen of Berkeley; a sister, Hermoine Shearer of Houston, Tex., and one grandson.

Funeral and interment will be private.

TEEN

encounter an astonishing degree of ignorance on physiology among teen-age girls.

"Parents are worried that their daughter will get a venereal disease but amazed when she becomes pregnant," said Mrs. Hooper.

If parents are reluctant to instruct their children on family planning — an understandable reluctance, a taboo in our civilization because it's admitting that mother and father are themselves sexual beings — who can?

Birth control information for minors through a public agency, such as Planned Parenthood or the county family planning clinic, is available only with parental consent.

If a young girl has already had a baby she's considered "an emancipated minor" and entitled to learn how to prevent further pregnancies, shutting the stable door after the horse is gone.

"The irony of the situation is that if she is pregnant she is automatically considered of age and is entitled to seek out medical care without parental consent," said Dr. Wierdsma. "At this point our experience proves the taxpayer often becomes the parent in the form of the welfare department."

In Marin County high schools, sex education is included in the family life unit of homemaking — itself an elective. Girls get some instruction in physical education classes. Boys get even less, through biology.

The Tamalpais High School District biology instructors are "viewing appropriate instructional materials and attending a sex education seminar," sais Supt. Chester G. Carlisle, with plans to update sex education next school year.

In Novato district, a committee is revamping family life elementary and secondary curricula too, said Gilbert Guerin, director of personnel services. But however they're updated, they won't include family planning.

Quoting a recent poll of San Carlos High School students which found that 76 per cent favored premarital sex, John Parker siad: "Perhaps we need to re-examine and define our moral standards."

Dr. Wierdsma was blunter: "It does seem at first glance that advocating contraceptives to the adolescent does constitute condoned promiscuousness. However, a closer examination of the current 'new cool' at the high school level indicates that we are a little late in this concern."

An Indian totem pole is featured on a new eight cent commemorative stamp highlighting Alaska's 100th anniversary.

PHILIP BENJAMIN

Information was received yesterday of the death of former Marin County resident Philip Benjamin, 74, of Berkeley, brother of Kenneth Benjamin of San Rafael.

Benjamin, a retired advertising executive, died apparently of a heart attack at his Berkeley home March 25.

He lived in San Rafael as a young man before World War I and had lived in Berkeley for many years.

He was a Mason and a past commander of the American Legion Post 1 in San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Freda; two sons, Philip Benjamin Jr., of Sacramento and Robert Benjamin of San Diego; two brothers, Harry Benjamin of San Francisco and Kenneth Benjamin; two sisters, Mrs. Nina Mohen and Mrs. Norma Kent, both of San Francisco, and five grandchildren.

FRANZ GOTTSCHALK

Franz Gottschalk, retired composer, conductor and music teacher, died yesterday at a Kentfield rest home at 84.

Gottschalk, a native of Germany, was active as a musician in radio and television in Hollywood, and had been active in San Francisco music circles for 25 years. He was best known recently as the zither player for the television series, "The Third Man."

Gottschalk emigrated to the United States in 1908 after extensive travels in Europe, and had lived in California since 1930, in Monterey, San Francisco and Fairfax. He was an honorary member of several European musical groups, including the Duesseldorf Maennerchor. He was a member of Musicians Union Local 6, San Francisco.

He is survived by a son, John W. Gottschalk of Fairfax, and two grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Friday at St. Rita's Church, Fairfax. Burial will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

DR. HERMANN MULLER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Dr. Hermann Joseph Muller, 76, Nobel prize winning geneticist, died today at Robert Long hospital.

Dr. Muller, who won the Nobel prize for medicine in 1946, had been hospitalized several months with a heart condition.

He was a distinguished service professor emeritus at Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind., having joined the faculty in 1945.

Muller won the Nobel Prize 19 years after he demonstrated that radiation, such as X-rays or those from atomic reactions can produce mutations — changes in the heredity controls of the body.

His research showed that most mutations are harmful and the resulting organisms finally die off.

In recent years, Dr. Muller led a crusade in warning against the dangers of the hereditary effects of all kinds of radiation. He warned these could produce genetic "time bombs" which could cause "untold cases of suffering and death in future generations of mankind."

JOSEPH NUNES

Joseph M. (Joe) Nunes, longtime West Marin dairy rancher, died today in a local hospital after a short illness. He was 72.

Born in the Azores Islands, Nunes came to Marin County in 1912 and was in the dairy business in Point Reyes Station with Joe Avila for many years. Twenty years ago he quit dairying and went into raising beef stock with Avila.

A bachelor, he lived on Mesa Road, Point Reyes Station.

He is survived by his sister, Maria Bettencourt of Crow's Landing, Stanislaus County, and three sisters and a brother in the Azores.

GENEVA U. ROGERS

Geneva U. Rogers, 89, former Mill Valley dress shop operator, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Santa Rosa, she lived in Marin for 47 years. In recent years, she lived at Hill Haven Convalescent Hospital, San Rafael.

She and her late husband, George Williams Rogers, moved in 1920 to Mill Valley, where they operated a grocery store for about 20 years. In 1924, she and her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Murphy, opened R and M Style Shop in Mill Valley.

She was a past matron of the Order of Eastern Star Chapter 219 of Mill Valley and past grand, past district deputy president and member of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305, Mill Valley.

She is survived by her daughter, now of Sonoma; a son, Stuart Rogers of Tiburon; seven grandchildren, and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Private entombment will be in Odd Fellows' Mausaleum, Santa Rosa. Her family asked that memorial contributions be to the heart fund or donors' favorite charity.

GEORGE RUZICKA

George Ruzicka, 65, of 36 Belle Avenue, Fairfax, owner of Ross Copy Service in San Francisco, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

Ruzicka, a native of Chicago, had been a resident of Marin for more than 30 years.

Surviving are his wife, Barbara, of Fairfax; a daughter, Helene Ruzicka of Berkeley; a son, James Ruzicka of Storrie, Plumas County; two brothers, Louis Ruzicka of Oakland and William Ruzicka of Illinois, and two sisters, Mrs. Libufe Coan of San Francisco and Mrs. Bess Popeck of Illinois.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Abbey of the Chimes Funeral Chapel, Vallejo. Burial will be in Abbey Memorial Gardens, Vallejo.

HENRY C. TIECK

Funeral for Henry C. Tieck of Mill Valley will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. at Mill Valley Methodist Church. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael. Friends may call at Russell and Gooch Morturary, Mill Valley.

Tieck, 81, died at his home, 15 Grove Street, Monday after a brief illness.

A retired securitites broker, Tieck was a native of Reading, Ohio. He had lived in California for 62 years, the past 50 in Marin County.

He was a member and secretary of Royal Arch Masons, Chapter 108, Mill Valley, and Mill Valley Lodge 356, Free and Accepted Masons; a life member of the Commonwealth Club, San Francisco, and member and trustees of Mill Valley Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Willie Lee Tieck of Mill Valley; a son, David Treck of Chatham, M.J.; a daughter, Mrs. Bette Ramirez of San Francisco; a brother, Cecil Tieck of Oroville; two sisters, Mrs. Elma MacQuiddy of Santa Barbara and Mrs. Hannah Schmidt of Oroville, and four grandchildren.

His family asked that memorial contributions be given to the Memorial Fund of Mill Valley Methodist Church, to be used for heart research.

THE WORRIES OF SPRING

A Winona, Minn., resident stands on a bench in Levee Park to watch the Mississippi River's menacing rise. The townfolk began toiling yesterday to sandbag levees against a flood stage predicted to hit 19 feet by Friday—with existing dikes only 13 feet high. (UPI Telephoto)

Chamber Endorses Ballot Measures

San Rafael Chamber of Commerce directors have overwhelmingly endorsed all 13 proposed city charter amendments on the April 10 ballot, it was announced yesterday.

Twelve of the propositions were approved unanimously. Proposition B was endorsed by a 7-to-1 vote. Chamber president Clifford S. Lund cast the one vote against the proposition which would make appointive the presently elective offices of police chief, city attorney, clerk and treasurer.

Andersen Leads Cancer Crusade

Dan E. Andersen, San Rafael city manager, has been named chairman of the American Cancer Crusade in Marin this month, according to Mrs. John Horton of San Rafael, president of the Marin branch of the American Cancer Society.

The goal is $56,400. Last year, $55,326 was raised.

Mrs. Marilyn Magladry is in charge of recruiting workers for residence soliciting.

Slayer Denied Writ; Execution Date Nears

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Aaron C. Mitchell, scheduled to die in the gas chamber one week from today for killing a Sacramento policeman, was denied an application for habeas corpus yesterday by U.S. Dist. Judge Alfonzo J. Zirpoli.

However, the judge issued a certificate of probable cause to allow Mitchell's attorney to appeal his decision to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

The 36-year-old convicted slayer also has a hearing slated for tomorrow morning before the circuit court on a previous application for habeas corpus turned down by Zirpoli last November.

Mitchell, a wool presser, killed a policeman in Sacramento during a bar robbery Feb. 15, 1963. He was found guilty and sentenced to death but his penalty trial was reversed and he was tried again on the penalty phase, and again was coerced by belief that his failure to take the stand would sentenced to death.

Mitchell's attorneys, Doris Walker and Evander Smith, claim their client's testimony be commented upon.

If Mitchell goes to the San Quentin Prison gas chamber next week, he will be the first person executed by the State of California in more than four years.

Notary Public Stamp

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan today announced issuance of a notary public commission to John H. Rawitser, 63 Arguello Circle, San Rafael.

Marin Men Win Scholarships

Two college men from Marin have been awarded two-year Army Reserve Officer Training Corps scholarships which will provide them with free tuition, books, laboratory fees and $50 a month during their junior and senior years.

The two are Peter C. Cole of 355 Ironstone Court, Marinwood, a sophomore at the University of California at Davis, and John Fye IV of 117 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, a sophomore at the University of Arizona.

Ninety-seven scholarship winners were named in the eight-state Sixth Army area.

Longshoremen Warn U.S. To 'Get Out' Of Viet War

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union urges that the United States "get out of the most barbarous war of modern times" — Vietnam—because of "the danger of the war touching off a world holocaust, complete with nuclear weapons."

The resolution cited Pentagon figures of March 25 that 8,286 Americans were killed and 48,602 wounded in Vietnam in two years and declared:

"We don't belong in Vietnam and should get out. Our main role must be to get into the fight for peace."

The convention also urged yesterday that all labor and social legislation applied to industrial workers be extended to farm workers; asked Congress to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities and, if not that, to kill its budget appropriation.

Other resolutions come up for action today, including one asserting Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa was "framed" in his conviction of jury tampering, for which he is serving a prison sentence.

The anti - war resolution was recorded as passed unanimously by voice vote of 315 delegates representing 63 locals in five western states and Canada. It cautioned:

"The cost of the war to American taxpayers—around $2 billion a month—has virtually put a stop to the dreams of a Great Society and a more meaningful battle against poverty."

Before they passed the anti - war resolution, delegates heard Oregon Republican Sen. Mark Hatfield declare, "the Americanization of this war is almost complete. The South Vietnamese have become spectators. It is time to put it back in the laps of the Asians."

The farm resolution asserted, "Farm workers have been deprived of almost all benefits of social and labor legislation, both state and federal (excepting in Hawaii) as well as lacking protection of the law in their right to organize and bargain collectively.

"The low wages, horrible conditions, lack of proper health and educational opportunities and lack of job security is detrimental and offensive to all workers under the general slogan, 'An injury to one is an injury to all'."

Sticker Day Deadline Near

Next Monday is make-sure-your-sticker-is-showing day.

That is the deadline for putting the license sticker on the rear license plate of your car, Verne Orr, state director of motor vehicles, said today.

All enforcement agencies have been notified of the deadline, Orr said.

Workers Stone Two U.S. Firms

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — About 80 students and workers stoned two U.S. firms in Montevideo last night as Communists intensified their campaign against President Johnson's impending visit for the inter-American summit conference at Punta del Este.

The demonstrators broke several windows in the offices of Pan American World Airways and General Electric Co. They fled when police moved in.

"This is just the beginning," said Police Chief Raul Barloco. "We are expecting a lot of trouble."

McCarthy Lauds Reagan's Postponement Of Layoffs

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Governor Reagan's decision to postpone layoffs at state mental hospitals for at least 60 days brought praise today from Senate Republican leader John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

"Governor Reagan's decision to review the personnel cutbacks at the various state hospitals is consistent with the administration's approach to this matter and was obviously made with the best interests of the people of California at heart," said McCarthy.

"I have kept in close touch with representatives of the various state hospital boards and staff and I am convinced that they will do all within their powers to institute cutbacks in operational expenses, while at the same time not hampering their mission of ministering to the state's mentally ill."

The Marin senator issued the statement after a conference between the governor and several legislators who have state hospitals in their districts.

McCarthy said the 60-day delay in firing of employees will give hospital boards some time to come up with an orderly program for budget cutting wherever possible.

Bomb Package Had U.N. Mark

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Someone within the United Nations may have mailed the boobytrapped book that exploded in Cuban charge d'affaires Nicolas Rodriguez Astiazarain's hand Monday, a U.N. spokesman said last night. night.

The spokesman said the package was mailed from one of the two U.N. postoffices with a gummed address label available only to U.N. employees and correspondents. It bore a U.N. stamp and cancellation.

Published by the U.N.'s legal department, the book can be bought in stores for $10 and has been distributed free to U.N. delegations.

CANDIDATES CLAIM SIGNS TORN DOWN

One after another, candidates for San Rafel City Council at a forum in Peacock Gap last night complained their campign signs have been getting knocked down and disappearing.

Candidates Gene F. O'Connor, John A. Miskimen, Fred E. Jensen, Joseph D. Dahlman and George S. Burton developed a sort of contest as to who had lost the most signs.

But candidate Orlando Conti put them and their signs in their places.

O'Connor and Miskimen, said Conti, "have done a good job as litterbugs with their signs." As for Dahlman, he said, "a candidate who is an attorney had most of his signs put up without the property owners' permission."

Conti has few, if any, campaign signs.

Charter Changes Get Spotlight

Proposed San Rafael city charter changes received a major share of attention at a city candidates' forum last night at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Comments on them ranged from city council candidate Orlando Conti's advice to "vote no on every one" to the urging of Mayor C. Paul Bettini and Roy M. Michael, chairman of for passage of all 13.

Conti opened up on the charter amendments in his speech for council candidacy at the forum, which was sponsored by the Peacock Gap Homewoners Association and drew a crowd of more than 100.

Declaring "it would take four lawyers to explain them to you and then you wouldn't know what you thought," he urged all the changes be rejected at the polls next Monday.

Other council candidates, in response to a question from the audience, had this to say about the charter amendments:

George S. Burton: "Most people feel you have to be a Philadelphia lawyer to figure them out . . . Maybe a further study should be made.

Joseph D. Dahlman: "I am not impressed with any of these changes except maybe Proposition A," which would change the election date to the third Tuesday in April and simplify nomination and petition procedures. He said the entire charter should be reviewed.

Fred E. Jensen: A board of freeholders should be appointed or elected to revise the entire charter.

John A. Miskimen: Declaring "the ballot proposals make absolutely no sense on the ballot," he said all are minor except Proposition B, which would eliminate election of city clerk, treasurer, attorney and police chief. "The flaw in this," he contended, is that the charter does not spell out the city manager's authority so it is unclear whether the appointed officials would report to manager or council.

Gene F O'Connor: There would be advantages to appointing officials, as called in Proposition B, he said, but the entire charter should be reviewed.

Michael went over the charter amendments to show that, far from requiring "a Philadelphia lawyer" to understand, most of them are very simple. He pointed out they were the result of long study by the committee and two reviews by the council. As to a complete charter revision, for that "you may wait forever," he said.

Mayor Bettini, who is unopposed for re-election, said: "I certainly recommend that you vote yes on all." However, he said he would have preferred a complete charter overhaul by a board of freeholders.

All board of education candidates also appeared on the program. Of the two police chief candidates, however, only Nick Giampoli appeared. He made pointed comment on the refusal of the incumbent chief, Charles J. Chiesa, to appear on any public platform.

Aside from the charter, the city council candidates made these points:

O'Connor: Stressing that he had a good attendance record on the planning commissionn, O'Connor emphasized that his slogan "I'll be on the job every day"means what it says. He pointed out he is in business in San Rafael and travels constantly about the city. Stressing beautification, he declared: "If I'm on the council, within four years we will make this one of the most beautiful cities in the Bay Area."

Miskimen: San Rafael faces four major problems: planning, "ordinary day to day services, also getting the water off the streets," annexation policy, and commute traffic. He pledged an orderly attack on all four.

Miskimen also said he had attended 87 per cent of the meetings since being on the planning commission while O'Connor attended 77 per cent when he was on the commission.

Jensen: The only incumbent seeking council re-election, Jensen has served 12 years. He reviewed accomplishments in that time, accompanied by lower taxes. "Since 1957," he said, "San Rafel has been rolling."

Dahlman: He devoted most of his talk to qualifications for a councilman, stressing he "must have the facilities at his disposal" to ascertain and attack city problems, and "do more than appear at two council meetings per month."

Conti: Before launching into his charter attack, Conti called for a bigger election turnout and declared, "I hold no allegaince to no one but the City of San Rafael."

Burton: He called for encouraging more boats on San Rafael waterfront, and for civic groups to undertake beautification projects without expecting the city to do it all.

Giampoli leveled a heavy attack at opperation of the police department by Chief Chiesa. San Rafael has 56 persons in the police department, he said, yet for at least an hour every day there is no car on patrol on the beats. Moreover, "not one officer is trained in a specialized field," he said. "Ineptness and inefficiency presently exist in our police department."

"Again I have to take note how conspicuous is the absence of the other candidate. I can only conclude he refuses to discuss the issues," said Giampoli.

The candidates for board of education all declared they are dedicated to the welfare of the children.

Only Anita C. Strom of the education board candidates was present when the meeting opened, so their talks were moved until last. Carl J. Brown, Herman L. Childress and John C. Pfeiffer arrived just in time to speak, at that, having been at the home of John M. Douglas attending one of the numerous school board candidate "coffees."

Brown promised he can work with the other four members of the board, as he has done the past four years.

Childress said: "We must improve our communications. . . . We must develop a spirit of mutual trust and understanding."

Pfeiffer, citing experience as a management consultant as qualifying him for the school board, said he felt problems in the San Rafael schools really have been of secondary importance. However, in recent years, he said, the board has been guilty of "sporadic planning." He said this failed to follow through the farsighted-planning of earlier boards.

Mrs. Strom stressed again her theme that the schools belong to the people and the board must represent the parents, since they have no one else to whom to turn.

"Hypersensitivity over differences in educational philosophies should be overcome," she declared. "Differences should be considered a challenge, not a calamity."

Robert Metzger chaired the meeting, with James Fairchild as timekeeper.

Good Neighbor Policy Urged

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Rufus Jones, president of the National Association of Evangelicals, says evangelicalism must not be content to stop with an insistence on personal holiness.

"We must go on to demonstrate concern for our neighbor," he said.

Dr. Jones, addressing more than 1,000 delegates yesterday to the association's 25th anniversary meeting, asked: "How much suffering have we done in behalf of our Negro brethren in the ghettoes of our city?"

In addition to involvement in contemporary social issues, he emphasized what he called the importance of Christian unity, saying:

"A genuine spiritual unity is bound to be manifest in an outward unity. I believe that Evangelicals are not beginning to manifest such a unity to the world."

OUR MEATS MAKE US MORE FRIENDS

There's just no substitute for Quality

Because we settle for nothing less than the best . . . because we consider each customer as an individual rather than "the Public" . . . because we price our meats as low as fine quality permits . . . because we stand behind them with a money-back guarantee, we've made a host of friends in our meat department. If you've been putting it off, come in now and get acquainted.

MARIN NAMES

Hub Airman Wins Honors In Course

Airman 3/C Terry A. Aquilino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lou P. Aquilino of 5 Jordan Avenue, San Anselmo, has been named an honor graduate from the reciprocating engine mechanic course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex. The designation is limited to the top 10 per cent of graduates.

Aquilino

BRONZE STAR—Warrant Officer Wayne A. Baenziger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Baenziger of 17 Esmeyer Drive, San Rafael, has been awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in Vietnam. Baenziger is now at the Army Primary Helocopter School at Fort Wolters, Texas.

HONOR ROLL — Two Marin students have been named to the honor roll at University of Redlands for the fall semester: Jacalyn Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hartman Jr. of 4 Locksley Lane, San Rafael, a freshman who had an all-A 4.0 grade average, and Phil Weil, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Weil of 80 Corte Patencio, Greenbrae, a senior with a 3.8 average.

ON LEAVE—Commissaryman 3/C Theodore M. George, son of Theodore F. George of 355 Canal Street, San Rafael, has returned home on leave after a tour of duty aboard the amphibious assault ship Valley Forge off Vietnam.

DEAN'S LIST — Elaine Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Thomas of 32 San Marino Drive, San Rafael, has been named to the dean's honor list for the fall semester at University of California at Davis, where she is a sophomore.

NEW TRAINING—Airman Apprentice Robert C. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber F. Jones of 211 Canal Street, San Rafael, has been assigned to the Naval Air Technical Training Center at Memphis, Tenn., to attend avionics and aviation electronics technician school.

COMMITTEE POST — George Banning, San Rafael architect, has been appointed to an interim nominating committee for the Bay Area Social Planning Council.

TO VIETNAM — Marin Pfc. Gary W. Brock, son of Mrs. Helen S. Brock of 56 Glendale Drive, San Rafael, is stationed at Da Nang, South Vietnam, with the Maintenance Company, Maintenance Battalion, First Service Force Regiment.

ESCORT DUTY — Navy Lt. Cmdr. Keith Kaufman, a surgeon at Guam Naval Hospital, was escort officer for President Lyndon Johnson last month when the President toured the hospital and visited wounded servicemen during his flying conference visit to the island. Kaufman is a son-in-law of Mrs. Ralph Dwight of 151 Novato Street, San Rafael.

COURSE COMPLETED—Pvt. Carl V. Hayes Jr., son of Mrs. Bonnie R. Ferrari of 121 Oak Knoll Avenue, San Anselmo, has completed a vehicle mechanic course at Fort Ord.

Neighbor Held In Sex Slaying Of Little Girl

LA HABRA (AP) — A next-door neighbor, the object of a high-speed desert chase, is being held in the sex slaying of an 11-year-old La Habra girl.

Police said the body of Debra Ann Kravitz, clad in a short nightgown, was found yesterday in a bathtub at her home. The body bore multiple stab wounds and a coroner's report said she died of a severed throat artery.

An autopsy showed the youngster had been molested.

Three hours after the body was discovered, Inspector Floyd Tidwell of the San Bernardino County sheriff's office spotted a car on the Mojave Desert that matched one in an all - points bulletin.

Tidwell said the chase ended near Amboy when a car driven by Nicholas W. Toce, 25, ran off the highway and overturned.

Toce, identified as a neighbor of the slaying victim and a former patient at Atascadero State Hospital, suffered a broken collar bone, possible rib fractures and head injuries in the crash.

Turkey Pete Laid To Rest

DEER LODGE, Mont. (UPI) —Prison officials will be pall bearers for the funeral of "Turkey Pete," who was committed 50 years ago on a murder conviction.

"Pete," or Paul G. Eitner, 89, died of old age in Montana Prison hospital yesterday. Warden Ed Ellsworth Jr. believes Eitner was "one of the longest term inmates in the nation."

The funeral Thursday will be held within prison walls. It is open to all inmates because of the high esteem held for Eitner, who drew his nickname while attending the prison's turkey farm.

Correctional officers and administrative personnel will be pall bearers and Eitner will be buried in "The isle of forgotten men," the prison cemetery three miles west of Deer Lodge.

Eitner, a native of Germany, was committed from Custer county on a murder charge 50 years ago and was serving a life sentence.

Ellsworth said he thinks Eitner was once scheduled for a parole hearing but turned it down.

"Where would I go?" he asked. "This is my home."

Rails Fined For Delay Of Mail

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department has fined nine railroads $127,500 since Jan. 1, charging them with delaying the mails, it was learned today.

The fines range from $2,500 against the Chicago & Eastern Illinois to $35,000 against the New York Central. The latest fine was $20,000 against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

Other fines levied since January are: Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, $10,000; Louisville & Nashville, $5,000. Missouri Pacific $15,000; Norfolk & Western, $10,000; St. Louis-San Francisco, $5,000, and Southern Pacific, $25,000.

Lone Survivor Points Finger At Speck

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—Corazon Amurao, the only survivor of the massacre of eight nurses in Chicago last summer, walked to within two feet of the accused killer, Richard Speck, today and, with her finger pointed at him, said, "This is the man."

Moments before, the 23-year-old Filipino nurse broke into tears on the witness stand as she told how the killer who slaughtered her friends awoke her with four knocks on her bedroom door on the night of last July 13.

It was after she described her first confrontation with the killer that the petite nurse got up from the witness stand, walked to within two feet of Speck, pointed her finger at him, and said, "This is the man."

Speck did not appear to show emotion as he was pointed out as the man who stabbed and strangled the nurses in a night of horror. Miss Amurao said that when she first saw Speck standing in the doorway, she stared at him for "about two minutes."

The Mississippi River is 2,330 miles long and flows from Lake Itasca in Minnesota to the Gulf of Mexico.

Main Street Widening Opposed In Sausalito

After hearing protests from a contingent of residents last night over proposed widening of Main Street from West Street to Crescent Avenue, Sausalito city council decided to take another look at the area.

"We're not unhappy with the street as it is now," one resident said.

"I can't see any sense fooling with Main Street; everybody's happy," said E. C. Buffalow of 619 Main Street.

Others contended the proposed widening would create a traffic hazard at the Sausalito Nursery School, 625 Main Street, and would encourage faster traffic.

Public Works Director Norman Wohlschlaeger pointed out that the street is in the city select street system and must be widened to state standards to qualify for gasoline tax funds.

Some residents objected to a plan to widen on the northerly side of the street from West Street to Lower Crescent Avenue; some felt there should be widening on both sides of the street; and others felt that nothing should be done.

Councilmen agreed to take a field trip at 11 a.m. Saturday to look at the street. The council received eight letters and a petition signed by 15 persons, some of them also letter writers, mainly opposing widening on the north side only.

Hatfield Applauded On Draft Abolition

BERKELEY (UPI) — Sen. Mark Hatfield won cheers yesterday from 2,000 students at the University of California when he urged abolition of the draft.

The Oregon Republican argued military pay should be raised to attract enough volunteers. He said the number in uniform should be reduced by turning nonmilitary tasks over to civilians.

Louisiana Asks Integration Stall

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion filed a motion today to delay a federal court order which would end separate schools for Negroes and whites in the south next fall.

Gremillion filed the stay motion in the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans. Time was sought to review the appeals court ruling.

The federal court had adopted the educational guidelines laid down by the U.S. Department of Education, Health and Welfare.

If a stay is not granted Gremillion said he plans to apply immediately to U.S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black.

Reagan Daughter On GOP Mission

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes greeted the daughter of California Gov. Ronald Reagan today and wished her luck in urging Republican women to adopt a new youth education program.

Mrs. Maureen Reagan Sills, the governor's tall and blue-eyed 26-year-old daughter, called on Rhodes at his statehouse office.

Mrs. Sills said she hoped other women's clubs would adopt the youth education program that she termed successful in Southern California.

Asked if she would like to see her father run for president, Mrs. Sills expressed the belief he would "make a marvelous president," but expressed doubt he would seek the high office.

Capitol Needs A Restoration

WASHINGTON (AP) — A team of architects who prowled the U.S. Capitol building from top to bottom say it needs plenty of repairs but isn't at the falling-down stage yet.

The inspection team urged a restoration job, noting that none of the defects in the 168-year-old sandstone walls "appear to indicate that danger of collapse is imminent or that correction is impracticable."

Some settling is going on but the Capitol "is not slipping down the hill," they said.

State Admits Hiring Firm To Check Coppolino Jury

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Prosecutor Frank Schaub admitted in court today that the state had hired a Miami firm to investigate prospective jurors in the Carl Coppolino murder case.

The admission came when a jury candidate, James L. Bell, said he resented his private life being told. The disclosure touched off a heated exchange between Schaub and defense attorneys.

Schaub said the state had hired a jury service to profile would-be jurors, adding, "They were supposed to be far more discreet than they were. We employed one — I do not know what the defense did."

McEwen asked Schaub to correct his statement.

Yacht Club Seeks Zone Law Change

Sausalito Yacht Club doesn't want to float along as a non-conforming use, but it faces the possibility that it may have to "ship out."

Vice Commodore William Gillespie urged the Sausalito City Council last night to make yacht clubs a conditional use in an open area district.

The yacht club is north of the Trade Fair, along the city's central waterfront. Gillespie said yacht clubs were left out "by some oversight" when open area zoning was adopted in 1963.

"We feel we're being discriminated against," he said. "We don't like the idea of being zoned into a non-conforming use."

Mayor Mel Wax said, "A lot of people think it shouldn't be there," and "it's obviously in conflict with the central waterfront plan."

One of the proposed waterfront plans calls for the yacht club to be relocated north of its present site.

"We have a plan that proposes an open area and waterfront park where the yacht club is," Wax said.

The mayor said the council could not act on the club's request last night because one of the technical requirements for a hearing had not been met.

Councilmen also received a request from Ondine Enterprises to lease a portion of bayfront between the Ondine and Glad Hand restaurants to construct a parking deck.

Councilmen indicated they would be reluctant to permit that sector of the Bridgeway waterfront to be used for a parking lot, but referred the request to City Mgr. George M. Patterson.

Councilmen also agreed to meet at 8 p.m. next Tuesday to discuss the library board's recommendation on the proposed new library.

Wax said the library board needed another week before presenting its recommendation, and a plan would have to be submitted to Sacramento by April 17 to keep the city's spplication for federal aid "alive."

Sausalito City Council Also:

BUSINESS LICENSES—Unanimously passed an ordinance that will give the city power to revoke a firm's business license if it conducts its business in a manner dangerous to persons, property or public peace, health and safety or engages in "unfair, unjust, inequitable or fraudulent practice."

PLANNED UNITS — Unanimously passed an ordinance which requires city council review of all planned unit developments.

FIREMEN PRAISED—Received a letter from Dr. Harvey Z. Klein of 121 Buchanan Drive praising Fire Chief Charles E. Masten and his crew for administering resuscitation to his daughter, which he said had averted a tragic situation.

INTERIM ZONING — Set for April 18 at 8 p.m. hearing on extension for one year of an interim zoning ordinance regulating land use in the central waterfront area.

MARINSHIP LOT SPLIT — Voted 4-1, with Jan Paul Dyk dissenting, to grant Robert H. Greene a lot split in the Marinship area, although the Marinship general plan shows a road through the parcel.

GAZEBO CLEANING — Approved a cleanup of the Gazebo on Bridgeway by William Hislop three times a week at a cost of $12 a month.

SLIDE EXPENSES—Received a report from Patterson that city hall is not in danger of being damaged by further earth slides from a hill at the rear of the building, and a recommendation that the city should not spend any further funds for soils engineering work.

HELIPORT EXPANSION — Took no stand after hearing of plans by Commodore Properties to construct a passenger terminal, restaurant and motel in conjunction with the existing heliport, north of the city.

CLAIM DENIED — Denied a claim by Mrs. Berry J. Lippincott of 396 Pine Hill Road, Mill Valley, for $197 damages to her personal property, which she alleged was result of flooding at a garage at 606 Easterby Street, where the property was stored last November.

TRUCK REPAIR — Authorized transfer of $970 from the unallocated reserves to pay for repair of the city's water tank truck.

HAZARDOUS INTERSECTION — Referred to Patterson and Public Works Director Norman Wohlschlaeger a request from Rev. John H. Thornton, rector of Christ Church, to include funds in the fiscal 1968 budget for redesign of the "hazardous" intersection at San Carlos and Santa Rosa avenues.

MEET NEXT WEEK — Adjurned to a meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday, with a trip to inspect the proposed Main Street widening site scheduled meanwhile.

It's Navy Training For Six Marinites

Six men from Marin County are undergoing recruit training at the Naval Train Center in San Diego following enlistment at the San Rafael recruiting office.

They are: Thomas J. Anderson, 19, of 40 Monterey Avenue, San Anselmo; Ennis O. Bowie, 20, of 710 Drake Avenue, Marin City; Robert H. Sheeks, 19, of 328 San Rafael Avenue, Belvedere; Richard D. Standard, 20, of 29 Warner Court, San Rafael; Elton J. Wilkins, 20, of 50 Eames Court and John T. Zuffinetti, 19, of 32 Washington Street, both of Novato.

Toastmasters Slate Installation Dinner

Chester J. Lowney of 400 Calle de la Mesa, Ignacio, will be installed as president of Tamalpais Toastmasters Club at the annual installation dinner at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito.

Other new officers will be Steve Liggett of 49 Ridgewood Drive, San Rafael, educational vice president; Ralph Cairns of Cotati, administrative vice president; Hayden Shuey of 4 Rock Road, Kentfield, secretary, and Robert R. Greer of 9 Los Cedros Road, Novato, sergeant at arms.

Parks, Tree Budget On Agenda Tonight

Proposed budget for parks and for street trees and parkways will be considered at 8 p.m. today by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission in City Hall.

Improved lighting in Albert Park also is slated for discussion.

Two Named To Sausalito Plans Board

Theodore Boutmy and Murray Smith were appointed to the Sausalito Planning Commission last night by Mayor Mel Wax.

Boutmy, president of the Sausalito Citizens Council and chairman of the city community appearances advisory board, was appointed to a four-year term.

Smith, of 406 Main Street, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of John A. Sweeney which expires Jan. 1, 1970.

Mayor Wax also appointed Ransom S. Cook of 615 Sausalito Boulevard, an attorney, to the library board, and Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin as the council's representative on the underground utilities committee.

Pollution Report Due For Medical Society

The Marin Medical Society will hear a report on progress in combatting air and water pollution when it meets Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Meadow Club in Fairfax.

Speaker will be Frank Stead, recently retired chief of the State Department of Public Health's division of environmental sanitation.

MARK T. KELLEY
Died on active duty

San Anselmo Airman Dies In Accident

Naval Airman Mark Tracy Kelley of San Anselmo has been fataly injured in an accident of Guam, his parents learned by telegram yesterday.

The accident happened Monday, said his father, Donald G. Kelley of 2 Yolanda Drive. Airman Kelley was operating a crane which was lifting a boat when it fell over on him. He died from his injuries.

Kelley, who was 22, had been married three months. He and his bride, the former Kathryn Suzanne Fagan, were married at St. Anselm's Church Jan 7.

A graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, Kelley had been in the Navy nearly four years.

His mother, Mrs. Marion Kelley, is executive director of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin. Mark was their only son. They have a teen-age daughter, Barbara.

No final arrangements had been made yesterday for the funeral. Mrs. Mark Kelley is staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Fagan of San Anselmo.

Ex-Mayor Honored By Phone Group

Former Larkspur Mayor George Leftwich has been elected regional vice president of the Telephone Pioneers of America, comprising telephone industry workers with at least 21 years' service.

In his new post, Leftwich will serve as liaison between the national organization and chapters in California, Nevada and the northwest.

Leftwich, an employee of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. for 38 years, lives at 202 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur.

U.S. Fire Death Rate Is Highest

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — No other major nation in the world has a per capita death rate from fires as high as the United States.

This was reported to a Senate subcommittee yesterday by J. Herbert Holloman, acting undersecretary of commerce.

The U.S. rate, Holloman said, is six and a half times that of Japan, for instance. It is twice that of Canada and four times that of the United Kingdom, he said.

Holloman testified in favor of the fire research and safety act proposed by President Johnson.

Fast Talker Works Short Change Trick

A fast-talking young man in a near-new Cadillac flim-flammed a San Rafael service station attendant out of $35, more or less, Sunday, police reported yesterday.

The attendant, Jon Caulkett of 98 San Marino Drive, told police the man bought four batteries, then began a quick patter and bill-shuffling routine. After a series of swaps the man drove away and the attendant figured out he was short approximately $35.

Supervisors Tighten County Sign Policy

Marin County supervisors yesterday voted 4-0 to amend the county sign ordinance to ban rooftop and flashing signs in commercial areas of the county's unincorporated portions.

Supervisor John McInnis, attending a conference on regional government in Washington D.C., was absent.

The ordinance amendment, to take effect in 30 days, bans signs on top of buildings and jutting from the sides of buildings. It limits sign area to one square foot for each linear foot of the wall on which the sign is displayed, and bans blinker, flashing, reflective materials and moving parts.

County Planning Dir. Paul C. Zucker said the ordinance was prepared with assistance from the sign industry. He also told supervisors that the sign regulations would be further refined when the entire zoning ordinance is overhauled.

Yesterday's changes did not treat political signs, which Zucker said several months ago he was unable to control because of confusion in the sign ordinance.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

GRAND JURY — Approved Chairman Thomas T. Storer's six-page reply to the 1966 Grand Jury report, a reply required by law.

NEW EMPLOYEES — Hired Mary H. Grigg at $325 as halftime psychiatric social worker in Community Mental Health; Gary Pagano at $562 as social worker in the Welfare Department; Margaret C. Shimm at $347 as three-fourths time cook at the children's center; Constance P. Starbird at $640 as teacher at the children's center, and Diane R. Chamberlin at $316 as part-time library aide.

DRAINAGE — Awarded $2,350 contract to Holtzinger Brothers of Corte Madera, low bidder on installation of drainage facilities on the Civic Center property.

COMMISSIONERS'S PAY — Received a letter from Margaret Lucas, chairman of the county personnel commission, saying she agreed with commissioner Victor P. Reed in opposing pay for commission members as suggested by the Marin County Employees Association.

CLAIM — Denied the $200 claim of Mrs. E. R. Soulie of 187 Whittier Avenue, Santa Venetia, who said planting in her yard was damaged by roots of county poplar trees.

APPOINTMENTS — Re-appointed Hugh Dougherty to a four-year term on the county planning commission and named Mrs. R. S. O'Connor of Mill Valley to the ad hoc committee on fairground management.

DEDICATION — Voted 4-0 to require 20-foot dedication along Shoreline Highway and five feet along Panoramic Highway from the developer of the Diaz Ranch west of Mill Valley.

$230 Fine Given On Drunken Driving

Charles Russell Jones, 33, of Paradise, Butte County, was fined $230 and placed on six months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. Sausalito police arrested him last Friday on South Street.

Paul Earl Wilson, 18, of Stockton, was fined $87 and placed on six months probation for drunken driving. California Highway Patrol arrested him in Stinson Beach on Feb. 26.

New Policy On 'Junker' Autos

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate passed to the Assembly yesterday, 28-0, a bill to end the seizure of autos used in unlawful transportation of narcotics and drug users.

Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez, the sponsor, said the state used to get most of its cars in this fashion.

But present law entitles the state only to the owner's equity in the vehicle. In practice, Miller said, newer cars go back to the dealer or finance company because they're not paid for.

And the state winds up with big towing bills and "junker" autos, Miller said.

The present arrangement, Miller said, "just means we're a towing company for the finance companies . . ."

Flournoy Blames Tax Hike On Brown's 'Expedients'

California's current fiscal problems resulted from the "year-by-year, expedient solutions" of the previous Administration, Controller Houston I. Flournoy declared yesterday at a San Rafael Chamber of Commerce luncheon at Peacock Gap.

This merely postponed "the day of reckoning," and the new administration had no alternative but to increase taxes to meet the financial crisis, Flournoy said. "The governor's program appears reasonable and sound," he contended.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, introduced Flournoy.

About 150 businessmen attended the luncheon, which was a kickoff for the Chamber of Commerce's "Mission to Progress" program.

Clifford S. Lund, president of the chamber, urged San Rafael merchants to participate actively in the Mission to Progress program.

Plea Slated Today

Theon Phillip Scordeles, 21, was to enter plea today in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of marijuana possession.

Scordeles, a transient who gave San Francisco as his address, is accused of having a small amount of manicured marijuana when San Rafael police halted his car Sunday for an equipment violation.

Lawmakers Move To Force Gate Span Loan Repayment

An Assembly committee has endorsed a bill to force the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to pay off a 1945 state loan.

The bill, by Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, would require the district to immediately pay the $5 million loan, although the due date is not until 1971. It received a "do pass" recommendation from the Assembly Transportation and Commerce Committee yesterday.

The money was lent to the district by the state in 1945 to finance improvements to the bridge approaches. Meanwhile, the district has accumulated large surpluses.

Bridge District Director Stephen C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco, who alone among the 14 directors advocates immediate repayment, urged passage of the bill. Leonoudakis said payment now would save the district considerable interest charges. He noted the district has about $28 million in reserves and takes in about $3.5 million annually.

The 13 other bridge district directors all opposed immediate payment. Director Lowell Edington of Napa argued the bill constitutes a "serious intrusion of home rule" and claimed it would upset the district's investment program.

The state loan is only part of the bridge district indebtedness coming due in 1971. That is also the year when the last payment on the $37 million bond issue that built the span in 1937 will be due. However, the bonds cannot be paid off in advance to save interest charges, under the terms of the issue. When they are retired, the district could be dissolved and the bridge taken over by the state — unless the district meanwhile has involved itself in the public transportation business or in building another bridge to acquire new indebtedness.

School Block A Big Problem

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — School difficulties are childhood's chief occupational hazard, a panel of children's doctors concluded today. And they called school "compulsory labor."

Panelists at the American Academy of Pediatrics spring session agreed physicians should recognize and help prevent and minimize childhood learning problems.

The child's success or failure during his 10 to 12 years of compulsory labor in school can have tremendous consequences for his self image as an adult and for his feeling of worth as a citizen in our culture, they said.

This was the final day of the three-day meeting.

Miller's 'Salesman' To Be Staged By ACT

SAN FRANCISCO — Arthur Miller's Pulitzer Prize drama, "Death of a Salesman," will receive a local production by the American Conservatory Theater on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the Geary Theater.

Willy Loman, the salesman whose life is chronicled on the day he finds he can no longer sell, is played by Richard A. Dysart, whose performance of the role at Stanford University last summer was called a "superlatively definitive portrayal" which "runs the full range of tenderness, cruelty, humor and depression."

Carol Teitel will play Linda Loman. The play was directed by Allan Fletcher, artistic director of the Seattle Repertory Company.

Substitute Teachers Preparing Boycotts If Raise Plea Spurned

Marin County Substitute Teachers Association took its first step last night toward a strike for higher wages amid complaints that substitutes had received no increase since 1960.

Indicating a strategy of knocking over one district at a time, Mrs. James Sullivan, association president, said the organization voted to poll the county's substitutes, estimated between 380 and 400 teachers, on "support for a boycott of selected districts."

Mrs. Sullivan said there was "sharp reaction and concern" at last night's association meeting at the county schools office in Corte Madera "about the apparent unwillingness of so many districts to respond to a request for boosts in substitutes' wages."

Only five districts, she said, had responded to appearances before them, or to a Feb. 1 Letter from the association, which claims 150 members.

Sausalito School District, Mrs. Sullivan said, has promised to consider the request. Larkspur School District has promised to try to increase the $20 a day it pays to $22.50, the county average, she said.

The San Rafael schools administrations has said it contemplates no increase, but has granted the association five minutes to speak at the April 11 board of education meeting. Tamalpais High School District has requested a written proposal and a meeting between the association and the school administration. Dixie School District has scheduled a hearing at its April 12 board meeting.

Mrs. Sullivan said the association has adopted a formula whereby each district would pay substitutes daily 1/175th of the minimum fulltime annual Salary of a beginning teacher. The formula is based on the state requirement of a minimum of 175 teaching days a year in any district.

Mrs. Lorraine Barry, association vice president, said the formula, if applied to Tamalpais High School District, would increase substitutes' pay from the present $20 to between $29 and $30 a day. Mrs. Barry said that while substitutes' pay has remained constant since 1960, pay for regular teachers in that district has risen from $24 to $35.50 a day.

Mrs. Sullivan noted that the substitutes' request includes "no such fringe benefits as tenure, retirement or sick pay, or anything else."

Representatives of the California Teachers Association and the California Federation of Teachers attended last night's meeting, she said.

Scientists Ready To Loft Moonlet That Will Grow

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—A versatile new satellite that will grow 123-foot "arms" in space was repaired and mounted on its rocket early today to clear the way for launch tonight.

The U.S. space agency said the Applications Technology Satellite (ATS), originally scheduled to be rocketed aloft last night, was aiming toward a blastoff at 9:39 p.m. EST.

The original launch attempt was called off late Monday when engineers noted that two timing devices aboard the 815-pound satellite had been prematurely turned on. To correct the trouble, technicians removed the craft from the nose of its Atlas-Agena booster.

The spacecraft, shaped like a drum 6 feet tall and 5 feet wide, is the second of five in the ATS series designed to try out new techniques and equipment to put space science to work for the man in the street.

U.C. Faculty Union Opposed

BERKELEY (AP) — A committee of University of California professors opposes formation of a powerful faculty union, saying it "would be bought at too high a price. . ."

The Berkeley campus Academic Senate's Committee of University Welfare made its report yesterday after four months of investigation. The report had been requested on Dec. 8 following a classroom boycott by some students and a strike by some teaching assistants.

"A faculty union with sufficiently large membership, affiliated or not, implies a bargaining process in which final resort may be had to such coercive measures as strikes," said the report, which will be given to the Academic Senate next Tuesday.

Smuggling Charge Draws Innocent Plea

Gerald R. Walter, 24, former San Quentin Prison guard, yesterday pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to three charges of smuggling weapons and drugs into the prison.

Judge Hadden W. Roth scheduled preliminary hearing for 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Walter, held in county jail in lieu of $5,500 bail, allegedly took a pistol, 67 rounds of ammunition, a hunting knife, and 45 Wyomine inhaler tubes into the prison while employed there.

Eel River Unit Favors Export Idea

Multi-purpose projects combining flood control and export of Northern California surplus waters to the Colorado River Basin have been recommended to the federal government by the Eel River Flood Control and Water Conservation Association.

The recommendation was made by the association's executive committee in a telegram read yesterday at a hearing by a subcommittee of the House Interior Committee on various proposals to augment Colorado River Basin water supplies.

The proposal of the Eel River group was approved March 21 by unanimous vote of the eight-member executive committee representing Marin, Yolo, Solano, Napa, Sonoma, Mendocino, Lake, Humboldt, Trinity, Contra Costa and Del Norte counties.

Jerome Gilbert, general manager of the North Marin Water District represents Marin on the executive committee.

Fire Budget Talks

The San Rafael Fire Commission will review the proposed fiscal 1968 fire department budget at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Room 201, San Rafael City Hall.

World War I Veterans Look Back 50 Years

Fifty years ago tomorrow the United States entered World War I and doughboys soon were on their way to Europe to fight the war supposed to end all wars.

Tomorrow, in remembrance of that day, Marin County former doughboys, members of Marin Barracks 550, Veterans of World War I, will lunch together at noon at the San Rafael Recreation Center, Second and Brooks streets.

"Fifty years, but it's only a memory away for men like our members," said Carl Meldau of 140 Hawthorne Avenue, Larkspur, who is taking reservations for the lunch, open to all eligible veterans and their wives.

On April 2, 1917, President Woodrow Wilson asked Congress to declare war on Germany. "The day has come when America is privileged to spend her blood and her might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and the peace which she has treasured," he said.

Voting in the House ended at 3:12 a.m. April 6. The United States had entered the great war.

The country was almost totally unprepared. It would be October before American troops could fire a ceremonial first shot at the Germans; November before the first Americans would die in battle.

Before the end there would be more than two million Americans overseas, more than 325,000 casualties, including 116,516 dead.

Diners Will Hear Justice Mosk

California Supreme Court Justice Stanley Mosk will be guest speaker at the Jewish Welfare Federation's Marin County campaign dinner on April 15 at the Peacock Gap Country Club.

The Marin dinner, a fund raising event, will be preceded by a reception at 7:30 p.m. and followed by dancing until 2 a.m.

Marin campaign division chairman is Peter F. Sloss, with vice chairmen Frederick S. Mayer, Lawrence A. Mayer, and Russell Shatz. Co-chairmen of the dinner-dance arrangements committee are Frederick S. Mayer and Mrs. Bernard Blumberg.

Better Commute On Board Agenda

Directors of the Marin County Transit District tonight will try to decide on a program for improving commuter transportation.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center.

Also on the agenda are a report on the district fiscal staff and directions on preparation of the budget for next fiscal year.

Johnson, Kennedy Clashing Again—Campaign Fund Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy again are clashing — this time over the White House-backed presidential election campaign financing law.

Kennedy called yesterday for repeal of the law enacted by Congress last year, saying it would give "massive amounts of funds in a dangerous and unrestricted way to the national leadership of the two major political parties."

Although the New York Democrat named no names, his remarks seemed directed at least partially at Johnson — particularly since Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said yesterday the White House "was calling all over the United States during the Easter recess" seeking votes to prevent repeal of the plan. Johnson had endorsed the the plan last year.

The current law would provide up to $30 million to each major political party in 1968, with the money coming from income tax payments. It allows each taxpayer specifically to allot $1 of his income levy to a fund to be split between the parties.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., author of the measure, has suggested amending it this year to eliminate the taxpayer "check-off" system and substitute direct $30-million federal appropriations to the major parties.

But Gore is leading a drive to repeal the measure altogether.

He is trying to tack his repealer amendment onto a bill restoring tax brakes to business.

Kennedy, attacking Long's proposed amendment as "a monster," said "it could lead to destruction of our local political parties and their domination from Washington."

He suggested national leaders could withhold funds generated by the measure from states whose leadership refused to deliver delegates at the national conventions.

Long insisted that anyone using the tactics Kennedy feared "would end up in the penitentiary."

Further spotlighting Kennedy's clash with the administration was a letter to Long urging defeat of Gore's move and signed by Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler.

As the Senate headed for a possible showdown today on the campaign financing issue, the House Foreign Affairs Committee opened its hearings on Johnson's request for $3.1 billion in foreign aid for the year beginning July 1.

Some committee members predicted the President's aid package — a controversial item any year — would get a particularly rough going-over from this year's economy-minded Congress.

Johnson's hopes for a congressional resolution pledging future U.S. aid to Latin America remained in precarious shape in the Senate, with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and Sen. Long suggesting it might be wise to sidetrack the measure.

$5,000 Award In Banker's Case

LOS ANGELES (AP — Mrs. Doris Burton of Fontana will received a $5,000 reward for spotting a missing banker accused of stealing more than $500,000.

Security First National Bank, which employed Roger Williams as an assistant manager in its Fontana branch before he and the money disappeared last July, announced the reward yesterday.

Mrs. Burton, 37, was visiting a Las Vegas, Nev., casino last Thursday when she recognized Williams. She notified a security guard who called the police. Williams was charged with bank larceny.

NOURISHING HAM and bean soup combining lima beans, ham chunks, carrots, onion and parsley will be served at the Marin County Antiques Show and Sale to be held April 20 to 23. Previewing are recipe are Mesdames Ehrling Carlson, left, and Bruce Wrisley, kitchen chairmen. (Independent-Journal photo)

Antiques Show's Soup Suppers Planned For Family On-The-Go

A thick, homemade nourishing soup that is a meal in itself when accompanied by rolls or a salad is the answer to a homemaker's query of "what to serve quickly to a hungry family just returning from a swimming meet and on the way to a meeting."

The following two recipes are being featured at the Marin County Antiques Show and Sale, April 20-23, at the IDESST Hall in Sausalito as the menu for both luncheon and dinner. Because they may be frozen weeks beforehand and are nourishing as well as tasty, these soups are known as "Souper Suppers" on the Antiques Show menus.

According to Mrs. Earl R. Reinke, chairman of the four day event, sponsored by the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley, and now in its fifteenth year, the "Souper Suppers" were designed to appeal to visitors who wished a nourishing meal without choosing between a sandwich or a full course dinner. Both are simple to prepare.

LENTIL SOUP

1 lb. dried lentils (soaked overnight)
2 quarts water
5 beef boullion cubes
1 onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1 to 3 chopped carrots
2 to 3 sliced carrots
1 sliced onion
1 can tomato soup
2 cups chopped celery parsley to taste (optional)
salt to taste
6 to 8 peppercorns

Place all ingredients in a heavy cooking vessel with water to cover. Cook slowly, on low heat, 4 hours or longer. More water may be added if needed. Serves 6 to 8.

HAM AND BEAN SOUP

2 cups dried lima beans (soaked overnight and washed)
1½ cups ham chunks (off of ham hock)
1 to 3 stalks celery, chopped
¼ tsp. dried mustard
salt and pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients in a large vessel and cook until tender, usually one to two hours. Serves 6 to 8.

A selection of three soups will be offered to visitors at the Marin County Antiques Show and Sale, the above two and a Minestrone soup, Mrs. Reinke said. All have been prepared in the kitchens of church members and frozen for use during the four day show.

A TASTY SANDWICH

Pantryshelf shrimp is used for a flavorsome sandwich.

Savory Shrimp Sandwiches
Celery and Carrot Sticks
Fruit and Cookies Beverage

SAVORY SHRIMP SANDWICHES

1 can (4½ ounces) deveined shrimp, drained and rinsed and chopped
3 tablespoons minced green pepper
2 tablespoons minced shallot or green onion (scallion)
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon chili sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
4 slices buttered bread
Minced parsley

Thoroughly mix together all the ingredients except the bread and parsley. Spread the shrimp mixture on the bread to make open sandwiches; sprinkle with parsley. Makes 2 to 4 servings.

KANSAS WINNER

Muffin Mix Buffet Bread

$25,000 Grand Prize Winner in Pillsbury's 18th Busy Lady Bake-Off by Mrs. Maxine Bullock, Topeka, Kan. Adapted by Ann Pillsbury.

MUFFIN MIX BUFFET BREAD

2 packages active dry yeast
¾ cup warm water
3½ to 4 cups Best Flour (All Purpose, Instant Blending or Self-Rising)
9½-ounce package Golden Corn Muffin Mix*
10¾-ounce can cream of vegetable soup
¾ cup butter, melted

Oven 375 degrees. Yield: 2 Break-away Loaves.

Soften yeast in warm water in large mixing bowl. Stir in 2 cups flour; muffin mix, reserving 2 tablespoons for topping; soup and ¼ cup melted butter. Gradually stir in remaining flour to form a stiff dough. Knead on floured surface until smooth, about 1 minute. Cover; let rest 15 minutes.

Divide dough into 2 parts. Roll each portion of dough or floured surface to a 10x6-inch rectangle. Cut each portion crosswise into ten strips 1 inch wide. Roll strips in remaining ½ cup melted butter. Place 10 strips in a row in a greased 10x6-inch pan; repeat with remaining dough. Sprinkle each loaf with reserved muffin mix. Cover; let rise in warm place for 30 minutes. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Remove from pans immediately.

*Two cups Corn Bread Mix or other corn muffin mixes may be substituted.

Tip: If desired, half of dough may be shaped into a loaf. Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with 1 tablespoon reserved muffin mix. Place on greased cookie sheet. Cover; let rise for 30 minutes. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes.

Netted Lamb Roast A New Way To Process Family Favorite

As traditional as lamb has been with families for hundreds of years, one would think there were no new preparation ideas left. But, leave it up to the American Lamb Council to come up with a clever, unique way to process this long-time favorite. It's called a netted roast. This recipe uses a leg of lamb, but a shoulder of lamb works just as well.

The new process takes boned roast, sprinkles a powedered egg white binder onto the meat, then rolls it and encases it in a marvelous netting product that holds the meat firmly together during cooking. Just prior to serving, the net is removed — easily and quickly —and . . . Presto! . . . a perfect lamb roast. No waste, easy to slice, easy to decide how much each member of the family should have.

This leg roast has been garnished — about 40 minutes before it's fully cooked — with a scrumptious mixture of mushrooms, onions and chopped apples. Nutmeg is sprinkled about for added zest and the roast returned to the oven.

Here is an Old-World flavor in a new world setting. Modern techniques give the homemaker a quick and convenient way to serve an old family favorite. The American Lamb Council suggests that there are abundant supplies of lamb at the market right now, and the new netted roast is leading the parade.

Try it tonight! You, too, can wear a hero medal!

APPLE-MUSHROOM NETTED LEG OF LAMB

(Makes 10-12 servings)

1 boneless leg of lamb in netting
Salt and pepper
½ cup butter or margarine
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt
2 cans (3 ounces each) sliced, broiled mushrooms
2 medium-sized onions, sliced
2 large red apples, cored and chopped

Place lamb fat side up on rack in open roasting pan. Sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste. Roast in 325 degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes per pound or until meat thermometer registers 175 to 180 degrees (depending upon desired degree of doneness).

Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine and add nutmeg and salt. About 40 minutes before end of roasting time drain off drippings from roast and remove rack. Arrange undrained mushrooms, onions and apples around lamb. Brush with some of butter or margarine mixture. Continue roasting until done, brushing mushrooms, onions and apples with butter or margarine mixture frequently.

When roast is done remove from oven and let "set" 10 minutes. Remove netting by slitting carefully along top of roast and peeling down. Serve lamb with mushroom mixture.

LEADING THE parade at the market is the new netted lamb roast. This old family favorite is smothered in mushrooms, onions and apples. Nutmeg is sprinkled about for added zest not to mention taste and aroma. This recipe uses a leg of lamb, but a shoulder of lamb works just as well.

Catherine L. Remington Weds In Swedenborgian Ceremony

Swedenborgian Church in San Francisco was the setting for the wedding of Catherine L. Remington and David B. Geeting, both of San Francisco. Catherine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Remington of Fairfax.

The Rev. Othmar Tobisch officiated at the April 1 ceremony, for which the bride wore a white wool embroidered net cage over white satin dress.

Bettie Wagstaff of San Franicsco was maid of honor, wearing a light blue crepe dress. Daniel M. Geeting of Los Angeles served as best man for his brother. Another brother, Gregory Geeting of Sacramento, and the bride's brother, James Remington, were the ushers.

A reception was given at the Presidio of San Francisco and following a wedding trip to Mexico the couple will return to live in the city.

Mr. and Hrs. Baxter M. Geeting of Sacramento are his parents. David is a graduate of Stanford University, where he also received a master's degree, and is a freelance production assistant.

Dorothy Paul Becomes Bride Of Toby Tatum

Dorothy Paul and Toby Tatum were united in marriage at the First Methodist Chapel in Santa Rosa. The Rev. Kenneth A. Edmonds performed the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Pauline Paul of Novato and David Paul, was given in marriage by her uncle, Byron Casady. She wore a gown of white lace over satin. She was attended by her sister, Diana Paul.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Tatum of Santa Rosa. His best man was his brother, Thomas Cecil Tatum.

Toby attended Santa Rosa Junior College and is employed as proprietor of "Sizzler" in Santa Rosa.

'A Bouquet Of Fashions' Rodef Sholom Show Theme

Commentator Mrs. Davis Lapidus will describe styles to be modeled by Mesdames Albert Goldberg, Jonas Faitelson, Lawrence Levine, Howard Kastle, Robert Slate, Dennis Saxson, Warren Logan and Leon Wollenberg.

Children's fashions will be modeled by Charles Mayer, Karen Hurlihy, Jeff Katz, Rachel Melnick, Linda Cypers, Michael Froman, Victoria Lind and Mark Winton, sons and daughters of members.

In charge of reservations are Mesdames Mel Berman and Abe Froman.

Lt. William Arntz To Claim Bride In June 17 Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. William Depner of Hinsdale, Ill., have announced plans for the wedding of their daughter, Willa Lynne, of San Francisco, to Lt. William Charles Arntz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. Arntz of Corte Madera.

Willa received her bachelor of science degree in nursing from University of San Francisco in 1966. She is now working as a staff nurse at University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

The wedding will take place on June 17, in Saint Patrick's Catholic Church in Larkspur. Edmond J. Smyth, S.J., dean of the Colleges of Arts and Sciences at University of San Francisco, will officiate.

Chuck is a 1964 graduate of University of San Francisco. He is now attending law school there and will receive his degree this June. After he completes the bar examination, the couple will depart on a delayed honeymoon, driving through Canada to Indiana where Lt. Arntz will be on active duty in the Army.

Far East Feast Is Planned By Mill Valley Church Unit

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Mill Valley Methodist Church is planning a "Feast in the Far East" dinner and program on April 14.

The event will take place at 6:30 p.m. in the social hall of the church and food, decorations and dress will be Oriental.

Guest speaker will be Dr. John Milton Kelly, former professor of music at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo and director of the Marin Chorale. With his presentation of "Christianity in the Land of Buddha" he will show slides of people and places of interest.

Minister of music at the First Presbyterian Church in Berkeley, he and Mrs. Kelly are living in Oakland. They recently returned from Thailand, where Dr. Kelly served four years as music consultant for southeast Asia under the commission of ecumenical mission of the Presbyterian Church.

The Kellys' work was developing programs and music for worship and education in the schools and churches. While in Bangkok they edited two hymnals, one for the East Asian Christian Council of Churches and one for the Church of Christ in Thailand, the latter a youth hymnal. In both they used as many indigenous hymns as they could find.

Assisting chairman Mrs. J. E. Christian are Mesdames Earl Linman, food; John Beck, decorations; Stanley Gallager, tickets and Charles Henson, publicity.

Tickets may be purchased by calling the church office in the morning or from Mrs. H. R. Mefford.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship is sponsoring a hot dog bar for youngsters not wishing to eat with their parents.

BUSY WITH PREPARATIONS and decor for the Mill Valley Methodist Church's "Feast in the Far East" on April 14 are several members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Wearing Oriental costumes, from left, are Mrs. John Beck, adjusting the robe of a Japanese doll, and Mesdames Charles E. Henson and J. E. Christian. Mrs. Christian, chairman for the event, is holding a wall hanging showing a stylized version of a samisen, a banjo-like Japanese musical instrument. The Oriental mementos are from a collection acquired by the Becks when they lived in Japan.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Now That Your Five Year Plan Is Shot Down, Stop Punishing Self'

DEAR HELEN:

I've been going with this wonderful man for 17 months. We're 21 and 22. I want more than anything to be a good wife to him and mother of his children. We have a five-year-plan — we'd get our living done and careers organized, then marry.

Well, I had to ruin everything. We tried to restrain ourselves, but couldn't. Now I am pregnant.

My fiance wants to marry me right away, but I couldn't start a marriage under a cloud. I told him I'd have the baby in a home for unwed mothers, give it up, and we'd then be free to marry when we wanted to, not when we HAD to.

He says I am stupid and ridiculous, and adds, "I will marry you because I love you, so why make both of us suffer?" But before I got pregnant, he was all for the five-year plan. How can I really believe he's changed?

I think people have to learn how to live together before they learn to live with a child, and I'm afraid we're too immature.

There's only one catch: I don't think I could really give the baby up for keeps. Is it possible that if I let someone else have the baby, we could have it back in a few years, when we get married? — SINGLE

DEAR SINGLE:

Seems to me you're either terribly noble or thoughtlessly selfish — and I'd guess both! You aren't thinking of the one person who will lose most by this "five-year-plan" — your baby.

Yes, it is sometimes possible to place a child in an orphanage or foster home, if the parents are temporarily unable to care for him — but think: you're depriving him of a mother and father through the most formative years of his life. How could anyone be so cruel — when marriage offers real love with only a few inconveniences? How could you ever explain to your child that you "put him away" until you were ready for him?

I'd say your fiance is much more mature than you are, but perhaps he'll teach you. Give him a chance. And stop punishing yourself with that phony "It's all my fault" line. He knows better!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

This hokum about wives who can't stand their husbands playing around while they're out of town — why don't they just shut their eyes and enjoy what they've got — a good house, half the paycheck and a husband that's discreet? While I'm in my hometown, I'm married. But when I'm out of town on business, my wife's married. That says it all.—LIVING IT UP

DEAR LIU:

Are you sure you're wife's "married" when you're out of town? Or don't you care?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My 12-year-old seventh-grade daughter has just asked permission to go to a boys' fraternity party. The boys are ages 13 and 14. There are also sororities in her junior high school. "Rushing" occurs during seventh grade, with acceptance in the eighth grade. Dues are $10 a quarter or $30 a year.

As for the party, it will be chaperoned, the girls aren't "dating," but will only meet the boys there. We will probably let our daughter go, but this brings up the question, if she is rushed for a sorority, should we cave in? What do you and other parents think of junior high fraternities and sororities — with fancy parties, fancy dues and far too grownup attitudes? — MOTHER OF A 12-YEAR-OLD

DEAR MOTHER:

I think junior high school sororities and fraternities are for the bird-brained parents who put social prestige before good sense; and if such sprouted in our daughter's junior high, I'd campaign against them with all my might!—H.

Joseph Fenech Jr. Claims Joan Carol Veroba As Bride

Joseph Fenech Jr. of San Francisco claimed Joan Carol Veroba as his bride in a double ring ceremony in Carson City, Nev.

Joan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Veroba of Novato wore a short A-line gown of white moire. Helen Ness of San Francisco was her only attendant wearing a rose silk ensemble.

Ballet Aquacade Officer Is Active Clubwoman

The new president of the Marin Ballet Aquacade this year is Mrs. Monte Ambinder of Greenbrae. A six-year member of the organization, she is also active in St. Sebastian's Women's Club, Greenbrae Guild of Sunny Hills, Greenbrae Parent-Teacher Association and has served as a Girl Scout leader.

Terry Ambinder and her husband, a shoe store owner, are parents of a 13-year-old daughter, Mary Lou, and the family has lived in Marin for 10 years. Working for charitable organizations, especially thise for children, is a main interest of Mrs. Ambinder's, but she also enjoys swimming cooking and the decorative arts.

Currently she is working on the Ballet Aquacade's fashion luncheon coming up early this month.

Charles Weidman Master Class Set

Charles Weidman, noted dancer, choreographer and instructor of modern dance, will come to Marin to conduct a master class for teachers, professionals and advanced and intermediate dance students. The class will be held on April 15 at 10 a.m. in the auditorium of Bel Aire School, Belvedere-Tiburon.

Sponsored by the Mill Valley Chapter of the Pacific Dance Guild, the class is open to any interested dancer. Information may be secured from Mrs. T. E. Theiss of Mill Valley, president.

Weidman, a pioneer in modern dance, is head of the Expression of Two Arts Theater in New York City and is a former choreographer for the New York City Center Opera.

New Study Topics To Be Chosen By Novato Branch

The Novato Branch of the American Association of University Women will vote on new study topics for the 1967-69 biennium at the meeting at 8 p.m., Monday at the Hill Junior High School in Novato.

Topics chosen for study by the national board of directors are society's reflection in the arts; the growing gap between the rich and poor nations; testing values in a changing society and politics of public education.

At least one of the new topics will be studied by the Novato Branch.

Election for the offices of president, corresponding secretary and recording secretary will also be held.

Mesdames N. D. Kaufman and Donald Wilhelm, will report on current topics, "Red China" and "Law and the Citizen." Other representatives will also give reports.

Ballet Students Win Certificates

Several Marin youngsters were awarded a certificate on passing a ballet examination given by Miss Joy Bury, representative from the Royal Academy of Dancing in London.

The students, pupils of Cecile Preble in San Rafael, were graded on ballet technique, mime, music deportment and character dances associated with ballet.

Receiving certificates were Karen Freitas, Susan Haskell, Rebecca Soladay and Sharlyn Speilman, all of Grade I; Linda Campanella, Maggie Hewitt, Lori Logan, Terri Perrin, Elaine Rys and Jeanne Walker of grade II; Lesa Schnell of grade III; and Brigitte Diraison and Donna Lamke, of grade V.

Red Guards Demand Massive Blood Purge

HONG KONG (UPI)—A Hong Kong newspaper today reported fanatic Red Guards in Canton are proposing the mass execution of Communist Chinese President Liu Shao-chi and his followers.

The youthful followers of Communist Party leader Mao Tse-tung argue the killing of their idol's alleged foes is the easiest method of ending the national purge wracking mainland China, the newspaper said, quoting travelers from the nearby city.

Travelers from Canton also reported demonstrations in the city with marchers shouting such slogans as "Hang Liu."

Canton Radio, heard clearly here, broadcast attacks on Liu, calling him a "phony and a counter-revolutionary."

The newspaper New Life Evening Post reported that an anti-Mao newspaper, crudely printed, had begun appearing in Fukien, Yunan, Kwangtung and Kwangsi Provinces. The paper was reported to carry attacks on Mao, blaming him for bringing disaster to China.

Travelers in Canton said a report there said the paper is a Nationalist Chinese propaganda product.

Meanwhile, analysts here said Teng Hsiao-ping, the gnomelike secretary general of party in Peking, may be Mao's next purge target.

In this China listening post they said there were signs Mao may follow up his mass campaign against Liu with an attack on Teng .

Three Boards Await Bolinas Sewage Study

An interim report on sewerage needs in the Bolinas watershed will be presented Saturday at 10:30 a.m. at Stinson Beach Community Center to directors of Stinson Beach County Water District and Bolinas and Bolinas Beach public utility districts.

Directors of the three districts are to hold hearings later on the study by Brown and Caldwell, San Francisco consulting engineers.

Judge Ponders Powell Seating

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Dist. Court Judge George L. Hart Jr. says he will decide by Friday whether the courts can tell Congress to seat Adam Clayton Powell — but his remarks seemingly offer little encouragement to the Harlem Democrat.

Hart heard oral arguments and offered comments and questions of his own during a preliminary hearing yesterday in Powell's legal bid to regain the House seat he held for 22 years.

The federal judge said his decision would be made public Friday morning, four days before a special election is held to fill the now vacant seat from New York's Harlem district.

Thant Sees Vietnam Peace No Nearer Than Year Ago

GENEVA (UPI)—U.N. Secretary General Thant said today Vietnam peace prospects are no better now than they were a year ago. He said he will continue his quest for negotiations.

Thant, however, refused to label Hanoi's outright rejection of his latest peace proposals, including an immediate hold-fast ceasefire as the first step.

"I don't think it would be proper for me to pass any judgment on the reaction of one of the parties concerned," he told a luncheon of the Geneva Foreign Press Association.

"But the prospects for peace (in Vietnam) according to my personal assessments are as distant today as they were a year ago."

Thant warned that "increasing intensification" of the Vietnam war means an ever greater threat of "a larger war."

He came to Geneva to meet with heads of United Nations specialized agencies.

After Geneva, Thant will visit the leaders of a number of Asian countries, including India, Nepal, Afghanistan and Pakistan, for talks on international issues, including Vietnam.

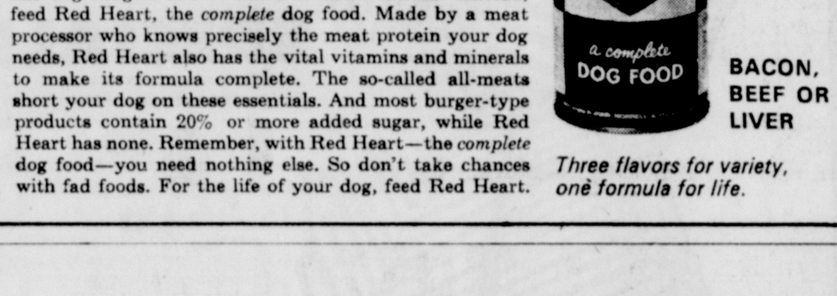
Fads are for people-not dogs

STOP FOOLING AROUND...FEED RED HEART DOG FOOD



SO COMPLETE you don't have to feed your dog anything else

Don't fool with your dog's health by feeding "fad foods" like dog burgers and so-called all-meat rations. Instead, feed Red Heart, the complete dog food. Made by a meat processor who knows precisely the meat protein your dog needs, Red Heart also has the vital vitamins and minerals to make its formula complete. The so-called all-meats short your dog on these essentials. And most burger-type products contain 20% or more added sugar, while Red Heart has none. Remember, with Red Heart—the complete dog food—you need nothing else. So don't take chances with fad foods. For the life of your dog, feed Red Heart.

Agency Asks Marin City Funding Help

Marin County Redevelopment Agency last night asked the Federal National Mortgage Association to extend its $2 million allocation to Marin City to June of 1968, reported Donald O. Stutsman, agency director.

Tight money has stalled redevelopment of Marin City, he said, requiring extension of the allocation, which expires this June. "It is essential," he said, "if California Development Co. is to build an additional 60 single-family homes and to sell eight homes already completed."

Commissioners set a public sale May 2 of 3.7 acres to Marin City Community Services District for it Manzanita Neighborhood Center. Sale price will be $41,000, Stutsman said.

The agency had hoped to sell 5.6 acres, appraised at $60,000, but the federal government disallowed a discount of the sale price to about $30,000, Stutsman said.

Commissioners accepted a $1,850 offer from Cecotti and Sons of Marin to settle a dispute over charges for installation of a water system.

Rock Concert Will Benefit Youth Group

Marin Youth for Action will benefit from a Saturday afternoon concert by rock 'n' roll groups at Mount Tamalpais outdoor theater starting at noon.

The groups will include the Flying Circus, Big Brother and the Holding Company, the Quicksilver Messenger Service, the Sparrow and the Charlatans. Eric Hodgeman will be master of ceremonies.

Assemblyman's Ouster Asked

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Grand Jury is urging the Assembly Rules Committee to consider action to remove Assemblyman Charles W. Meyers, D-San Francisco, from office.

An immediate committee hearing was recommended yesterday in a letter sent by Jury Foreman Norbert L. Lyon to Joe A. Gonsalves, D - Los Angeles, committee chairman.

In Sacramento, Gonsalves said he would turn the letter over to the legislative counsel's office for study.

"Testimony from numerous witnesses disclosed many irregularities in the hiring, performing, and compensation of em - ployees of the assemblyman, paid from state funds by his authorization and direction," Lyon said in his letter.

Pair Escapes Auto Injuries

Two Fort Cronkhite soldiers escaped injury at 4 a.m. today when their car jumped the seawall on Sausalito's Bridgeway and sank in the bay.

The driver, William H. Crank Jr., 22, told police he was driving south in the 400 block of Bridgeway when he swerved to avoid an oncoming car that had crossed into his lane. His passenger was Louis U. Dunlap, 25. Both are specialists fourth class.

They managed to escape from Crank's 1962 Chevrolet Corvair which landed about 30 feet out from the Seawall. The car, recovered with its headlights still on, "received extensive salt water damage," police said.

Union Urged Of Sanitary, Water Groups

The North Marin County Water District should consolidate with the Novato Sanitary District, George A. Amaroli of 11 Rebecca Way, Novato, last night told water district board.

Board members felt any such consolidation should also involve the City of Novato. They were reluctant to take any such action. They told Amaroli that if he wanted to write to the other district and city about such a merger, he should go ahead.

The North Marin County Water District Board also:

METER FAILURE — Learned that the meter measuring Russian River water was inaccurate for three months last year, with Petaluma overcharged between $8,000 and $13,000 and Santa Rosa and the North Marin District undercharged by that amount.

VEHICLE SALE — Approved sale of five old vehicles to the five highest bidders for a total of $1,628.

PRESSURE — Approved including Shields Lane Homes on a new high pressure line if the residents of the area approve.

CHLORINE — Heard a report from attorney Frederick J. Bold Jr. that chlorine companies have pleaded no-contest to federal price fixing charges and that he was conferring with other water districts about filing a suit to recover damages.

Two of every five pedestrians killed or injured in traffic mishaps in 1966 were struck at intersections.

Check Charges Draw Jail Time

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court today gave Robert Allyn Voll, 44, a 90-day county jail term and placed him on three years probation for passing six worthless checks totaling $246 in Corte Madera last March, April and May.

He said the jail term would be lifted, however, if Voll, of Hawaii, voluntarily commits himself to Napa State Hospital for at least that period. Judge Wilson also ordered Voll to make restitution and to take psychiatric Voll, who pleaded guilty Feb. 2 to passing the checks, still faces a charge of passing checks with intent to defraud Myers Shell service station in Mill Valley last Jan. 11-12.

Fairfax Board Bargains On Pay Question

Fairfax School District employees have been asked to revise their requested salary schedule, which calls for a 4 per cent increase plus group health insurance, so that the total increase does not exceed 4 per cent.

Trustees discussed the Fairfax School District's budget and the salary schedule at length last night, said president Harland B. Hennessy, and referred the schedule back to the employees' committee for revision downward. The health insurance would be on a matching basis, with the district and employees both contributing.

Few prospects for trimming the budget were discovered, said Hennessy, and although trustees discussed cutting out teacher aides they decided it should be avoided.

The Fairfax School District also:

WHITE HILL—Rain has slightly delayed site grading on the new school site, which should be constructed within 180 days from yesterday, the day state approval of the $314,000 low bid for the project was received.

FENCING—Maiden Lane Kenadjoining the new school propnels, adjoining the new school property, raised the question of fencing. Trustees talked about installing fences but decided to wait and see whether the district could afford it.

SUPPORT—The board passed a resolution supporting the nomination of John Holm of San Anselmo for a vacant seat on the Marin County Board of Education, stating that currently there is no representative from the Drake High School attendance area on the board.

TEACHER—Susan Anker was hired to teach second grade next term at Deer Park School.

French Classic Next For Series

The French film classic, "Shoot the Piano Player," will be shown at 8 p.m. April 16 at the Unitarian - Universalist Church of Marin, 240 Channing Way, San Rafael.

The comedy gangster-spoof is the third in a series of five programs sponsored by the Marin Jewish Community Center and the church, and will be presented by theater critic Irving Cohen, who will lead a discussion.

The last two programs will be "Big Brother and the Holding Company" plus a light show on May 7, and a program on early theater music by the Goliard Players on June 3. Tickets for all the events are available at the church and the Jewish center.

Contemporary Dances Next In College Concert Series

A program of contemporary dances entitled "Ballet '67" will be performed by members of the San Francisco Ballet Theater under direction of Lew Christensen at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the gymnasium at the College of Marin.

The public performance is a feature of the college's concert-lecture series.

Seventeen members of the ballet company will dance the pick of the ballets—the works that proved most popular and received the widest critical acclaim before standing-room-only audiences at the San Francisco Ballet Theater last season.

Injured In Accident

Karol Deanne Burgon, 21, of 11 Walker Road, Mill Valley, suffered facial bruises and a mild concussion at 8:50 p.m. yesterday when her car ran off the Highway 101 off-ramp to Tiburon Boulevard. She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Diggers Fill In Collegians About Hippie Rules, Goals

By CAROL MARSH

"We want to let every man do his thing, but we don't want to pay for his trip."

That is the soul of the Hippie philosophy as it was presented to College of Marin students yesterday by three representatives of the "Diggers," the group which provides free food, clothing and housing to hippies in the Haight-Ashbury district of San Francisco.

The philosophy expounded by the trio, who identified themselves as Ed Porter, "Tobacco" and Gary, sounded at times ironically like the laissez-faire philosophy once at the roots of the American society from which hippies now want to "drop out."

A man's "thing" may be smoking marijuana, stringing beads, cooking, writing a novel, or composing a symphony. Not paying for his "trip," in terms of Haight-Ashbury life, means that a hippie should not do something which is likely to involve others, like "blowing pot" in a house with others who are not smoking marijuana.

"People are getting tired of a materialistic world involved with automobiles and televisions and getting drunk on weekends. We're more interested in something creative involved with the individual himself," Porter explained.

"The hippie doesn't feel society is going to change, so we feel we have to drop out and start our own society," he said.

In addition to the rule about not using marijuana, narcotics or LSD around others who are not using it, the Diggers have a rule excluding anyone under 18 from their houses, he said. They try to get those under 18 back with their families, he reported.

Aside from those two rules, created in self-defense against a society which has many more rules, the hippies just try to live and let live, they explained.

The Diggers do not take donations of money, they explained. "If a man walks in and sees something we need and gives it to us, that's fine. But if a man tries to give us money, we'll tell him to go down on the street and pass it out to whoever is around. Who's going to take the money? I can't; I'm not in charge. No one is in charge," Porter explained.

Asked whether hippies are involved in war protest, "Tobacco" answered, "If a man wants to drop a bomb and another man wants to stop him, let them hassle."

Porter disagreed. "I think a man should do his thing as long as it doesn't interfere with anyone else," he said.

"LBJ is certainly making the Vietnamese pay for his trip," a woman in the audience commented.

A touch of drama preceded the discussion when two inspectors from the sheriff's department showed up, one carrying a camera. Inspectors Harvey Teague and Charles Prandi said they were there to hear the program. But some of the student organizers objected to the police attention and stopped the Diggers downstairs for about 15 minutes. Eventually Diggers, police and student organizers all turned up. Although the meeting finally started almost an hour behind schedule, the Diggers drew and kept a standing-room-only crowd.

Reagan Orders Medi-Cal Back Claims Paid

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Ronald Reagan administration claimed a major victory over red tape today in the state's bogged down medical aid program.

At the same time, it moved to cool down legislative unrest over cutbacks in mental health care.

Spencer Williams, chief of the Health and Welfare Agency announced the state immediately will pay a backlog of 1.2 million claims stacked up in the office of the California Physicians Service, the state's agent in the Medi-Cal plan for aid to the needy. More than $15 million will be distributed immediately.

Physicians, druggists, dentists hospitals and others who have been awaiting payment — some for almost a year—will receive 97 per cent of the value of their claims, Williams told an Assembly Public Health Committee hearing yesterday.

Williams said the unpaid claims represent 10 per cent of the total received in the program. The other 90 per cent have been paid.

The unpaid claims built up while medical men protested the delays. Questions about eligibility required individual checking that slowed the process.

Williams said he decided to dispense with individual checks and instead, make a random sample of the unpaid claims. The sample showed 97 per cent were eligible.

Using this figure, Williams said the state decided to pay the claims at 97 per cent value—leaving a 3 per cent financial cushion to guard against potentially invalid claims.

Legislators greeted the news with approval. But they still displayed signs of unrest on another issue—the mental health care cutbacks.

About 20 Republican legislators, many of them unhappy about cutbacks in mental hospitals in their districts, met with Reagan yesterday afternoon.

He told them he will delay layoffs of about 400 hospital workers for 60 days.

But Assemblyman Frank Belotti, R - Eureka, told newsmen he is satisfied Reagan is "determined to go through with the program" of eliminating more than 3,700 positions in the Mental Hygiene Department.

Williams, however, held out the hope of modifications.

He said that if future studies show the administration has been wrong about its estimates of declining patient populations in the hospitals, modifications would be made.

Assembly Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan, R - Tracy, who was at the meeting, said he was concerned over the Stockton State Hospital in his district.

Although he wrote of the Suwanee River there is no evidence that Stephen Foster ever saw Florida.

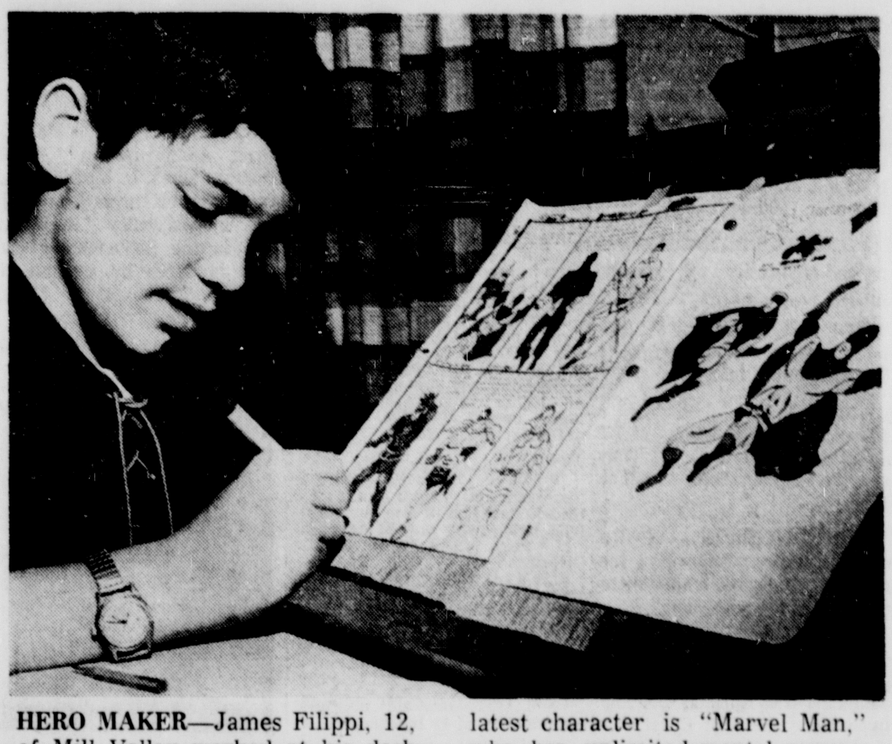
HERE WE COME — Introducing Marvel Man and Marvel Lad, two characters created by James Filippi. In the background are a flying horse and other characters who populate the super hero's home base, Marvel Island.



HERO MAKER—James Filippi, 12, of Mill Valley worked at his desk where he has drawn super hero comic strips since he was nine. His latest character is "Marvel Man," who has unlimited mental powers. (Independent-Journal- photo)

IT'S . . . MARVEL MAN!

12-Year-Old Draws Hero

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Hold hard, Professor! Do you see what I see? Is it a bird? Is it a plane?

No — it's Marvel Man, the brain-child of 12-year-old James Filippi of Mill Valley, who has been drawing his own comic strips as a hobby for three years.

The character he has created combines the alert egos of many major superheroes making the list of American folk idols. A piece of Captain Marvel, huge slices of Batman, Robin and Superman, and a few ounces of Dick Tracy. The result —a sort of Superdickbat Marvel.

Dressed in his red and yellow flying suit, Marvel Man fights crime from an island he discovered in the third picture panel after he was born. He is ably assisted by his orphan cousin, Marvel Lad.

It so happened that Marvel — or Dwain Sonni as he is known to earthbound creatures — was struck by a radioactive meteor, CRACK, VROOM! This gave him unheard of powers every time he put his mind to it.

And with that Einstein intellect and Chuck Connors chin — action is the name of the game

James, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Filippi of 50 Buena Vista Avenue, admits he is inspired by the comics he reads. "But the actual characters I use and their adventures, I think up myself," he said. "It takes about an hour for me to draw and color a picture."

Brother Paul, 14, and sisters, Regina, 10, and Janet, 16, find James at his desk, pen in hand, whenever he can spare time from Boy Scout troop meetings and Little League. He is a pupil of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Parochial School in Mill Valley.

The young super hero fan has created a book full of other characters he calls the Gladiators of Justice comic group.

They include North Wind, who can whistle up a wind strong enough to blow over the Empire State Building, and Invincible Man, indestructible from everything except pure uranium light from the crust of the earth.

"I guess I like super heroes because they're better than science fiction. They are more mental," he said.

"I like drawing but I don't think I would enjoy making a career out of it," he said. His family and friends think he should. James won third prize in a coloring contest at Corte Madera recently.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION Wed., April 5, 1967 25

He Paid Lover $138,000, Bay Builder Says

Joseph M. Walker, Berkeley builder who has accused a Ross woman of extortion, calmly testified in her Marin Superior Court jury trial yesterday that he paid her over $138,000 during a near 10-year period to keep their intimacies a secret.

He said he met the defendant, Mrs. Wille Marie Fritz, 46, of 223 Redwood Drive, in 1956, that she moved from Sacramento to San Francisco, then later to Ross.

In San Francisco one night, he testified, she told him, "I can tell your wife, I can tell your partner, I can ruin your business."

He added, "I realized I had gotten myself into a very bad spot as far as Mrs. Fritz is concerned."

Walker, owner of Walker-Built Homes Inc., Berkeley, said he gave Mrs. Fritz large sums of money, including $6,000 when their affair began. Although the relationship ended in 1962, he gave her $19,225 in 1964, $27,500 in 1965, and $8,700, he said, all before his wife was told of the affair in March of 1966.

Then, he said, he went to Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales and reported the blackmail.

Testimony this morning revolved around notes and letters Mrs. Fritz allegedly wrote Walker. She is accused of three counts of extortion and a fourth of attempted extortion. Trial by a jury of eight women and four men is before Judge Peter Allen Smith, sitting in extra session in the higher court.

Mrs. Fritz is represented by W. O. Weissich, San Rafael attorney. Ernest Zunino, deputy district attorney, is prosecuting.

Rec Board Selects Tennis Court Builder

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission last night recommended the city council award a $14,418 contract to O. C. Jones of Oakland for construction of two double tennis courts on school district property at Park and School streets.

Approval would be pending a check of the contractor's references.

Commissioners nominated Jack Uhte, former member of the Fairfax City Council and school district board, to receive this year's senior citizens award for contributing most to community affairs.

In other business, the commission recommended the school district contribute $820 toward maintenance of the park ballfield and pavilion, set for 8 p.m. April 18 at Red Hill School a meeting with the San Anselmo Park and Recreation Commission on joint use of facilities, and heard a proposal by Nyal D. Worsham, recreation director, for a day camp program for children in grades one to six.

Plans for refurbishing the pavilion were deferred until an architect's advice is obtained. A senior citizens recreation program also was held for further study.

Officer Hitting Arraignment Held

Claude Burdette Burton, 22, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday ona charge that he punched California Highway Patrolman Richard L. Myers in the nose during a Marin City scuffle last Friday. Judge Hadden W. Roth scheduled plea entry for 2 p.m. April 13.

Burton, of 33 Cole Drive, Marin City, is accused of striking the officer after Patrolman Myers asked him to sign a citation for driving a car over the center divider on Donahue Street.

Driver Fair From Accident On Hill

Charles Kelley, 33, of 611 Northern Avenue, Mill Valley, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after being knocked unconscious yesterday when his car hit a truck on Highway 101 at St. Vincent's Hill.

California Highway Patrol reported Kelley's northbound station wagon, going up the hill about 10:35 p.m., hit the rear of a truck-trailer driven by Leonard Earl Farmer, 40, of Sebastopol.

Hub Man Jailed On Army Orders

Sam A. Preston, 24, of 978 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, today began serving 20 days in Marin County jail on a military court order, for refusal to report for duty with the California National Guard.

Preston, who is a member of the 256th Engineering Company, 49th Infantry Brigade, in Petaluma, was arrested at his home by San Anselmo police yesterday at 4:50 p.m. on a military warrant.

Police said Preston was arrested Jan. 12 on the same charge but released.

Launderette Destroyed In $36,000 Fire

Fire early today caused $36,000 damage to a six-month-old commercial building at 1903 Bridgeway, Sausalito.

Major damage, estimated at $25,000, was to washing machines and dryers in a launderette, the middle one of the three stores in the building. Structural damage to the launderette was estimated at $5,000.

Smoke damage to the adjacent 7-11 Food Store and Orchid Cleaners was estimated at $3,000 each.

Cause of the fire, which started in the rear of the launderette, was under investigation today. The launderette is open around the clock.

The fire was reported by Larry M. Bates, off-duty sailor from the Oklahoma at Hunter's Point. Bates was waiting for a bus near the building shortly after midnight when he saw flames in the rear of the unoccupied launderette.

Bates entered to try to fight the fire, but flames flashed toward the front of the store and drove him back outside, he told firemen. He ran to a nearby house and called the fire department.

Operator of the launderette and cleaners is Phillip Landa. Owner of the building is Dr. Gerald Needleman of San Francisco.

Recreation Study

Directors of Gallinas Village Community Services District tomorrow will discuss a summer recreation program, with advice from County Parks and Recreation Dir. Pierre W. Joske and Marinwood Community Services Recreation Dir. William Gordon. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at John MacPhail School.

Teen-Ager Says 'Kidnaper' Forced Sacramento Drive

A 16-year-old San Rafael youth telephoned his father from Sacramento last night and said he had been kidnaped by three men, one armed, who demanded $50,000 for his return.

The youth, David Hebel of 104 Golden Hinde Boulevard, was safe at home today, and police believed the report was a hoax.

San Rafael police gave this story:

At 7:30 p.m. yesterday, David, a student at Terra Linda High School, left home for the public library in the family's 1965 four-door sedan.

Two hours later, he telephoned collect from Sacramento and told his father, Raymond J., that he was forced to the side of the road at Nova Albion Way and Northgate Drive by a black pickup truck. One of the truck occupants, brandishing a gun, jumped into David's car and told him to follow the truck to Sacramento, he related.

David told his father he was being kidnaped because David's brother, Michael, is a San Francisco policeman and had done something to annoy the kidnapers. His captors wanted $50,000 before they would release him, David said. The youth then hung up, saying he would call back.

Hebel notified San Rafael police, who sent out a teletype description of the youth and car. Shortly, Sacramento police called San Rafael authorities, saying they had David in custody and that he had given conflicting stories of his alleged capture. It was unknown how the youth wound up in Sacramento police headquarters.

David was released by Sacramento authorities to his father, who consented to take his son to San Rafael police headquarters today for further questioning by juvenile officers.

Youth Booked On Assault, Battery

A 14-year-old Marin City boy was booked at Juvenile Hall on a charge of assault and battery against a 14-year-old Neil Cummins School pupil at the school yesterday at 12:55 p.m., according to Corte Madera police.

The victim of the beating, Charles P. Rooney of Tiburon, was not severely injured. Police noted that he weighs about 40 pounds less than the alleged assailant, a student at Tamalpais High School.

Fleeing Youth Certified To Juvenile Court

An 18-year-old youth who early yesterday led Marin County police officers on a 100 mile-an-hour auto chase yesterday was certified to juvenile court by Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court.

The youth, Danny Lee Zimmerman of the Haight-Ashbury District in San Francisco, is charged with auto theft.

He was captured on Golden Gate Bridge by a bevy of officers after the vehicle was stopped and he brandished a .22-caliber pistol at his pursuers, according to the report.

The car Zimmerman drove was registered to Bronte H. Reynolds of 555 Canal Street, Apt. 2, San Rafael, not to Larry T. Hamann of 555 Canal Street as police reported yesterday.

Mrs. Reynolds said "we had just paid $500 to get it out of the body shop, and two hours later it was stolen."

College Views Marin City Help

Six members of the Marin Junior College District board and acting president Irwin P. Diamond met with a group in Marin City last night to dicuss ways the college can serve Marin City.

Diamon said the board wanted to know whether other courses could be offered either at the college or in Marin City, and a course in Negro history was suggested last night.

The district failed to supply the required 48-hour public notice of the meeting.

Marinite Faces Narcotics Rap

Richard Chester Sowell, 37, of Terra Linda faces arrest by Marin authorities on a charge of obtaining narcotics by fraud when he is released from Napa State Hospital.

A bench warrant for Sowell's arrest was issued by Marin Municipal Court yesterday. He had been arrested Friday by sheriff's officers but taken to the hospital for treatment.

Sowell, who lives at 2558 Las Gallinas Avenue, is accused of writing and passing prescriptions for a narcotic at Marin County pharmacies last Oct. 25.

Art Festival Will Limit Display Panels

Mill Valley Fall Arts Association directors last night agreed to limit the 1967 festival to about 200 display panels, reported John T. Little, association president.

The 1966 festival had 240 panels, but was criticized for being too congested. "Local artists will get first shot, too," Little said.

Selection of site, director and financing for the 1967 festival were deferred to a special board meeting April 1 at 8 p.m. in Dickford Dance Center, 53 Presidio Avenue.

Waterfront To Be Viewed

Members of Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee will meet with Tiburon Parks and Recreation commissioners to discuss waterfront development at city hall at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The parks commission will also hear a report from chairman Irving Moulin on landscaping Tiburon Boulevard.

A summer youth work program, a teen-age recreation program, and the non-tidal canal proposed for drainage, will be discussed.

Sanitary Directors Fill Board Vacancy

Raymond C. Nann of Corte Madera was appointed last night to the Corte Madera Sanitary District board, to replace James M. Kennedy, who resigned when he moved from the district.

The board adjourned to May 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the district office, when bids will be opened on a sewer replacement project on Paradise Drive.

Reed Trustees Set School Bond Election

Reed School District trustees decided last night to hold a special election on June 20 on a $1,600,000 bond issue, regardless of what action Tamalpais High School District board takes on a Tiburon High School.

The Reed trustees earlier had hestitated to set an election for fear of conflict with one in the high school district.

Supt. H. Joseph Edgington gave a rough breakdown today of the bond revenue to be used as $1,250,000 for a new school to house 500 pupils on the Reedland Woods site, $70,000 for expansion of Granada School, and about $100,000 for at least six acres of the Hilarita Housing site the district hopes to acquire.

The board set a special meeting next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Del Mar School to discuss the bond issue and selection of an architect.

The Reed board hired William G. Vanasen, director of business services for the county superintendent of schools office, as assistant Superintendent for business.

Vanasen was hired on a three-year contract for a salary of $15,500, starting July 1. He said today he has resigned from the county schools office as of June 30.

The Reed School District Board also:

RESIGNATION, LEAVES — Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Mary Huddleston, Tiburon school teacher; granted a leave of absence to Mrs. Marjory Hollis, Tiburon School, for one year, and extended a leave of absence to Margaret L. Burns, former Granada teacher now teaching at a U.S. Government School in Germany.

FEDERAL PROJECTS — Approved applications for federally funded programs for televisoin, science and multi-media centers, not to exceed $20,000 in local matching funds.

CALENDAR — Adopted a school calendar providing of 179 days, three days more than this year, to run from Sept. 4 to June 18.

CLOSED SESSION — Held a closed session following the meeting "to discuss employment of teachers for next year."

At one time, the land that became Texas had its tribe of cannibals—the Karankawas who lived along the Gulf Coast.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

9:53 a.m., Terra Linda — Fumes from gasoline used as solvent to clean jeans ignited by the hot water heater at Mrs. Chester Lima's home, 156 Oleander Drive; trousers out on arrival of firemen; $5 damage.

3:15 p.m., San Rafael — Car owned by Bobo's Garage, Ignacio, destroyed by fire at Court Street and Mission Avenue; caused by carburetor backfire.

5:39 p.m., San Anselmo — Prank phone call reported house fire at 4 Fox Lane, false alarm.

TODAY:

12:09 a.m., Sausalito — Fire of undetermined origin caused $36,000 damage to launderette at 1903 Bridgeway and to adjacent 7-11 food store and Orchid Cleaners.

2:52 a.m., Sausalito — Car fire started by cigarette discarded on rear seat caused $100 damage while stopped at ridgeway and Princess Street; car owned by Joan E. Eckles, Danville.

New York's Rockefeller Center consists of 16 buildings.

Banana Peel Kick Probed

ATLANTA (UPI)—Federal Drug Administration Commissioner James L. Goddard said yesterday his agency is studying "mellow yellow," an innovation in the hallucinatory drug field produced by smoking the cooked residue of a banana peel.

Goddard, here to address the American Association of Planned Parenthood physicians, said banana peels contain seretonium which can cause mental distortions.

The commissioner also said his agency must learn why young people have accepted the use of "deadly" hallucinatory drugs such as SD.

Ammonia is an irritant gas which causes injury to the air passages of the lungs.

Partial Hilarita Land Sale Held Necessary

Marin County Housing Authority will have to sell at least part of its 15.5-acre Hilarita housing site by early 1968 to raise $70,000 for committments to Marin City Community Services and Sausalito School districts, authority chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. reported last night.

Representatives of Reed School District have agreed to consider hiring an architect to determine how much of the site would be needed for school purposes, he reported. Also, Tiburon city officials have agreed to consider joint development with the school district of a park on the site, and zoning of a portion of the site for moderate-income housing.

School officials are to study inclusion in a bond issue, perhaps this June, of an amount to purchase a portion of the site, Ehrlich said.

Commissioners endorsed Sausalito School District's proposed "education park" at Bayside School, but agreed that preschool facilities at Manzanita School should be improved, too. Commissioners previously agreed to seek up to $180,000 contribution besides funds already committed to the school district.

Commissioners rejected a request from the Sausalito School District for an advance to finance planning of the "education park." The funds are not available yet, they said.

County Housing Authority Commissioners also:

LEASED HOUSING—Adopted policies giving preference to persons who have resided in the county more than one year to apply for the proposed 300-unit leased housing program, and to limit the program to less than 10 per cent of apartments in a building or houses in a single-family neighborhood.

ARCHITECT — Set a special meeting April 19 at 7:30 p.m. at 429 Drake Avenue, Marin City, to interview six architects for the 20-unit Novato project.

APPRAISER—Hired Edward F. Jordan of Napa for $1,250 to provide a second appraisal of the 1.5-acre Novato site on Fourth Street.

DEBTS—Wrote off five delinquent tenant accounts totaling $409.

$427,000 Grant Set For Science Building

A $427,000 federal grant to College of Marin toward construction of its $3,637,000 science building was announced yesterday by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District.

The new grant by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is in addition to its original grant of $72,991.

Rafferty Joins Fund Protesters

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Max Rafferty, the state school chief, joined other educators today in complaining about cuts in federal aid to education programs.

Rafferty, in a letter to California's congressional delegation, also protested a shift of emphasis in aid programs from specific aid to general federal aid.

The matching fund method now required under the National Defense Education Act is to be replaced by full federal financing of "general" education programs, Rafferty contended.

"Local control cannot long exist without local subsidy and responsibility," he said.

Guilty Plea Made To Coin Theft

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Roy F. Watson, 26, Vallejo, one of five employees of the San Francisco Mint charged with theft of coins, pleaded guilty yesterday.

Watson admitted stealing special mint sets valued at $150. Sentencing was set for April 28.

Chance For San Rafael To Improve Old Charter

The proposed San Rafael charter revisions, to be decided by voters next Monday, would definitely improve the obsolete charter.

Some of the 13 propositions having to do with the charter have shortcomings. But the over-all effect of the revisions would be to bring San Rafael more up-to-date and in line with other general law cities in the state, especially in the mechanics of nominating and electing city officials.

One big improvement would be the proposed change in election date so that San Rafael elections will coincide with the statewide school election. Under the present charter, municipal elections fall eight days before the statewide school elections.

The most controversial proposal is Proposition B, which would give the city council the power to appoint four city officials who are now elected.

Because of the intense public interest in this measure and in the four elective posts that would be affected, it would have been wiser to list each post separately so that voters could vote on each office. As the proposition appears on the ballot, voters have a choice of making all four offices appointive, or none. Voters will not have the opportunity to reflect their desires if, for example, they wanted to make two offices appointive and leave the other two elective.

Proposition G would formally set up the Office of City Manager. The present charter does not provide for such an office, and the city councilmen created the job by ordinance.

The formal establishment of the Office of City Manager will bring no real change because the duties and authority of the office will still be left to the discretion of each city council. Depending on the authority granted the city manager, he could be an executive with strong powers over each city department or an errand boy with duties confined to sweeping up the city hall each night.

Outlining the duties of a city manager and the scope of his authority, at least in general form, would have made for a more meaningful revision.

Despite some of the flaws, the proposed revisions provide needed improvements in the old charter, which has been unchanged for 54 years. We urge a YES vote on Propositions A through M at Monday's election in San Rafael.

We Suggest Chrysanthemum Stems

With college students searching the garden and seed racks for things to smoke or chew, we are now prepared to reveal for the first time the results of our behind-the-garage research conducted at the age of 10.

This was in the middle of the Great Depression, when 10-year-olds could not afford to buy cigarettes by the carton and still see Buck Jones and Tom Mix on Saturday afternoon. We were desperate.

After much diligence and perseverance, we made our great discovery—dried chrysanthemum stems. They were thin and hollow and if one broke them off between the joints, he could dangle them from his lips, just like George Raft. They burned slowly, like punk, and better still they made you cough like real cigarettes.

We believe them to be hallucinogenic because they made us feel we were big shots.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Revenue Department Backers Not Giving Up Long Struggle

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Although it's been about 10 years since refurbishers of state government started talking about a Department of Revenue for California, wherein all tax collection functions would be consolidated, nothing has happened except talk.

Result is that the state continues to collect taxes through various agencies of government, much to the confusion of the taxpayer in some instances, and with resulting added costs to the administration of government.

HOWEVER, SPONSORS of the consolidated revenue department have not given up, and this year, another attempt will be made to establish a streamlined operation which in effect will make life easier, if not cheaper, for the taxpayer, and at the same time reduce costs of collections through the use of central offices instead of a conglomeration of many offices performing related functions.

Sen. Howard Way, R-Exeter, and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, have introduced similar bills to create the department of revenue.

Senator Way says the purpose is to establish reforms in the state's overlapping revenue collection systems in the interests of economy and efficiency, as recommended by the "Little Hoover Commission," of which he is a member.

The bills would abolish the franchise tax board and transfer its functions to the new department.

Also transferred would be the functions of the state board of equalization relative to sales and use taxes, gas and diesel fuel tax, cigarette taxes and subscription television taxes.

ADDED TO THE NEW department would be the functions of the state controller relative to inheritance and gift taxes, truck taxes, insurance taxes, oil and gas conservation and subsidence abatement assessments.

Sufficient provision for proper appeal to protect the interests of taxpayers, the two legislators declared.

No mention is made in the measure of license fee collections by the state's various special agencies, which are multitudinous. Eventually, these collections probably would wind up in a central collecting agency if the legislature sees fit this year to break down traditions, and take some concrete action toward streamlining government.

"WE'VE BEEN TALKING for years," the two legislators said, "about the need for streamlining government. It is high time we did something about it.

"The legislation will provide the safeguards needed to see that the new department does not become a super-agency with unlimited tax-collecting powers. It will eliminate the costly overlapping of several departments now dealing with collections, not only saving the taxpayers money, but also making it easier for those who pay taxes to do so, with much of the red tape and paper work eliminated."

With many years of talk in the background, it may be that this year the legislature can break down tradition and the desire to the Board of Equalization to retain its tax collecting powers, and establish the new department in line with sound business practices.

Pike Cartoon Is Distorted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

See where we have another distorted editorial cartoon by your inept Paul Miller. I'm referring to his cartoon (March 31) on Bishop Pike and his article in April Playboy about taxing organized religion's property holdings.

Perhaps if Mr. Miller had done some research or even had read the article, he might have interpreted that Bishop Pike was not advocating taking Sunday School money, but was pointing out the not publicized fact that church ownership and investments go far beyond actual church property. This includes businesses, factories, vast amounts of real estate, etc. These church investments have nothing to do with religion and are estimated to be in the billions of dollars, all tax-free because it comes under the heading of church property.

If this inequity were corrected, the rest of the taxes would be much lower. Think about that next time you pay your property taxes.

Pike, Bunny Cartoon Liked

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It takes a good political cartoon to evoke a "laughing on the outside, crying on the inside" response. Paul Miller's depiction of Bishop Pike and the Playboy Bunny hit the mark.

"Ecumenicalism" is today in the forefront of a concerted effort to establish a centralized and politically powerful super-Church. To the extent that sincere theological discussion leads to a natural unity among Christian denominations, the result can be only good. But to the extent that such "dialogue" is being pushed by liberal clergy and laymen, it can serve only to water down the fundamentals so essential to faith. Certainly Bishop Pike is one of the chief water-boys in this game. (Washington — UPI — "Pike Urges Creed Option.")

The idea that "unity," or more involvement of "the Church in the World," will offer a wider appeal to indifferent Christians, or others, is now being discredited across our land. "Half our churches could be closed Sundays, and still there's seating room," says the director of the Massachusetts Council of Churches. Dynamism, growth and progress stem more from differences than from planned moves toward centralism.

Now the most tragic result of a preoccupation with ecumenism and with affairs having political overtones, is that people will stay home rather than go to church to hear that with which they do not agree. Of course it is difficult to say "baloney" to a man of the cloth (as Morrie Ryskind put it on June 10, 1965). But until large numbers of ex-parishioners return to the pews, study what is really going on, and make their feelings known, our churches will continue to exert but limited moral influence in our communities. Surely there has never been a time of greater need for such leadership.

Student Defends Boys' Punishment

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am 14 years old and a freshman at Novato High School.

In a past issue of the Independent-Journal, Wednesday, March 29, there was an article about an argument against William B. Van Winkle, principal of Lucas Valley School. Mr. Van Winkle punished a group of boys for vandalizing school property. The boys were suspended and then cleaned the writing off with a scouring pad, which seems to me to be a pretty fair punishment seeing as how the boys themselves did the damage.

One of the boys' parents complained about the scouring because their little boy was having "cruel and inhuman punishment" brought to him. If the boys don't have the responsibility and common sense not to do something like this, their parents, if complaining, are not teaching them responsibility.

In my opinion Mr. Van Winkle did justice in the punishment. They got what they deserved and nothing less.

It is the principal's job to teach the kids responsibility at school. It appears to me this is what Mr. Van Winkle was doing. The kids won't realize it now, but after they think about it for awhile, they will respect their principals and others in trying to teach them the difference between right and wrong.

'Unimportant' Situations

Editor, Independent-Journal:

"Live and let live" seems to be the general attitude of too many people here in Marvelous Marin. The results of this philosophy may be illustrated by reading the letters to the editor any day of the week. Here are four more "unimportant" situations which have come to my attention during the past two weeks:

1. The supermarket with which I have traded for two years is selling frozen meat as fresh. The frozen meat is put out at closing time so that it will be "fresh" by morning.

2. The drugstore with which I have traded for two years charges up to 50 per cent more for prescriptions than other stores of similar size in the area (which also give trading stamps).

3. There is a case of head lice in my child's class. The parents did not report the disease to the school nor did they keep the child home while being treated. During the time that the disease was known to the parents only, my child was invited to stay overnight with the infected child. Both children slept in the same bed. In the classroom, other children (including my own) have been allowed to share this child's blanket during nap time. Fortunately, it has not yet been necessary for us to go the expense of having medical attention for our child in this matter. The school nurse examined the entire class when the situation was brought to the principal's attention by another parent.

4. And then there is that irate father who, along wtih other similarly involved parents, is trying to get the principal of the Lucas Valley School fired because the principal has properly punished the 11-year-old child for vandalizing the school.

Watch it, Squares!!! The hippies may overcome us in spite of our valiant efforts toward creating an immoral society!

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

TWO FEMININE adornments to a fashionable night club show in Las Vegas were chatting about a mutual acquaintance. "You should have seen her antics when I met her on the Strip yesterday," chuckled one. "She was terrified that I wouldn't notice her new engagment ring." "Did you?" asked the other. "DID I," replied the first. "I not only noticed it. I RECOGNIZED it!"

NOTE TO serious students of football strategy: Tommy Prothro, coach of the UCLA eleven, and staunch advocate of not always waiting until fourth down to punt, asserts that on 127 occasions in the 1966 season his opponents found themselves with eight yards or more to go on third down and failed to make it on all but 17 occasions. The advantage, on the other hand, for teams that occasionally quick-kick, points out Prothro, is that "they gain an average of six yards per play more, since the opponent doesn't dare rush too hard."

QUICKIES:

One of those new far-out artists gave the most authentic one-man show of the season last month. Only one man showed up.

Hen-pecked husband to his secretary: "Well, I got my wife the electric typewriter she's been craving. Now, if I could only find her a chair to match . . ."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

One Man, One Vote Rule Valuable Conservative Plan

WASHINGTON — It is far from certain that any last-minute moves can block the unwise and reckless plan to call a constitutional convention to put over the Dirksen amendment, twice defeated in the Senate.

Already 32 states (only two more are needed) have petitioned Congress to bring such a constitution-revising convention into being.

Its stated purpose is to cut in half the 1962 Supreme Court ruling that state legislatures must be apportioned on the basis of population; that is, on the basis of one-voter one-vote.

THE AMENDMENT now being advanced would require that only one house in each state legislature be apportioned on the basis of population and that the other house could ignore population balance.

Beyond the dubious purpose of trying to restore minority rule in the state legislatures, the attempt to do this by compelling Congress to summon a constitutional convention is unwise and reckless because, once in being, no limitation can be placed on what such a convention could propose.

This is why none has ever been called since the constitution was written in 1787. Literally dozens of far-out amendment proposals have been floating around for years.

THE MOMENTUM FOR such a convention is strong. If two more states do not pass the necessary resolution this year, they can do it next year — or the next.

Sens. William Proxmire of Wisconsin and Joseph Tydings of Maryland, leading opponents of the Dirksen amendment, suggest that 26 of the 32 petitions are invalid because the legislatures which passed them had not been properly apportioned.

This seems to be a very thin reed. If the courts rule in support of the contention, it would mean that every piece of legislation enacted by these 26 states while improperly apportioned would be invalid.

The need is to focus public opinion on the validity and value of the one-voter, one-vote principle to see if it isn't wiser to retain it than to dilute it. States which wanted to dilute it before reapportionment may decide to withdraw their support. And before an amendment growing out of a convention is adopted, all 50 states will have the opportunity to examine its merits.

LET'S NOT FORGET why the Supreme Court one-man, one-vote decision was necessary. Take two examples. In Vermont, the legislature was so malapportioned that 12 per cent of the state's voters could elect a majority of the house. In Nevada 8 per cent of the voters could do the same. In the great majority of the other states a minority of the voters could elect a majority of one or both houses.

What is a better principle than one-man, one-vote? Is one man exercising the equivalent of twenty votes a better principle? When the rural population was large and rightly dominant, did anyone suggest that the minority of city voters should be allowed extra votes?

DURING THE PAST five years 92 legislative branches of 49 states have been reapportioned to assure all citizens an equal vote.

I submit that one-man, one-vote is valuable conservative doctrine because only as state government is made responsive to the voters is there any prospect of arresting the flow of political power to Washington.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

LBJ Wants Census Of Elderly, Teens

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Johnson Administration wants a census of the nation's senior citizens and teen-agers.

If Congress provides the necessary funds, the registration and interviewing of all persons over 60 and youths between 16 and 18 will get underway before the end of this year.

Chief purpose of this unique count is to determine the number and location of the impoverished in these age groups and what is required to enable them to better themselves.

UNDER PLANS NOW being worked out at the White House, this census will be supervised by the Office of Economic Opportunity, which administers the anti-poverty program. Also participating will be the Census Bureau and private organizations.

As a pilot project, the National Council on Aging has been given a $1.25 million grant to conduct such surveys in several large city slums and depressed rural areas.

In addition to making a count of the aged and youthful poor, the council will also train older persons to act as census takers in the proposed nationwide census.

KNOWN AS PROJECT FIND, this program was formulated by Jack Ossofsky, assistant to OEO director Sargent Shriver, as a means of reaching the "most invisible of the invisible poor" — the elderly who have withdrawn from community contact.

In proposing the census to the White House, OEO stressed that there are "countless thousands in this lost region" among an estimated 5.3 million older Americans with incomes under the "poverty level" — $3,000.

It is OEO's contention that most of these people have never heard of the anti-poverty or medicare programs, and do not know about various welfare services that are available to them. Also, that the only way to find these persons is by a national census.

Under the plan to be tested in the pilot project, the census takers not only will gather information but assist the elderly in finding employment and in other ways.

The census of teen-agers will involve the registration and intelligence testing of youths between 16 and 18.

Because of the politically explosive nature of this project, the administration plans to seek congressional approval. This will be done as a provision of the new Selective Service legislation.

THE CENSUS PROPOSAL will be outlined in detail when administration officials testify before the House Armed Forces Committee on extending the draft which expires on June 30.

As outlined in an OEO policy paper, the purpose of the teen-ager census is:

"For the immediate identification of the total manpower pool available for selective service."

"To find the young men and women who are in need of some form of help to prepare them to leave behind their heritage of deprivation and poverty."

After the needy are located, the OEO paper points out, they will be offered training to prepare them for military service and private employment.

WHILE NO ESTIMATE of the cost of the census has yet been determined, OEO officials anticipate it will run between $50 and $75 million.

One proposal now under study would include the financing in a giant $450 million work program the administration is drafting for the poor.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By M. ELIZABETH JOHNSTON

Bay View Still Thrilling On A Bright, Sunny Day

Although I'm pretty much of a landlubber in this area where many people spend much time working or sailing on boats, I have always been thrilled by boat trips by the ocean itself and even by the bay.

When I used to visit the Bay Area from my native Sacramento — surrounded by only two rivers — I found the bay exciting. After living in this area for several years, I'm still not blase about the bay.

SITTING AT MY favorite waterfront lunch spot (the "Bring-your-own-lunch" parking area, I am still awed by the approach of big freighters, their bows cutting furrows of foam in Racoon Strait as they steam through in all their dignity.

The channel that leads to Richmond brings ships close to the Tiburon shore. Sometimes you can hear the ship's radio advising passengers the cocktail lounge is open, or lunch is being served, or what time the ship will dock.

April, which came in here like a shark, sees more sailboats out on the bay these days, too.

TIBURON'S CITY manager, Larry Rose, has agreed to compromise on the name of the color of the Tiburon police car and the public works truck. Instead of calling the official city color "gold," as the paint company does, he has decided to refer to it as "bronze," to accommodate its golden-brown tone.

Recently, I've had a close look at some of the cooperation that builds teamwork between policemen. Last week, a woman called the Tiburon sheriff's sub-station and police department (the deputies have to say all that when they answer the phone!) to report a man with a rifle on the boardwalk.

She really should have called the Belvedere Police Department, as she was in an office on the Belvedere half of the Board walk, but Lt. Barnes in Tiburon didn't stop to argue the point. He jumped in the bronze and white police car and headed for the Boardwalk pronto. Belvedere police weren't about to quibble, either.

ALSO, LAST WEEK, a Tiburon deputy assisted Belvedere firemen and police in trying to revive a man who collapsed on the beach in Belvedere while clam-digging.

Hardly a day goes by without log references to the instant mutual aid one police department gives to the other.

Spring has also brought construction workers into Tiburon. At the intersection of Main Street, Tiburon Boulevard and Paradise Drive, a crew from Ghilotti Bros., Inc. of San Rafael, is working to redesign the intersection.

At first, motorists were having difficulty trying winding their way through the men and materials along the silands and dividers, but all seems to be going smoothly now. I watched a Greyhound bus today making several attempts to swing around the corner.

When the work is finished, there will be no doubt as to where cars belong on the road whether turning left or right at the intersection, according to city engineer Ray W. Foreaker. The area will also be landscaped.

TWO MEN WHO were in the original crew that constructed the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office 10 years ago were the entire demolition crew last week to take down part of the building.

The roof and a wall at the end of the building came down prior to renovation of that section to join it with the new building next door, where the library and the temporary post office are functioning.

ART BUCHWALD

Good Bet LBJ Will Stop Anymore Headline Stealing

WASHINGTON — The administration is still mad at the press coverage given to President Johnson's much publicized trip to Guam, and well they might be. A great deal of the news coming out of the conference had to do with South Vietnam Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's statements, rather that with what President Johnson had to say, and since Premier Ky hadn't even been invited until the last minute, it was only natural that the Johnson people would be upset.

The rumor is that President Johnson has no intention of allowing Premier Ky to upstage him again. We can just imagine what will happen the next time the President decides to go anywhere.

"MR. PRESIDENT, it's Marshal Ky on the phone."

"Doggonit, he's probably found out about my trip to Punta del Este in Uruguay next month. Hello, Marshal, how are you?. . .Yes, Ah got home fine. . .Yes, it was a wonderful trip. It was good seeing you at Guam. . .Ah was glad you could make it. . .No, Ah didn't mind you talking to the press at all. . .Yes, they ran your picture in all the papers. . .Ah'll send you the clips. . .What can Ah do for you, Marshal? . . . You heard about my trip to Punta del Este and you were wondering if you could come along? . . . Well, Ah don't know, Marshal . . . My meeting down there isn't going to have much to do with Vietnam . . . What's that you say! It doesn't matter?

"YOU'D LIKE TO come anyway?. . .Gosh, Marshal, Ah sure would like to have you come, because you add so much to a conference, but Ah'm meeting with the leaders of all the South American countries and they might not understand you showing up there. . .You won't say anything? You'll just observe?. . .That's what you said before you came to Guam.

"No, Ah'm not mad about your coming to Guam. Ah don't care what the papers wrote . . . Heck, it wouldn't have been the same without you . . . Of course Ah want to see you soon. Ah was just telling Dean Rusk yesterday, 'Ah wonder when we'll see our little friend and partner again.' But Ah feel, as he does, that we should hold off on another meeting for a while, just so that everyone can digest this one.

"YOU SAY YOU still want to come to Punta del Este? . . . You'd like to raise the question again about our bombing Hanoi?. . .Ah really don't think that's the place to raise it, Marshal. . .You see, we have problems in South America that have nothing to do with Vietnam . . . Now Marshal, don't feel that way. . .Ah assure you that you won't lose face with your people if you're not invited to Punta del Este . . . General Westmoreland and the ambassador aren't going either. . .It's just going to be me, Dean Rusk and Sol Linowitz. . .We have no intention of selling you out in Uruguay. Believe me, Ah wouldn't lie to you. . .What's that? You want to know if the Viet Cong have been invited? Of course not. And Ho Chi Minh hasn't been asked either.

"NATURALLY WE consider you a full partner and ally, but that's got nothing to do with your being invited to an Alliance for Progress conference in South America . . . Ah understand that, Marshal. We're aware that you're just a little country and we're a big country, but you shouldn't feel that we're going to sell you out just because you are not invited to every conference the United States attends . . . What's that? Ah didn't tell you about the Punta del Este conference at Guam because it hand't occurred to me you'd be interested in it. . .How can you say Ah was holding out on you?. . .Ah tell you what. As soon as Ah get back from Uruguay Ah'll call you and let you know what happened. Fine, fine. The same to you Marshal. And give my best to your pacification program."

The President hangs up. "Whew, that was close. Oh, Marvin, tell the CIA if Premier Ky starts making any inquiries about flights to South America, Ah want to be the first to know about it."

Novato School Board Hopefuls Nearly Agree

Few differences developed last night among seven candidates for Novato Unified School District Board who appeared at a candidates' forum at Rancho School, sponsored by the North Marin Council of Parents-Teacher Associations.

The eighth candidate, incumbent Daniel H. Barber, did not attend but sent a statement of his qualifications and platform.

Asile from general agreement on dedication to improving the schools, there were these stands by candidates:

Ellis D. Benge, a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. account examiner, advocated nondenominational prayers in schoolrooms. He said he favors a bill now before Congress to legalize these.

J. Wallis Maddocks, a petroleum industry construction engineer, declared against team teaching in large rooms. The cycle has run from one-classroom country schools through the single grade classrooms and back to one classroom for team teaching he said. He declared he does not agree with this and does not think Novato residents agree with it.

Avajean Anderson, a working housewife, asked whether sex education and family life should be taught in the schools, said she believes the schools should teach fundamentals of education and "the home is where some things should be taught."

Carolyn Crabtree, another housewife, said she was glad the board has decided to take up a program "against the things it knows are wrong"—apparently referring to decision to institute more teaching of the evils of drugs and marijuana.

A question period brought these responses, among others:

In reply to a question by City Councilman William Jack Adams as to whether the Novato school district is "over-administered," incumbent Jean Ashley said that when Novato and San Jose districts were merged, all contracts of both had to be honored. But, she said, the Novato district "is not out of line with state averages for administrative costs."

Asked by Joyce Rhodes, an Olive School third grade teacher, whether class loads could not be cut in half, incumbent Lenora M. Dougherty replied that Novato's schools have been financed with state aid, and the state allows a ratio of one classroom for every 33 pupils.

Ronald Phillips of 2577 Center Road asked Mrs. Ansley whether the superintendent works for the trustees or is directing the trustees. Mrs. Ansley said, "The trustees set the policy and that is carried out by the administration."

At beginning of the program, the candidates were given five minutes each to state their qualifications and platforms. They said:

MRS. ANDERSON — Mother of three children in the schools, she has been 10 years in corporation and personnel work, has served on the Novato Chamber of Commerce education committee and attended board meetings. "An informed public help schools operate at peak efficiency," she said.

MRS. ANSLEY (incumbent)—She was appointed to the San Jose Elementary School District board eight years ago and has served continuously since. She viewed with pride what has happened since the unification of the two districts. She likes the new developments in curriulum.

BARBER (incumbent)—In a letter read by Col. (Ret.) Leonard E. McCormick moderator—As the combined district continues to grow, construction planning must proceed. Curriculum studies must continue. He said he rates the Novato district among the more efficient and economical in the state.

BENGE—He said his sound business management should be brought to the board, which has a $5,500,000 construction program under way. He also wants the schools to work more closely with other municipal governments, such as having parks on the school playgrounds.

IRVING D. CHAPMAN Jr.—He pointed to his serving on the board and as president of the Novato Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club. He is satisfied the school board is doing a good job, but believes his business experience in the family shoe store should be helpful to it.

MRS. CRABTREE—People in Novato have come from elsewhere and their children will go elsewhere, so the schools in Novato influence people all over, she said. As to the board, she said, people "have done things that ought not to have been done and not done things which should have been done." She was glad that the board was taking up a program "against the things it knows are wrong."

MRS. DOUGHERTY (incumbent) — After serving on the board for eight years, she believes Novato schools "have come a long way and still are going a long way." The district must have a good administration and the board listen to its recommendations. She stressed necessity of vocational classes in high school for those not going on to college. Vocational programs are the most expensive, but are necessary, she said.

MADOCKS — Wants to bring his 20 years experience as a construction engineer to the school district for school construction. He said that the coordination of the board, administrators and teachers could be worked out to a better degree. He felt that the teachers should tell the board what kind of classrooms they wanted and the board set those standards for the architects.

Deputy Health Chief To Job In Arizona

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Dr. Willis H. Bower, deputy director of the State Mental Hygiene Department, confirmed today he will become superintendent of the Arizona state mental hospital at Phoenix.

Bower has been deputy director in charge of research and training since September of 1965. Before that he was on the staff of UCLA. He also served two and one-half years as superintendent of the Colorado State Hospital at Pueblo.

The average American ate 92 pounds of bakery goods during 1966, reports the American Bakers Association.

Svetlana Looks To India Home

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Joseph Stalin's daughter, Svetlana, wants to settle in India, Ram Manohar Lohia, a Socialist leader in Parliament, says.

Lohia made public a letter from Svetlana in which she said: "Wherever I go and stay, my heart forever belongs to Kalakankar, to India, and I'll do my best to return back one day, and to stay there forever."

Kalakankar is where Svetlana placed the ashes of her Indian husband, Brijesh Singh, in the holy Ganges River before she defected from the Soviet Union March 7. She is now in hiding in Switzerland.

Chemical May Save Teeth From Sugar

SYDNEY, Australia (SS) — Australian scientists have discovered a food additive that promies to reduce tooth decay by sugar and other refines carbohydrates.

Preliminary results from the first trials on humans, in which 1,300 Sydney children were involved, indicate that added to even the sweetest food it can reduces dental caries by up to 30 per cent without ill effects.

In theory, the combined effects of the additive and fluoridation — which has been shown to reduce decay by better than 60 per cent — might virtually eliminate tooth decay in children.

The discovery was made jointly by Colonia Sugar Refineries, Ltd. and Melbourne University more than six years ago, but has not been announced because of the worldwide commercial potential in the additive.

The announcement was made by two Sydney scientists in charge of the human trials, John Beveridge, professor of pediatrics at the University of New South Wales, and Robert Harris, director of the NSW Institute of Dental Research.

The additive is a complex group of substances called calcium sucrose phosphates which are actually protective factors in carbohydrate foods. However, they are refined out in food precessing.

The scientists made their announcement at the Australian Dental Congress. "By finding a means to synthesize and incorporate the substances in food during manufacture, scientists are putting back what technology has taken out," wrote Michael Daley, science writer for the newspaper, The Australisn.

"The additive, which comes as a fine white powder, can be included in processed carbohydrate foods such as sugar, bread, flour, biscuits, jam, ice cream and soft drinks. It is not yet commercially available and may not be for some years. But the discovery is so full of potential for both dental health and food processors that CSR is believed to have spent more than one million dollars in reaserch so far.

"It holds exclusive world patents to the various processes for producing and incorporating the additive in foods."

Much of the initial research on the substances was done by a Bernard Lillienthal, who is now working in London.

In the case of sugar, the calcium sucrose phosphates, added during refining coat the sugar crystals. When the sugar is eaten, the additive—which is soluble — becomes detached in the mouth and penetrates to a crystalline sub-layer of the dental enamel.

Intensive Cardiac Care Lowers Death Rate From Heart Attacks

VAN DELLEN

Coronary care units provide constant supervision, especially during the critical first 48 hours after the attack. The trained medical team is geared to take immediate steps as soon as the heart stops or becomes irregular. With these units, cardiac deaths have been reduced from 40 to 10 per cent.

Approximately 7,000 Americans have heart attacks every day. When

1015 DeMartini
van dellen pickup 10 pt. lead
april 5

the attack is severe, the heart usually stops and cardiac resuscitation is needed.

CHNAGES IN heart rhythm also can be lethal. The most serious of these is ventricular fibrillation and tachycardia in which the rate is irregular and extremely rapid. The ventricles twitch, quiver, or fibrillate without filling or forcing blood into the circulation.

On the other hand, it is possible to start the heart beating properly by jolting the organ with an intense electrical shock (defibrillator). To maintain the rhythmic contractions it may be necessary to attach a pacemaker. This equipment is readily available in these units.

SINCE TIME is essential, wires glued to the patient relay changes in heart action to a computer that is visible to the attending staff. These machines constantly monitor the rhythm of the heart. Nurses are alerted by flashing lights or an audible alarm when the old ticker becomes erratic. Defibrillators plus resuscitation and medicines are used immediately.

Intensive care units have four to seven beds arranged in a semicircle around the central nurses station. All the patients can be seen and monitors on the desk provide instant visual reports on their heart action. The Miami Heart institute has two of the best equipped units that I have visited to date.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.

H. L. G. writes: What are the emotional needs of a mother-to-be?

REPLY

The pregnant woman needs to feel confident and wanted. A little extra attention from her husband is helpful. Anxieties that crop up should be discussed with the physician, who can assure her that pregnancy is a natural process during which many bodily functions are altered. The best therapy is to keep busy.

WINTER COLDS

Mrs. V. B. writes: My two sons, ages 5 and 9, are healthy and husky and eat well but they have colds all winter long. Do they need vitamins?

REPLY

Vitamins will do no harm but there is a possibility that other children in kindergarten or school pass on their germs to your youngsters. Allergy or an infection in the tonsils or sinuses may cause contir al sniffling.

GULLET POCKET

P. P. writes: What would cause a sensation of fullness in the throat after eating? It feels as though part of the meal is lodged there. The sensation disappears after four hours.

REPLY

A good possibility is esophageal diverticulum. This is a pocket in the gullet that fills with food and empties several hours later. The diagnosis is confirmed via X-ray.

HEART AND CIRCULATION

K. B. E. writes: Does poor circulation mean an impaired heart?

REPLY

Not if you refer to cold hands and feet. The flow of blood through arteries begins in the heart. Anything that reduces the flow from this point on will slow circulation without interfering with the action of the heart.

Today's Health Hint—

SYMPTOMS OF APPENDICITIS

O. McD. writes: Just what does the doctor do before he decides that a person has appendicitis and needs surgery?

REPLY

After discussing symptoms and finding the area over the appendix tender to the touch, the physician has a white blood corpuscle count made. A high count is in keeping with the diagnosis.

HIGH METABOLISM

E. E. writes: Could a plus 58 metabolism cause great weight loss?

REPLY

Absolutely. At plus 58 your fire is pretty hot and is burning up tissues faster than you can refuel.

FAT AND THIN

A. M. P. writes: Are the slim as well as the obese (of the same age) subject to poor circulation of the feet?

REPLY

This depends upon the type of circulatory disturbance you have in mind. Arteriosclerosis leads to poor circulation of the legs in older persons and since the overweight are more prone to hardening of the arteries, they are earlier candidates for impaired circulation. But the thin are not immune to poor circulation and may develop the condition from other causes.

FLYING AND HERNIA

A reader writes: Is it safe for a man with a hernia to take a trip on an airplane?

REPLY

Yes — the journey is just as safe as sitting in his living room.

DEPENDS ON CAUSE

C. V writes: Is jaundice contageous?

REPLY

Jaundice means yellowish discoloration of the tissues and as such, is not contageous. There are many causes, of which viral hepatitis is one that is contagious. It may occur in epidemic form but here the organism is transmitted via contaminated food or water rather than through personal contact.

Heavy smoking and air pollution may cause post-nasal drip.

Test Proves Theory Of Spin Waves

NEW YORK (SS) — "Spin waves" have been detected in potassium and sodium for the first time, thereby confirming a theory suggested 10 years ago by a Russian scientist.

The Russian Lev Landau, believed the phenomenon was not restricted to magnetic materials, but up to now there was no experimental evidence that he was right.

The so-called spin waves are generated when a thin slab of metallic sodium or potassium is placed in two magnetic fields, one steady and uniform and the other varying rapidly.

According to the theory of spin waves, the applied rapidly varying magnetic field shifts the orientation of the electron spins in the vicinity of the surface of the metal sample.

The spin disturbance then propagates as a wave into the bulk of the metal via the collective motion of the electrons.

In the experimental procedure, the metal sample is placed in a steady magnetic filed between a microwave transmitter which generates the rapidly varying field, and a sensitive superheterodyne receiver.

External power leakage between the transmitter and receiver is reduced to a negligible amount, so that any power detected at the receiver has to have been transmitted through the sample.

As a consequence, at the particular frequencies to which it is responsive, the sample will transmit detectable power.

The scientists who conducted the research believe the importance of their work lies in the excellent agreement between theory and experiment. The theoretical basis for the observations is described by Drs. Philip M. Platzman and Peter A. Wolff of Bell Telephone Laboratores, Murray Hill, N.M.

The experimental verification was made by Dr. Sheldon Schultz and Gerald Dunifer of the University of California, San Diego.

Planning Prank Startles Briton

LONDON (UPI)—"Bull and Cow" is a bit of Cockney rhyming slang that means "row" — or quarrel.

So when Len Stone, who was in a row with town planners over a bungalow site in his village of Verwood, England, got a brief note that told him to come around and "sort out this bull and cow," he was mighty pleased.

The signature was that of Prime Minister Harold Wilson. Trouble was when Stone did come around to No. 10 Downing Street he learned the letter was someone's idea of a joke.

Angel Island Bid

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state office of architecture and construction has opened a low bid of $102,893 from Madsen Construction Co., Napa, for the Ayala Cove entrance development at Angel Island State Park, including construction of a redwood board and batten comfort station and checking station.

Navy Schools Ahead For Marin Trio

Three Marin Navy men have completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center in San Diego and have been assigned to further training.

Airman Apprentice Thomas N. Aguilar, son of Mrs. Marie A. Hunt of 115 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, will report to Moffett Field Naval Air Station, Sunnyvale, for training as an aviation electrician's mate.

Seaman Apprentice Bruce C. Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Clarke of 48 Lagoon Road, Belvedere, will report to the Service School Command in San Diego for radioman training.

Builder Construction Apprentice William B. Doucet, son of Mrs. Evelyn B. Doucet of 1 Southview Avenue, San Anselmo, will report to Port Hueneme for training with the 31st Naval Construction Regiment.

Venereal Disease Upswing Listed

Venereal disease is not so common as the common cold, but it may be gaining ground. Twenty cases of gonorrhea and one of syphilis were reported among communicable diseases in Marin last week — just one less than the 22 cases of streptococcus infection reported.

County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht said there was no particular cause for the upsurge of gonorrhea cases. Reports of the disease run in cycles, she said. The gonorrhea reports were scattered throughout the county — four in Sausalito and San Rafael, three in Mill Valley, two in Larkspur and Kentfield, one in San Anselmo, Fairfax and Novato, and two in unincorporated areas.

Also reported during the week were five cases of mumps, two of tuberculosis, one of infectious hepatitis, and one of measles.

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 9 p.m.—A fugitive parolee, played by Donnelly Rhodes, falls into the hands of a hermit monk, portrayed by Patrick O'Neil, in "Dead Wrong" on "The Bob Hope Theater."

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 9 p.m.—Dean Martin and Susan Hayward star in "Ada," story of a poor girl whose ambition led her to a governor's mansion on "The Wednesday Night Movie."

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 10 p.m.—Waste, duplication and extravagance in the United States space program will undergo close scrutiny in the hour-long special "NBC News Inquiry: Crossroads in Space."

Three Marinites Set For Training In Navy

Three Marin County men recently enlisted in the Navy's "Join Now, Go Later," program and will report for recruit training at San Diego after a 120-day delay.

They are Thomas E. Beecher, 19, of 32 Tamalpais Road, Fairfax; Brent R. Boughn, 19, of 21 Lower Drive, and Richard C. Robba, 20, of 12 Valley Circle, both of Mill Valley.

TV REVIEW

NBC Hoping Carson Plan Not Final

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Johnny Carson, a breezy young quipster who has carefully avoided the controversial image of his preecessor on NBC-TV's "Tonight" show, Jack Paar, is in the uncharactersitic position of being news today.

All of a sudden yesterday, in the midst of the strike by the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists against the networks, the word was spread that Carson is quitting "Tonight" because NBC-TV is using reruns of his program during the labor dispute.

NOT FINAL

Spokesmen for NBC-TV, meanwhile, spread the word that they do not regard his position as his final one—at least they hope not. In their statement, they note he is "rescinding" his contract, and they don't like to use a harsher word.

In Paar's days as host of the late-night series, personal runins with the network made page one news more than once. Finally, when the grind of five nights a week on NBC-TV resulted in Paar leaving the show, he went to a once-a-week series that brought him much more money because he put it on himself.

Although Carson's easy-going, previously non-controversial demeanor has brought "Tonight" to the peak of its success in terms of finances and affiliate station lineup—bringing in an estimated $20 million a year—he also in the past has been reported desirous of getting out of the grind.

WEEKLY SHOW

There was talk that he, like Paar, also wanted a weekly hour series of his own. In addition, he is a tremendous nightclub draw in Las Vegas—but mainly, in truth, because of the "Tonight" association. In any case, Bob Newhart's name has been brought up as a possible replacement of Carson doesn't return.

Hub's French Classes Earn Expert's Praise

Ruth Craig, a state consultant on French teaching, told the San Anselmo School District board last night that she uses the San Anselmo French program throughout the state as an example of an excellent program.

Five district teachers described the program to the board. French is required for all third through eighth grade pupils, but teachers are allowed flexibility in scheduling and organization of their French classes. The language is taught by an audio-lingual method, using tape recordings.

The board reviewd the citizens advisory committee on school finance report on district building needs, and asked Supt. Stephen L. Paroldi to meet with principals and teachers to prepare a report on their views about building needs.

James L. Husband, a candidate for the board, said he had heard that the bridge leading from Butterfield Road to Brookside School was a "potential death trap," and asked the board to take immediate action to correct the hazard

Parodi said the bridge had been in bad condition three years ago. He promised to check on it. Board members said they would also look at the bridge.

San Anselmo School District Board Also:

OPEN HOUSE — Set open house in the district for the week of April 24-28, and set dedication of Hidden Valley School for April 27 at 7:30 p.m.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Mrs. Carole Richmond, a fourth grade teacher at Isabel Cook School; Leo F. Catalano, district music teacher, and Mrs. Valerie Carlson, second grade teacher at Brookside, and extended the leave of absence of Mrs. Neva Fleckstein for another year.

NEW TEACHERS — Hired Theodore Allen, Stephanie Biesi, Gene Bradford, Laurie Lewis and Billie Near as teachers, and approved hiring two additional teachers.

CRAFTS CHARGE — Approved a $3 charge for materials in a summer school arts and crafts class.

Veteran Asian Traveler Calls For U.S. Pull-Out

The real threat to peace in Southeast Asia is not communism, it's the failure of the privileged ruling classes to give economic and social justice to their people, an authority on the area told a San Rafael audience last night.

The United States is replacing the European colonial powers to maintain the status quo, Russell Johnson of the American Friends Service Committee told an audience of 200 at the First Presbyterian Church.

The only solution for the United States in the Vietnamese conflict is complete withdrawal, said Johnson.

Johnson, who has made many trips to Southeast Asia and is personally acquainted with the area's major political figures, said military victory for the U.S. can be attained only through complete destruction of the country. With U.S. withdrawal, the South Vietnamese Constituent Assembly might be able to set up a civilian government to negotiate with the Viet Cong, he contended.

It was announced that Marinites who wish to protest the escalation of the war in Vietnam would meet on April 15 at 9 a.m. at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto, then proceed to San Francisco to take part in a proposed peace march.

Johnson's appearance was sponsored by the recently formed Marin Citizens Concerned About Vietnam. Michael Wornum of Mill Valley was chairman.

Nixon Delays Plans For '68

TOKYO (UPI) — Former Vice-President Richard M. Nixon said today he is "not quite ready" to make a decision on whether to run for the White House in 1968.

He added that, whatever he decides, he will continue to speak out on foreign policy matters.

Nixon arrived in Tokyo today for a two-day visit during his 35-nation global trip which he called "a private foreign policy fact-finding tour."

Shaw Pleads Not Guilty Of Plotting

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Attorneys for Clay L. Shaw entered a plea of innocent today at Shaw's arraignment on a charge of conspiring to murder President John F. Kennedy.

Shaw, smiling and chain smoking during the four-minute court appearance, said nothing.

The 54-year-old retired managing director of the International Trade Mart was arrested March 1 by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison. A subsequent grand jury indictment accused Shaw of conspiring in mid-September 1963 with Lee Harvey Oswald and others to kill Kennedy.

Criminal District Court Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. accepted Shaw's plea and granted the defense 30 days in which to file motions in the case. He said the state would have an additional 30 days in which to file answers to the motions.

As a technicality, Shaw's attorneys withdrew the innocent plea pending filing of the motions. They said this was merely a legal formality and the innocent plea would be reinstated when necessary.

Sunday Concert To Star Oboist

Jean Stevens, a music teacher in the San Rafael City Schools and principal oboist with the Marin Symphony Orchestra, will be soloist in a revised program for the orchestra's concert Sunday in the College of Marin gymnasium at 8 p.m.

She will be featured in Albinoni's Concerto for Oboe, Op. 7 which, together with Bach's Suite No. 3; Boticellian Tryptich by Respighi and Mozart's Symphony No. 41 will substitute for the originally announced program.

Miss Stevens has been soloist for many seasons at the Carmel Bach Festival and has played also at Music at the Vineyards under the direction of Sandor Salgo, conductor of the Marin symphony. She has been principal oboist with the San Francisco Light Opera Orchestra.

Warriors Hope To Outrun Hawks

ST. LOUIS (AP) -- The St. Louis Hawks, their backs to the wall, try to cool off the hot-shooting San Francisco Warriors in the third game of the National Basketball Association's Western Division playoff in St. Louis tonight.

Coach Bill Sharman's Warriors, who won the western division's regular season title, take a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven playoff into the game at Kiel Auditorium.

"We played awfully well the first two games," Sharman explained after arriving in St. Louis. But, he added, "we still managed only to skin by. I look for things to get tough here."

Player - coach Richie Guerin of the Hawks won't say how he plans to stop the high-scoring San Francisco team in St. Louis. Whatever the strategy, Guerin feels the key is to stop the Warriors' fast break. If St. Louis can stop the fast break, Guerin says, the Hawks can cool off San Francisco's hot shooting.

Sharman admitted that San Francisco in the first two games got many close, open shots. But as for the running game, he said, "we've been working on it all year and it was good earlier when we had a 10-game lead. Then injuries hit and for some 22 games we didn't have our team.

"Now we're back together again and the boys have been clicking real well. But I think the Hawks help this sort of attack because they like to gamble on the boards. Even Rod Thorn and Len Wilkens (back court men) like to go for the boards and that gives us a chance to break fast. . ."

Guerin, who had only eight men available for a scrimmage yesterday, hopes at least to partially cool off Rick Barry. The San Francisco sophomore has averaged 43.5 points in two playoff games against St. Louis.

In Saturday's 143-136 San Francisco victory, Barry scored 47 points. Guerin said he benched St. Louis rookie Lou Hudson because Barry was getting away from him. However, Hudson managed 24 points in 30 minutes. Joe Caldwell, who replaced Hudson, scored 18 points and managed at least to slow Barry down.

"It was a difficult decision to keep Hudson out," Guerin said, "but I explained to Lou . . . we pulled back even with San Francisco while Caldwell was in, so I didn't want to change anything."

The fourth game of the series will be played Saturday night at Kiel Auditorium. The teams return to San Francisco for a fifth game Monday night if necessary.

Live TV Coverage

Tonight's game will be televised live by KTVU, Channel 2, starting at 6:15, PST.

DETROIT'S DAVE BING NBA ROOKIE OF YEAR

NEW YORK (AP)—Dave Bing of the Detroit Pistons was a runaway choice as the National Basketball Association's Rookies of the Year, the league announced today.

Bing, fifth highest scoring rookie in the league's history, was named on 74 of the 90 ballots cast by sports writers and broadcasters. Lou Hudson of St. Louis received 13 votes and Archie Clark of Los Angeles got the other three.

Bing, a 6-foot-3 guard, scored 1,601 points for a 20-point-per-game average and was 10th highest scorer in the league.

JIM GILMARTIN

The First Marin Athlete To Earn Letter In Surgery

ON GUARD—Harry Jergensen, 19, of Mill Valley, who aspires to a career in medicine, has been elected captain of Harvard's 1967-68 fencing team, making him eligible to become the first athlete in Marin history to earn a varsity letter in surgery.

ON SECOND THOUGHT—Giant's vice-president Chub Feeney approached New York Mets rookie southpaw pitcher Jerry Kousman and asked: "Are you Jewish?"

"Why do you ask?" replied the puzzled pitcher.

"Well," explained Feeney, "you're left handed, you're a pitcher and your last name begins with K. The last person with all those credentials was Jewish and he went on to make a million dollars."

CHUB FEENEY

After several moments of deep thought, Kousman blurted: "I'm Jewish."

SASSY SMILES—Allan B. Murray, back from a vacation in Phoenix where he watched the Giants cavort, yawned: "Some of those exhibition games are about as exciting as a test pattern on Channel 9. Or a guided tour through the Marin Civic Center."

FUTURE BOOK—You haven't heard the last of the DeMaestri clan.

Joe DeMaestri Jr., whose pop spent a decade in the major leagues with the old St. Louis Browns, Chicago White Sox, Philadelphia and Kansas City Athletics and New York Yankees, shows potential basketball greatness.

Guarantee: He'll Be The Finest

Though only an eighth grader, Joe Jr. draws raves from his recreation league coach, former College of Marin All-American Walt Moreno, to wit:

"I GUARANTEE YOU, Joe will be the finest high school basketball player in Northern California by the time he's a junior. This kid is unbelievable. He reminds me of a miniature John Havlicek (Boston Celts' star). He's got all the good moves, is great on defense—and what an eye! In one of our tougher games Joe scored 24 points. Like his father, he's a natural athlete."

Joe and Moreno's son, Craig, led their team to the eighth grade championship in the recently concluded Novato Parks and Recreation League.

Quite A Field Goal Shooter

DEAD EYE—John Leland McBride, formerly of San Anselmo, won his second varsity basketball letter at Amherst College, Mass., this year and led the team in field goal percentage with .715. This dead-eye is a psychology major.

NEXT QUESTION—Don Larsen's release by the Giants brings to mind his encounter with a fan in a hotel lobby. "Pardon me, Mr. Larsen," Mr. Fan began, "I saw you pitch that perfect no-hit game in the World Series and I've always wanted to shake your hand. Tell me, would you say that was the greatest game you ever pitched."

Huh?

WANTED — Any frustrated Casey Stengels or Herman Frankses, in the Larkspur-Corte Madera, Kentfield, Greenbrae or Ross areas?

The Central Marin Babe Ruth League desperately needs some managers to guide the fortunes of the kids' teams. Pay's not too hot but the hours aren't bad. Contact league president Al Malvino, at 87 Dartmouth Drive, Larkspur.

Floyd Gets A Second Chance

NEW YORK (AP)—Cassius Clay and Floyd Patterson are set for another collision at Las Vegas, Nev., April 25 in what figures to be Patterson's last shot at the heavyweight title and the unbeaten champion's last fistic stand before his showdown with the U.S. Army.

Clay, or Muhammad Ali, signed yesterday to defend against Patterson in the desert gambling mecca, where Clay battered the former champion for 11 rounds 1½ years ago before winning by a technical knockout in the 12th.

The return meeting was shifted from Detroit to Las Vegas after negotiations broke down with the Detroit promoting group last week. A threatened lawsuit to prevent the Las Vegas bout failed to come off yesterday in Detroit but Eddie D. Smith, attorney for the E&J Sports Club, said his client still may go to court.

"END OF ROAD"

"I'm sure this is the end of the road," Clay said at the signing ceremony in a New York hotel. He urged the public to come out "to witness this living legend and see this beautiful machine in action."

The 25-year-old champion faces induction into the Army on April 28 after failing to gain exemption as a minister of the Black Muslim religious sect. He has hinted, however, that he may risk going to jail rather than report for induction.

" Ihave made up my mind," he said, "but I will only answer to the government."

Clay said he thought Patterson, only man ever to lose the heavyweight crown (to Sweden's Ingemar Johansson in 1959) and then regain it, "should have another chance for my title before the induction comes off."

KAYO STRING

Patterson ,who has reeled off a string of knockout victories since being stopped by Clay, flattened Britain's Henry Cooper in four rounds last year at London. Clay was unable to knock out Cooper in two tries.

"I am happy to be able to get another chance," said Patterson, who complained of an ailing back after his unsuccessful challenge in November, 1965. "I will do everything I can to win."

The bout will be seen throughout the United States and Canada on closed-circuit television and also will be beamed to Japan and parts of Europe via satellites.

PAUSE THAT REFRESHES — It's time out during practice for big Jack Nicklaus as he reached for a cold drink from his caddy during a warm-up at Augusta National Golf Club yesterday in preparation for the Masters Tournament tomorrow. (AP Wirephoto)

Nicklaus Favored To Win Masters Golf Tournament

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Does he or doesn't he? Even his doctor doesn't know for sure.

The question involves Masters champ Jack Nicklaus and whether he has a case of the mumps.

"I don't know," Nicklaus said as he put the finishing touches on his preparations for the Masters Tournament that starts tomorrow.

"I just don't know. My doctor doesn't know. No one knows. I was exposed to it about two weeks ago when I visited Gardner Dickinson. His kids have it.

"The incubation period isn't yet past. I may have it, but I don't think so. I don't think it's a problem."

Nicklaus, a three-time champion and the only man to score successive victories in this prestigious tournament, is favored to retain the famed green jacket that goes to the winner — if the mumps don't sideline him. Even without the health problem he's having difficulties.

"I'm not putting well, I'm not chipping well. I'm not driving well," he complained yesterday after a practice round with former amateur champion Deane Beman.

Nicklaus said he shot "about a 73" over the 6,980 yard,par 72 Augusta National Course, and Beman had a 71. Gary Player said he didn't keep score, but his caddy said he had a 68.

Arnold Palmer said he had "about a 70 or 71. I'm playing pretty well and satisfied with my game."

Nicklaus said he was still having troubles but was driving a little better.

The 210-pound strongboy from Columbus, Ohio, as expected, named Palmer as his chief threat.

"I always figure if I can beat Arnie, I can win. And Arnie figures if he can beat me, he can win," Nicklaus said.

Palmer, the only four-time champion of the event, agreed.

"I don't think there are any two people in the world who enjoy beating each other more than Jack and I do," said Palmer.

Between them ,the two have won seven of the last nine Masters, and the last five in a row.

It's a big hitters' course," explained Player, the little South African who won it in 1961. "You have to say that players like Nicklau sand Palmer have an advantage.

"Particularly Nicklaus. The course was made for him, because he's so long. He can fly over the traps that force everyone else to play short.

"And the fairways spread out as you go deep. So a fairway that is this wide (he put his hands close together) for me, is this wide (spreading the hands far apart) for Jack.

"He can play badly here and still win. He would have to be very bad not to win."

Other favorites in the field of 83 include U.S. Open champion Billy Casper, veteran Julius Boros, Doung Sanders and Gay Brewer.

Boros, two-time National Open champ, has won two tournaments already this season. Sanders, was runner-up in last week's Greenboro Open, and Brewer has played exceptionally well all spring.

In addition to Player, top foreigners include lefty Bob Charles of New Zealand, a former British Open champ; Australian Bruce Crampton; Spanish Open champ Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina; Former British Open champ Kel Nagle of Australia; George Knudson of Canada, who took individual honors in the last Canada Cup competition; Japanese Open champion Chen Ching-Po of Taiwan and Hideyo Sugimoto of Japan.

Besides Beman, to p amateurs include British Walker Cup veteran Joe Carr of Ireland, former U.S. Amatuer champ Bob Murphy, John Miller, Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael and Downing Gray.

The first twosome is scheduled to go off tomorrow at 10 a.m., EST.

JIM MURRAY NAMED TOP SPORTSWRITER

SALISBURY, N.C. — Jim Murray of the Los Angeles Times, whose syndicated column appears in the Independent-Journal, was named last night as national sportswriter of 1966 by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association.

Curt Gowdy of NBC-TV was named sports broadcaster of the year in the national poll of their colleagues.

Murray and Gowdy were honored at the association's eighth annual banquet here.

The late Ring Lardner, author and sportswriter, was inducted into the program's Hall of Fame.

Aqueduct Race Track Still Quiet

NEW YORK AP) — No horses were entered today for tomorrow's races at Aqueduct as the boycott by members of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association continued.

The New York Racing Association, which operates Aqueduct, had not decided how long the entry box would be kept open. But yesterday, when no entries were received for today's nine races, the track kept the box open until 2:30 p.m. EST.

Mrs. Berven Sweeps Tournament Honors

Mrs. Philip Berven's net card of 73-14—59 won the captain's trophy for April in Las Gallinas Women's Golf Club action yesterday at the Las Gallinas course.

Mrs. Berven also teamed up with Mesdames George Patterson and Fred Laubscher to win "blind threesome" competition with a net score of 197.

Ben Novus Ticket Holders Will Pocket $140,000

DONCASTER, England (AP) — Ben Novus won the Lincolnshire Handicap over one mile today. Aberdeen was second and Danella third.

The field for the race, on which was based the Irish Sweepstakes, was reduced to 24 earlier in the day when Christmas Review and Lucky Biscuit were scratched because of the hard turf course.

Holders of winning tickets in the Sweeps on Ben Novus collected $140,000 each.

Under only 108 pounds Ben Novus won $18,432 for owner J. N. Peatt. He was ridden by Peter Robinson.

Ben Novus, a 5-year-old son of Ben Hawke out of Novelty, was a 22-1 shot in the wagering. Aberdeen went off at 8-1 and Danella at 30-1.

Tracker, 100-6, and Shady Knight, 18-1, finished in a dead heat for fourth.

REDWOOD, TAM TRACKMEN WIN

Redwood and Tamalpais, two of the odds-on favorites to take all the marbles in the Marin County Athletic League track bag, did nothing to cause anybody to change their minds as they kicked off the league dual meet season with victories.

The Giants, deep and talented, knocked off talented but not so deep Novato, 85-42 in a dual meet yesterday at Novato, taking both relays and six individual firsts while Tamalpais inaugurated its brand new track successfully if not impressively by dusting off the league doormats, San Rafael and Marin Catholic, in a tri-meet at Tamalpais yesterday.

INDIANS ROMP

The Indians won all but one of the events for both meets, taking San Rafael 99-24 and Marin Catholic, 104-23.

High Jumper Paul Leete of San Rafael was the only thinclad to crack the Indian monopoly with his 5-6 winning jump.

Jesus Alou Batting At .448

MODESTO (AP)—Jesus Alou, fighting to play left field beside the San Francisco Giants' great Willie Mays, is in love with spring training.

He's walloping the baseball at a .448 clip with 30 hits in 67 at bats. Included are two home runs and four doubles.

Jesus is happy, but not overconfident.

"Things get difficult when the regular season opens," he said yesterday after singling in his only appearance. The Giants lost 1-0. "The pitching gets better."

The regular season opens next Tuesday in St. Louis.

SORE ARM IN '66

This is the Alou who had a sore arm last year, played little, hit seldom and asked to be traded so he could play regularly. His arm recovered over the winter and he's shifting to left, having been ousted from right by Ollie Brown, a good fielder with a great arm who's hitting .340 this spring.

Alou has found a new sound working beside Mays: "Whenever Willie can't quite reach a line drive, he screeches."

On those in-betweeners," Jesus insists, "he goes like hell and then he goes 'e-e-e-e-ech' as he stretches toward the ball. I do not think Willie knows he does it, but it really sounds funny."

LOOK TO SKIES

The National League Giants were scheduled to play their final and series-deciding game with the American League Cleveland Indians here today. But rain may cancel it.

The Indians won yesterday in a drizzle before 2196 fans.

Ron Herbel, with an 0.69 earned run average in 13 innings scattered over four games, is due to start for San Francisco.

Yesterday's blanking was the second this spring for the Giants. They got only 4 hits off Gary Bell, who went 6 innings, and relievers ,who went 1 each.

Manager Herman Franks pulled out all of his regulars except losing pitcher Bob Bolin and second baseman Hal Lanier after the second inning. Bolin scattered seven hits, but gave a run-producing double to Larry Brown behind Lee Maye's single.

Seals Open Playoffs In Seattle

SEATTLE (UPI)—The California Seals try to handle the league's leading scorer tonight when they open their best-of-seven semi-final playoff against the hot Seattle Totems.

Seattle was 23-10-2 over the second half of the season with the great Guyle Fielder leading the way. He would up on top of the league scoring for the ninth time with 91 points, including 71 assists.

The Seals hope to defense the smooth Fielder and his goal-scoring mate, Larry Lund, as the key to victory.

Charley Burns, before departing yesterday with his squad, announced that he would return Danny Belisle to left wing to join Forbes Kennedy and Wayne Maxner. Belisle has felt out of place at right wing lately.

Playing coach Burns will center between left wing Pete Panagabko and nearly-returned Ron Harris with Ed Hoekstra the pivot for Stan Gilbertson and George Swarbrick.

Hoekstra, however, is suffering from cracked ribs and may be replaced by Ray Cyr if Burns decides to hold Hoekstra out of the opener. Jack McCartan is hobbling from a pulled thigh muscle, but Burns said McCartan would play in the nets. Burns was pleased by the league announcement that Al Smith of Victoria would be back-up goalie if needed.

Meanwhile, final team statistics showed Kennedy the team's top scorers with 25 goals and 41 assists for 66 points. Burns and Maxner had 60 apiece, Swarbrick 53, and Belisle 47. Swarbrick's 31 goals made him the team leader in that department while Kennedy had 41 assists.

Stuart May Join Japanese Team

COMBINED AP & UPI

TULSA, Okla.—Colorful slugger Dick Stuart apparently will take his home-run hitting act to Japan.

Stuart, presently carried by the Los Angeles Dodgers as a non-roster player, reportedly will quit the club to join the Tokyo Flyers.

A source close to the Dodgers said yesterday the 34-year-old first baseman gave no reason for his decision, but he was known to have expressed a desire to play in the Orient following the club's post-season tour there last year.

Stuart, who once hit 66 home runs in one year in the minor leagues, was picked up by the National League champions last July after he was set free by the New York Mets. He saw only spot duty with the Dodgers, primarily as a pinch-hitter.

76ers Have Backcourt Problems

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers, despite a commanding 2-0 lead in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division playoffs against Boston, are down to a depleted, injury-riddled squad on the day of game No. 3 against the Celtics.

The 76ers reported that guard Wally Jones may not appear in tonight's game here because of a flareup of tonsilitis.

Coach Alex Hannum said doctors have the star backcourt man on heavy medication, which may prevent his appearance against the defending champion Celtics.

Philadelphia, on the brink of ending Boston's eight-year domination of the NBA, need only win two of the next five games in the best-of-7 series to win the Eastern Division championship.

Boston has won the NBA title eight years straight and nine out of the last 10.

The 76ers with Jones out, will be in trouble in the backcourt. Billy Melchionni, a rookie who gave them a boost during the regular season, has been called into the Army and guard Larry Costello tore ligaments in a knee.

Only hot shooting Hal Greer, rookie Matt Goukas and Bob Weiss, who was recalled from the Eastern Basketball League for the playoffs, remain in the depleted backcourt.

In addition, star center Wilt Chamberlain and forward Chet Walker are ailing. Chamberlain has shin splints and Walker a bruised hip bone, but both will be able to play tonight, a club spokesman said.

Redwood Girls Win Cage Tilt

Redwood High School's girls basketball squad parlayed a team-effort and 40 per cent from the free throw line to edge past their Drake counterparts 22-20, yesterday at Redwood.

Windy Thornton of Drake won high-game honors with 10 points, all from the field, while three Redwood gals, Chris Gondak, Diane Short and Stephanie McMurray each tallied five points for the victors.

Drake Swimmers Break Record

Drake High School's fleet swimmers finished seventh in the meet and busted a record along the way to pace a four-team Marin County Athletic League entry list at the Santa Rosa Relays last Saturday.

The Pirate 200-yard medley relay team of Bob Girvin, John Skaer, Paul Saques and Ben Edmonds clipped a full three seconds off the old record of 1.46.5 to finish first in 1.43.5 for the only Marin first place of the meet.

Alameda won with 30 points followed by Los Lomas with 29. Drake had 17 points, Tam finished 10th with 13 points, Terra Linda was 12th with nine, and Redwood had one point.

The Indians, in winning, did not exactly burn up the track after rainy weeks of inactivity but they had enough to win with crutches.

12-6 POLE VAULT

many laughs but won anyway, led by the relays and a near sweep of the field events marred only by double winner Larry Stewart's win in the high jump.

The Giants didn't have as MCAL record holder Jeff Hicks got off a 12-6 leap in the pole vault to pace the action there while Novato's Greg Walton edged Ron Kesecker in the featured battle of the two-milers.

San Rafael's B team ended a two-year Tamalpais Class B victory skein by knocking over the Indians, 73-52, paced by triple winner Herb Rowland.

Rain Stops Long Enough For Prep Sports Action

The weather man decided to be benevolent to Marin County Athletic League spring sports teams yesterday and gave the participants their biggest break in about three weeks. Most of them took advantage of the situation.

Three of four baseball teams came out winners, one lost, while Novato vs. Napa at Novato was the lone washout.

Redwood's Giants whipped Santa Rosa 7-0 behind the two-hit performance of Kevin Wilson, who tossed his second straight shutout and inched closer to teammate Mike Terry who in three turns on the mound (24 total innings compared to Wilson's 14) is undefeated and unscored upon.

Elsewhere around the baseball circuit, Marin Catholic used two hurlers against visiting Rohnert Park enroute to a decisive 9-3 John Swett 3-2, at San Rafael, and Drake dropped a 5-1 decision to Vallejo High, at Vallejo.

For the San Rafael team, now 3-1 on the season's practice slate, it was its first game since suffering its only defeat at the hands of Petaluma, 3-0, March 17.

Rich Schau whacked a single with three aboard in the third while Mike Donohoo, who walked to start the three-run uprising, tallied the first run following a balk, single by Larry Nelson and back-to-back walks issued to Mike Roso and winning pitcher Joe Riekena.

Two MCAL varsity swim teams splashed to lopsided victories: Tamalpais dumped Santa Rosa 57½-37½, at Tam, as Chris and Bruce Averill each copped a pair of wins, and Novato dunked visiting Piner High of Santa Rosa 74-12, even though much of its first-string did not compete. But Drake was submerged by visiting Acalanes 51-44 despite Ben Edmonds' new school record of 1:58.5 in the 200-yard free and an outstanding record-equaling time of 52.1 in the 100 free by double-winner Paul Saques.

In tennis action, Novato's netters also suffered a rainout with their Vallejo counterparts. That contest was to be made-up this evening, at Vallejo. San Rafael rescheduled its encounter with Napa until next Tuesday because of a threat of rain, while Tamalpais, now 4-0-1 on the season, downed visiting Lick-Wilmerding 4-1; Marin Catholic edged Rohnert Park 3-2, at Marin Catholic; Drake, minus the services of No. 1 man Mark Vance and No. 2 man Andy Gidding, clipped San Rafael Military Academy 3-2 at Drake.

Roger Maris Hit Two Home Runs Too Many

ST. PETERSBURG—Ballplayers as a class can make a lot of mistakes, ranging all the way from missing curfew to throwing to the wrong base. But, put them all together and you still have no idea of the blooper Roger Eugene Maris, an ex-employee of the Columbia Broadcasting System, pulled.

ALL ROGER MARIS did was break Babe Ruth's record. He would have been better off wallpapering over the Sistine Chapel ceiling, taking a hammer to Michelangelo's best statue, talking out loud during a Rachmaninoff concert, or drawing whiskers on the Mona Lisa.

It was like casting a baggy pants comic in "King Lear," or putting Jayne Mansfield in a role made famous by Sarah Bernhardt. Even before Maris broke the record, the commissioner of baseball announced he would never forgive him. The rest of baseball was more patient: they waited till the day after. He crept into the hearts of his countrymen the same way John Wilkes Booth did. People on the way to the electric chair get a better press. He would have been better off setting a trap for Santa Claus—or lighting the fireplace at quarter to 12 on Christmas Eve.

MARIS HAD the good sense not to compound his error. He not only stopped hitting home runs, but stopped hitting, period. He became a jewel of inconsistency. The year he hit 61 home runs, he only made 99 other hits, but there was one year when he didn't even get 61 hits.

ROGER WAS about as well-equipped for fame as a forest ranger. He came to the ballpark everyday as if it were a prisoner-of-war camp and it was his turn on the fingernail pull. "Hey, Maris, whose record you gonna break this year — Maury Wills'?" the fans would shout. And then double up with laughter. The booing would start before he got his cap on. The press would try to be tactful, but at least one writer began to refer to his record as "The Great Mistake of 1961." It began to rank in the public mind with other great cataclysms like the Johnstown Flood or the explosion of the Hindenburg, or the sinking of the Titanic.

BASEBALL WASN'T a game any more for Maris, it was a sentence. Five years at hard labor and no time off for good behavior. Roger became defiant.

ROGER MARIS' feat ranks as one of the stupendous athletic achievements of his generation, but the plain facts of the matter are, he would have been wiser sitting out the last half of the season. He hit two homers too many. Overlooked was the fact that he was one of the superior fielding players in the game. Coupled with his natural home run stroke, as smooth as a Sam Snead backswing, it made him a Sporting News favorite.

SUCCESS DIDN'T spoil Roger Maris, but Roger Maris spoiled success. He wasn't his own worst enemy, but he had plenty of better friends than Roger Maris. There were days when he should have avoided himself. When his relationships with himself were good, there were 60,000 people in the cheap seats to take up the slack. He was about as popular in the Bronx as ham. He had never been a high-average hitter. His bases came four at a time, and his strikes, three at a time. But he never disgraced the Yankee uniform on or off the field. Headwaiters were as safe from him as left field. No one had to hide the bottle when Roger Maris walked in a room.

THEY PAID him $75,000 a year, but there's not enough money in the world to make up for being miserable in your work. Roger Maris got so he would rather wash elephants for a living — or ride sharks. The Yankees didn't really trade him, they uncaged him. Roger got so he hated every statue in the Yankee outfield — including a couple who went out there with gloves on. On the days when Mantle was hurt — and on some when he wasn't — Roger took everything hit inside the foul line.

If anyone ever had an allergy to his profession, Maris did. He was like a surgeon who couldn't stand the sight of blood, a banker who hated arithmetic. The office, so to speak, got him down.

HE NOT only didn't want to stay on that team, he didn't want to stay in that league. Or that game, for that matter. The Yankees had so little of his affection left, they were glad enough to get a player named "Smith," if that's his real name, for him. Some say they didn't even ask the fellow's first name. They were glad enough he was male and under 40. Roger went with the Cardinals not so much because they were only 200 miles from his hometown (which, fittingly enough, is Independence) but because they were 1,000 miles from New York.

Roger Maris looked like a man who has just escaped a locked trunk as he stood around a Florida batting cage the other day. "This," he said evenly, "is the only place I would play. This is the only league." A rare expression crossed his face — a smile.

HE STEPPED in the batting cage, idly timed a fast ball, and ripped it over the rightfield fence. Fortunately, no one told him that the National League homer record is 56 and was set by Hack Wilson in 1930.

Hopefully, no one ever will.

ANYONE FOR CROQUET?

Sam Snead practices his croquet putting style on the practice green at Augusta National Golf Club in preparation for the Masters which starts tomorrow. Snead, a three times winner of the Masters, claims better accuracy with his new style. (AP Wirephoto)

Marin Skippers To Clash In New Yachting Series

Sister ships Amorita and Andale will vie for the San Francisco Cup in the first challenge of a new yacht racing series this weekend.

Amorita, owned and skippered by Henry Grandin of Ross, will represent the San Francisco Yacht Club of Belvedere, while Andale will represent St. Francis Y. C. of San Francisco. Andale is owned by Commodore William Steward III of San Rafael.

The race between the 46-foot Cal-32s will be held Saturday and Sunday on San Francisco Bay. There will be five match races in the two days. First yacht to win three races, is the winner and takes the trophy.

Grandin's crew will include Hal McCormick, Bert Damner, Jerry Rumsey, Rich Owen, Bill Ferguson, Ron Anderson and the two young Grandins, Michael and David, 14 and 13 respectively.

Terra Linda Cage Team Splits Pair

Terra Linda Recreation-Park District boys basketball team won one and lost one last week at the Twentynine Palms cage tourney at the Twentynine Palms Marine Corps Base, San Bernardino County.

Terra Linda defeated the Los Angeles Red Shield Boys Club, 27-23, then lost to host Twentynine Palms, 48-18. Terra Linda center Mike Hassfeld was team high scorer in the first game, seven points, and Eric Borcherding was tops in the second tile, six points.

Reality Beckons For Bowl Leader

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Dale Remley was scheduled to be back in Pontiac, Mich., operating a fork lift truck today—just 15 hours after he took first place in the regular singles division of the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Remley fired a 256-257-204—717 series late yesterday afternoon at the Miami Beach Convention Hall. He left Florida by jet late last night.

"I had to beg to get time off from my job," explained the 5-foot-5, 185-pounder yesterday. "I'm due to show up at a high school building project at 8 a.m. Wednesday."

Here's A Vote For Giants

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League looks like a wide open scramble again this year with the San Francisco Giants the pick in this corner to win over the favored Pittsburgh Pirates and the Atlanta Braves in another tight finish.

If there is any firm conviction about what is to be expected in October, it is the notion that the Los Angeles Dodgers will not repeat without Sandy Koufax. If Walter Alston does it again, he should be named manager of the century.

Juan Marichal figures to be Mr. Big of the pitchers, with Koufax in the television booth, and Willie Mays appears headed for a super season. The Giants just missed last year, losing to the Dodgers, but they beat out the Pirates by 1½ games and took their season series 11-7.

Granted that the addition of Maury Wills, Juan Pizarro and Dennis Ribant should improve Pittsburgh, the Pirates stil ldo not have a solid pitching staff. Atlanta closed with a rush in 1966, but their pitching also is questionable.

POWERFUL BRAVES

The Braves have the power to blast the league apart and the Pirates have the steady hitting and necessary tight defense, but pitching still is the big thing in baseball.

Back of the front three, we would toss St. Louis, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Cincinnati in a hat. Take your pick. Houston, Chicago and New York are the "other league" of the National although the Astros could get tough.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. San Francisco
2. Pittsburgh
3. Atlanta
4. St. Louis
5. Philadelphia
6. Los Angeles
7. Cincinnati
8. Houston
9. New York
10. Chicago

It will be up to Marichal, Gaylord Perry, Bobby Bolin, Lindy McDaniel and possibly Ray Sadecki to pitch the Giants to the pennant despite a weakness at shortstop. Mays and his younger outfield mates, plus Willie McCovey, Jim Ray Hart and Tom Haller must provide the bang.

If Wills can regain his old Dodger form and avoid leg injuries, he will make the Pirates' attack even more formidable. With Maury on base and men like Wille Stargell, Roberto Clemente and Donn Clendenon to drive him around, Pittsburgh should score plenty of runs.

The trick will be to keep the other club away from the plate. Much depends on the development of Tommie Sisk, Steve Blass and Woody Fryman. Pizarro, only 8-6 with the White Sox, could be the key.

Atlanta has the home run boom in Joe Torre, Hank Aaron, Mack Jones, Rico Carty and Felipe Alou. If Denis Menke and Woody Woodward firm up as a solid short-second combo, it will be easier for pitchers like Tony Cloininger, Ken Johnson, Denny Lemaster and the youngsters.

A healthy Orlando Cepeda and Roger Maris can add needed punch to the Cardinals who have strong front line pitching in Bob Gibson, Al Jackson, Ray Washburn and Larry Jaster. Much depends on the success of Mike Shannon in moving from the outfield to third base.

FORMIDABLE PHILS

Philadelphia's hopes took a body blow when Bill White reinjured himself in spring training. Gene Mauch does have a formidable pitching foursome in Jim Bunning, Chris Short, Larry Jackson and Dick Ellsworth and a budding super star at third base in Richie Allen. The club may have a little too much age.

Without Koufax the Dodgers are just another ball club. They scramble for runs and should get more with Bob Bailey added to the attack. But they no longer have that big man to act as a stopper every fourth day.

Cincinnati has potential in rookie Lee May at first. The shift of positions by Pete Rose, Deron Johnson and Tommy Helms seems to be working out. Much hangs on the ability of Milt Pappas and Sammy Ellis to bounce back strong.

Jim Wynn has recovered from the crippling injuries of last summer, a blow that knocked Houston out of the race. Eddie Mathews should help at first or third and the Sonny Jackson-Joe Morgan doubleplay combo is solid. Pitching is questionable in back of Dave Giusti, Mike Cuellar and Larry Dierker.

Will the Mets or Cubs finish last? That could be one of the most interesting battles of the year. The Mets didn't show much in Florida, but they do have three experienced pitchers in Jack Fisher, Bob Shaw and Don Cardwell. Frantic trading has failed to close infield gaps.

The Cubs have solid performers in Ron Santo and Billy Williams plus comers in Glenn Beckert and Don Kessinger. Leo Durocher will be hard up for pitching after Ken Hiltzman.

CRUCIAL PLAY

At most tables East took the ace of diamonds and continued with the jack of diamonds. Each declarer won and cashed the three top clubs. So far, so good; but the next play was crucial.

If South next led the king of hearts he went down. West took the ace of hearts and returned a diamond to set up the rest of the suit.

At this stage South could be sure of only three clubs, two diamonds, two hearts and one spade. South needed another spade trick, but whenever anybody led spades West would take the king of spades and defeat the contract with two good diamonds.

STEALS TRICK

In order to make the contract South must steal a spade trick before he tackles the hearts.

South wins the second trick with the queen of diamonds, cashes the three top clubs and then leads the queen of spades.

THE CONTRACT

If a defender is foolish enough to take the trick, South can win the diamond return and get to dummy with the jack of spades to cash the rest of the clubs. Declarer wins six clubs, two diamonds and one spade.

If nobody takes the queen of spades South is sure of two spade tricks and still has a diamond stopper. He switches to the king of hearts to force out the ace, wins the diamond return and thus takes two spades, two hearts, two diamonds and three clubs.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with notrump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♥ 10, 9 8 7
♦ A J
♣ 5 4.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two spades.

Even if partner has only two spades, this hand will take one or two tricks more at spades than at notrump. In most hands you will be safer at two spades than partner would be at one notrump.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, April 5, the 95th day of 1967 with 270 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and full stage. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

U.S. educator Booker T. Washington was born on this day in 1856.

On this day in history:

In 1614, Pocahontas, daughter of indian chief Powhatan, married English colonist John Rolfe.

In 1792, President George Washington vetoed a congressional bill for apportionment of representation, thereby setting a precedent.

In 1951, atomic spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg of New York City were sentenced to death.

In 1964, Gen. Douglas MacArthur died at the age of 84.

A thought for the day: British novelist Enoch Arnold Bennett once said: "Pessimism, once you get used to it, is just as agreeable as optimism."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Common Stocks Are Always Good

Q. "I am 52, own my own profitable business. My home is clear and I have ample insurance and $50,000 in savings. My stocks include Selected American Shares, Massachusetts Investors Trust, Commonwealth Edison, Consolidated Edison, Abbitt Laboratories, Northern Illinois Gas-Beatrice Foods, Bristol-Meyers, Burroughs Corp., General Telephone, Chicago Musical and RCA. I don't need income now since I won't retire for five years. I have inherited $10,000 and want my principal to grow. What should I buy—common shares, preferreds, bonds?" D. O.

A. You are a fortunate man and a shrewd one to have done so well financially. Common stocks alone provide future growth and you should confine new purchases to this medium, as you have done so successfully in the past.

Of the issues you now own, only Consolidated Edison seems unsatisfactory for your purpose. The stock is a good income holding but growth has slowed down. I would switch it into Skil Corp.

You now own 10 industrial issues in addition to your mutual funds. This is ample diversification. I suggest that you use the $10,000 inheritance to add 50 General Telephone, 50 Beatrice Foods and 50 Burroughs—building these holdings into round lots.

Q. "I would like your opinion of notes being offered by a restaurant concern. I understand they will be secured by a first mortgage on new stores and pay nine per cent." E. J.

A. I have no possible way of appraising, by figures, the notes to which you refer. I do know, however, that the current return on similar investment funds is around six per cent at the upper range of the scale. Any investment which pays nine per cent is offering a yield so far above the market that the safety of principal and interest becomes automatically suspect. Furthermore, the type of note to which you refer may be so unmarketable that even if it were secure you could be locked into this investment until maturity. I advise you to lower your sights.

Power Firm's Dividend Up

RENO (AP) — Sierra Pacific Power Co. declared a quarterly cash dividend yesterday of 16 cents a share on all common stock.

It marked the second quarter at 16 cents—after an increase in January from 15 cents.

The dividend will go to more than 12,000 owners of almost 4 million shares of stock, including 4,000 owners in Nevada and 3,500 in California. It is payable May 1 to stockholders of record April 20.

UAL Sets Record

NEW YORK — United Air Lines set a new company record for March when it carried 1,964,210 revenue passengers, an increase of 21 per cent over the same period last year, according to J. Myer, vice president of sales and services.

Wall Street Up After Busy Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today in fairly active trading.

The industrial average went ahead early in the day and held to a moderate gain.

Gainers outnumbered losers handily and the over-all list seemed to be doing better than the popular averages.

Sperry Rand looked like a repeater as the most active stock, losing another fraction.

Steels did well but American Motors was a weak spot in its group.

Analysts said the news was not especially inspiring but that the wave of selling that began Monday seemed to have exhausted itself.

Gains of fractions to a point or better were scattered through the list and outnumbered losses by about two-to-one.

Airlines, steels, aerospace issues, electronics, nonferrous metals, d... building ma... rials advanced.

Among wider movements, Xerox gained 7 and Polaroid 4 while Scientific Data lost about 4½.

Up a point or so were Jones & Laughling, Republic Steel, Montgomery Ward, Raytheon, New York Central, American Airlines and Johns-Manville.

Gains of about a point were made by High Voltage Engineering, Avco, U.S. Smelting and American Telephone in active trading.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Changes Are Noted For 1967 Estimates

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

There is a big change in computing your estimated tax for 1967.

If you are self-employed, you must include your self-employment tax in your estimate.

Also new — your estimated tax paid must be at least 80 per cent of the total tax due (formerly 70 per cent) for under-estimating.

Wikel

One easy way to avoid penalties is to pay an estimated tax equal to at least your 1966 income tax. If you are self-employed, you must add the self-employment tax of 6.4 per cent of the first $6,600 of self-employment income subject to the tax. In most cases, this will be $6,600 x 6.4 per cent equals $422.40.

If you are subject to withholding, you should deduct your estimated withholding from this.

Be sure to be conservative in estimating your withholding tax as you must have paid in, via withholding and estimated tax, payments of at least as much as your 1966 income tax plus your 1967 self-employment tax. If you do this, the 80 per cent rule does not apply to you.

Pay this tax in four equal installments: On April 15, June 15, September 15 and next Janu... if I must file ... all?

You are required to file a Federal declaration of estimated tax for 1967 if you can reasonably expect gross income over:

1. $10,000 for a head of household or a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates;

2. $5,000 for other single individuals;

3. $5,000 for a married individual not entitled to file a joint declaration;

4. $5,000 for a marred individual entitled to file a joint declaration, and the combined income of both husband and wife can reasonably be expected to exceed $10,000; or if you can reasonably expect to receive more than $200 from sources other than wages subject to withholding; and the total tax due on the estimate is $40 or more.

In other words, if the estimated tax payments amount to less than $10 per quarter, you are not required to file an estimate.

Any tax paid on a separate declaration may be used to pay the tax due on a joint final return; likewise, any tax paid on a joint declaration may be used to pay the tax due on separate final returns.

Your estimate and one-quarter of the tax is due on April 15, 1967. Payments are due on June 15th and Sept. 15, 1967, and Jan. 16, 1968. On any of these due dates you can file an amended estimate and change the amount of tax you are paying.

International Gourmet Signs Pact For Northgate Lease

A lease has been signed for space in unit three of Northgate Shopping Center (now under construction) for International Gourmet — to feature a broad line of domestic and imported delicacies and wines, also a variety of meats and cheeses.

Owners are Michael Berges and Robert Lehto. The latter owns the Skycrest Delicatessen in Millbrae. Lease negotiations were handled by unit three project manager Chuck Fauvre of Dohemann and Co.

International Gourmet is scheduled to open in July—which will also see the opening of other projects in that section: Lucky Stores, Longs Drug Stores, Lyons Restaurant, Goodyear Tires and Batteries, Kerns and Walker Cleaners, Hunts Quality Donuts and Fred Esparza, barber. By square footage, unit three is now almost 85 per cent leased. William H. McDevitt Co. is doing the building.

BISHOP ROOFING, INC. is the new name for the former Roofing Service and Supply Co. The company's new address is 2042 Fourth Street, San Rafael (San Rafael Miracle Mile Plaza) —moved from 34 De Luca Street. The company handles all types of roofing and waterproofing of buildings and houses. Bishop has been in the business 35 years, 15 of them in Marin.

DR. GEORGE SUGARMAN'S evening course in Effective Leadership and Management at San Rafael High School has dropped its college degree requisite and is now open to high school graduates. The class can take 10 more registrants. It is still possible to enroll at tomorrow night's meeting in Room 3 of the high school, at 7 p.m.

INSURANCE. John L. Kassab of Sleepy Hollow, manager of Kassab and Associates Agency of Prudential Insurance, will head a delegation of eight to the firm's annual regional business conference in Palm Springs next week. . . . James C. Tonge Jr. of Corte Madera has earned 1967 membership in the Wall of Fame of Bankers Life Nebraska. . . . Frank A. Tallarida of San Rafael, associate of the Edward K. Wachsman Agency of State Mutual Life attended a sales training school at the company's Worcester, Mass., home office.

FORMER SAN RAFAEL RESIDENT Frank S. Kirkland has been appointed to head the Chan... ning group of mutual funds. Previously he handled institutional block sales with Salomon Brothers and Hutzler, and before that was associated with the San F... co bro... firms of J. B. Strauss and Co. and Hooker and Fay. He and his family now live in Parsippany, N.J.

Kirkland

TED A. MURRAY of the San Rafael office of Irving Lundborg and Co. will represent this firm at a two-week investment conference at the Wall Street office of Clark, Dodge and Co., New York.

AWARDS. Merle and Patricia Corwin of San Anselmo have received a plaque from the Amway Corp. for their sales of the company's household cleaning and maintenance products. They have their distributorship in the Essex Building, San Anselmo. . . . Four salesmen at Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael, have received recognition for their sales performances in 1966. Don W. Fraser took a Top Hatter award; Stanley Devico, Thomas Edwards and Tom L. Hollister received 300-600 Club awards.

Insurance Women Will Organize

A meeting to organize a Marin chapter of the Insurance Women's Association will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 in the third floor conference room of the Mank of Marin Building, San Rafael.

The meeting is sponsored by the San Francisco chapter of the association and prospective members are invited to attend.
